'JESUS TOOK BREAD AND SAID THIS IS MY BODY'

Today on Holy or Maundy Thursday, Christendom around the globe celebrates the Last Supper which Jesus Christ spent with his 11 true disciples and with Judas Iscariot who betrayed him into the hands of his enemies.

This striking alabaster reproduction of Leonardo de Vinci's famed mural painting of "The Last Supper" was given to the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo several years ago by Rev. Irvine Askine, of the seminary's Class of 1924. Askine purchased the sculpture in Rome in June 1944, while serving in Italy as a chaplain in the United States Army. The artist is unknown. Approximately two-and-a-half feet long and a foot high, the statuary is on view at the seminary.

FOURTH COSTLIEST

U.S. Viet Deaths Surpass Korea's

SAIGON (AP) — A total of 312 Americans were killed in action in Vietnam last week, an increase of 18 per cent over the week before, and the U.S. Command confirmed today that the Vietnam War is now the fourth costliest in American history.

The toll announced for last week raised to 33,641 the number of Americans killed in action in eight years and three months of fighting in Vietnam. This is 12 more than the 33,629 American combat deaths during the three-year Korean War.

In only three other wars have American battlefield deaths been higher than Vietnam—292,131 in World War II; 140,414 Union troops and 74,524 Confederates in the Civil War, and 53,513 in World War I.

U.S. headquarters also reported that 1,593 Americans were wounded in action last week, raising the total number of American wounded in the war to 210,639.

The total American casualties in Vietnam—244,280—are fast approaching those of World War I, when 53,513 Americans were killed in action and 204,002 wounded, or a total of 257,515. If the present casualty rate continues, the U.S. killed and wounded in Vietnam will surpass total American casualties in World War I by early June although the total number of dead will be considerably less than the 1918 total.

Total U.S. casualties in Vietnam long ago exceeded the Korean War total of 136,914 killed and wounded.

U.S. headquarters said allied forces killed 4,314 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops last week. South Vietnamese government losses were put at 357 troops killed and 1,390 wounded.

The 312 Americans killed in action last week was 46 more than the number the week before and the second lowest toll in the first five weeks of the Viet Cong's spring offensive.

The offensive, now in its 40th day, took the lives of 1,718 Americans in the first 35 days, an average of 49 every 24 hours. Another 8,743 U.S. troops were wounded in that period.

U.S. officers say the goal of the enemy offensive is to inflict so many American casualties that public opinion in the United States will force the Nixon administration to grant concessions at the peace negotiations in Paris.

But according to U.S. reports,

Edgington Resigns; Reed School Job Goes To Gaw

Administrative Switch After Secret Sessions

H. Joe Edgington last night resigned as superintendent of the Reed School District effective June 30 and Robert B. Gaw, district planning director for the Reedland Woods School, was named new superintendent by district trustees.

The dual resignation and appointment by trustees came following weeks of unannounced private negotiations with Gaw for the superintendent's post.

Asst. Supt. William G. Vanasen said today trustees began negotiations with Gaw in closed sessions shortly after Edgington informally notified the board a few weeks ago of his intention to seek a new job.

Vanasen said the closed sessions had been announced on the board's agendas for the purpose of discussing the hiring of new personnel.

The Independent-Journal was told by Edgington after each closed session that the discussion had been concerned only with hiring teachers for next year, and no indication was given that any district supervisorial positions were under discussion.

Trustee Thomas S. Price said today the board had decided to negotiate with Gaw without any public announcement of the vacancy because of the district's financial problems, the probability of unification within the next three years and the fact Gaw had been looking for another job.

Price said that if the proposed 50-cent tax rate increase fails on April 15, "we will have serious budget problems and will need a strong educational leader immediately."

He also said the board was concerned that, because of the likelihood of unification, the district would not be able to attract someone of "sufficient caliber" to take a job "which might end in two years."

In addition, Price said, the board had been impressed with Gaw's support in the community and was concerned he would leave the district if the appointment were delayed.

Gaw, 40, who has been with the district since 1958, was given a three-year contract at a beginning salary of $20,000 a year.

He was principal of Reed and

Shuttle Bus System Proposed For Marin

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A new Marin City-based corporation last night proposed that the Marin County Transit District contract with it to provide an extensive shuttle bus system within the county at no cost to the taxpayers. (Other transit district stories, page 18.)

The new corporation's directors, appearing before transit district directors at the Civic Center, said the $5.1 million cost of getting their system in operation by July 1 would be met through private funds, federal grants, fare revenue and the sale of stock in the corporation.

The key to the ability of the system to make a profit will be contracts to supply school transportation for school districts throughout the county, according to one of the corporation's directors, Jesse R. Hebert of Marin City. He said he had indications from several school districts that they would contract with the corporation if the system got under way.

Terminals would be in San Rafael, Corte Madera, Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Novato and Point Reyes, according to an eight-page proposal submitted to the transit board.

The Marin City terminal would house maintenance facilities, vehicle storage, offices, parking, concessions and a communications and computer system to dispatch the

Hamilton Might Lose Air Defense Office

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

The western region headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command may be moved from Hamilton Air Force Base as a result of a review of the nation's air defense system now underway, it has been learned.

No final decision has been made, however, and probably will not be until President Richard M. Nixon completes his review of the fiscal 1970 federal budget.

Col. J. Shaughnessy of NORAD's headquarters in the Pentagon told the Independent-Journal yesterday that the nation's entire Aerospace Defense Command is "under complete review as to adequacy, composition and essentiality."

He emphasized that no final decision on Hamilton had been made and the possibility that the Hamilton NORAD operation would be moved "exists only because the entire ADC is under review."

Sources high in the Hamilton command structure said privatly, however, they feel the Western Region headquarters there probably would be moved to a bigger base elsewhere in California or, possibly, into the overall NORAD headquarters under Cheyenne Mountain near Colorado Springs.

It was not clear, either at the Pentagon or at Hamilton, what effect any move by the NORAD operation would have on the status of Fourth Air Force Headquarters which also is located at the Marin County base.

The Fourth Air Force is a subordinate command of NORAD and provides men and equipment for the operational control of NORAD. It covers the states west of the Rocky Mountains.

The Western NORAD Region covers the same area and part of Canada. NORAD is a joint Canadian-U.S. operation and both the U.S. Air Force and Army are involved in it.

Antiwar Airman Battles Sentence In Federal Suit

Attorneys for Airman Michael R. Locks, 25-year-old former San Anselmo resident, have filed suit in federal court in San Francisco to suspend his sentence of one year at hard labor for violating an Air Force order against participating in uniform in anti-war demonstrations.

U.S. District Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli is to hear the case next Tuesday. Zirpoli issued an order to the Air Force last Friday to show cause why the sentence should not be suspended until Locks' case has been reviewed by the U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

The show cause order had been requested by Locks' civilian attorneys at his February court-martial, Richard J. Werthimer of San Anselmo and Albert M. Bendich of Berkeley. The American Civil Liberties Union joined in the suit as a friend of the court.

Meanwhile, Locks was moved Friday from Hamilton Air Force Base to the Air Force Rehabilitation Center at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver, following a review of his trial and conviction, by Fourth Air Force Commander Maj. Gen. Robert W. Burns who upheld the sentence.

Locks had been in confinement since he was sentenced to one year at hard labor, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, reduction to airman basic and a

Quake Devastates Iranian Villages

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Two villages in northwest Iran were devastated by an earthquake last night, according to reports reaching here today.

The reports said two persons perished and more than 200 houses collapsed at the villages of Bostanabad and Oskou, 62 miles east of Tabriz.

Big Four Powers Launch Talks For Mideast Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Big Four powers opened their talks today on how to achieve peace between Israel and the Arabs. Opinions differed on prospects for progress.

The chief U.N. delegates of the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union and France met at the residence of French Ambassador Armand Berard.

Others attending were Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik, U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost and Lord Caradon, British minister of state for foreign and Commonwealth affairs. They were accompanied by their Middle East advisers.

On tap for discussion were methods of procedure for future talks, and proposals of the Soviet Union and the United States on a Middle East peace settlement.

Many diplomats are predicting the meetings will go on for months. Although Egypt and Jordan have announced their support for the Big Four effort, Israel has denounced the talks and said it would ignore any recommendations contrary to its interests.

But some diplomats believe all four of the major powers are anxious to come up with a workable plan to break the deadlock between the Israelis and the Arabs.

The United States and Britain generally support Israel, and France and the Soviet Union usually back up the Arab states. But the optimists noted that Soviet Ambassador Antoly F. Dobrynin and U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco met six or seven times in Washington during the past two and a half weeks to prepare for the start of the formal talks.

MAMIE HEADS EAST

Abilene Returns To Quiet Life

ABILENE, Kan. (UPI)—Minutes after they laid Dwight D. Eisenhower to rest in the stony dignity of his "Place of Meditation," prairie disc jockeys were back playing Top Forty records and Abilene police were broadcasting helpful hints to motorists on how to get out of town.

Down in the railroad yards, an emotionally depleted widow sat disconsolate and almost unperceiving.

This was the brutal part of mourning for Mamie Eisenhower — when the emotional courage faded and she was left to the stark aftermath —while the rest of the world went on after having been stilled for a few moments for a man President Richard M. Nixon called an "authentic hero."

The Eisenhower burial yesterday was a model of military decorum. Only one thing went wrong — a sharp wind kept disturbing the flag on the former president's casket during funeral services on the steps of the Eisenhower Library.

It was this same flag, folded into a compact triangle before the casket was lowered into its valut, that Mamie clutched to the folds of her black fur coat as she walked tearfully and unsteadily from the tiny chapel on the strong arm of her son, John D. Eisenhower.

Then she and the family, some of the grandchildren sobbing, drove back to the funeral train which had brought them from Washington.

Local friends wanted them to come to a quiet reception in town after the services, but Mrs. Eisenhower was not up to another round of handshakes and nervous smiles from people she scarcely knew.

The train was due back in Washington about 8 a.m. (EST) tomorrow. Then Mrs. Eisenhower's first thought would be for her brother-in-law, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, who could not come to the funeral because of illness.

After seeing Milton Eisenhower either at Walter Reed Army Hospital where Ike died last Friday, or going to Milton's Baltimore home for a visit, the widow of the country's 34th president would make plans to go to Belgium, close associates said.

Her son John, the new U.S. Ambassador to Belgium, and his family plan to leave shortly for the post to which he was appointed by Nixon. Apparently Mamie Eisenhower plans to spend some time with them there before deciding on her own future.

Police said about 100,000 people came into Abilene, a town of 8,000 population, for the Eisenhower burial procession through the business district, from rail freight yards to the quietly majestic Eisenhower Center where the former commander-in-chief was buried.

90-Day Policy

The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission is scheduled to go out of existence, under current law, 90 days after the final adjournment of the 1969 Legislature, not in 60 days as reported incorrectly yesterday in the Independent-Journal report of the Novato City Council meeting. Bills are before the Legislature to extend the life of the commission.

Hope Fading

BARROTERAN, Mexico (AP) — Rescue workers continued digging for the bodies of about 120 coal miners today with little hope that any of the men trapped in a methane gas explosion Monday would be found alive.

The count of known dead rose to 33 yesterday with the discovery of four more bodies near the mouth of the Altos Hornos Mine Co.'s Shaft No. 2. One of those killed was a rescue worker overcome by gas.

Paper Says U.S. Plans Viet Cuts

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press reported today the Nixon administration is prepared to withdraw some U.S. troops from Vietnam unilaterally if the Paris peace talks fail.

The paper said top officials do not consider it out of the question that as many as 50,000 U.S. troops could be returned home by the end of the year.

No timetable, however, has been drawn up.

OUTLINES PLAN

An unnamed high administration official outlined the essentials of the plan which would turn the war over to the South Vietnamese government in Saigon as soon as possible, the Free Press' Washington staff said.

The plan, however, does not call for a complete U.S. pullout, but for a decline in the total number of allied troops now in Vietnam.

"The idea is not that the war would end—but rather that the allies would dig in for a long haul," the Free Press said.

No troop reduction would be forthcoming while the current Communist offensive is under way, it said.

The story said the United States is ready to add "a couple of sweeteners" in hopes of breaking the current deadlock in the Paris peace talks between the allies and the Communists.

"The administration hopes that a plan for mutual troop withdrawal can be reached. But if no program can be worked out, the United States is prepared to embark on its own plan to lower United States involvement in the war," the article said.

540,000 TROOPS

Although officials decline to say so, the Free Press said the plan implies strongly that the United States has more troops in Vietnam now than would be necessary to conduct an aggressive holding action over a long period of time.

It said there would be no demand that South Vietnamese troops replace U.S. troops man-for-man.

There are about 540,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam, about a third of the total allied forces.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

New Ghana Boss

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Brig. Gen. Akwasi Afrifa is the new chief of Ghana's ruling military junta following the resignation of Lt. Gen. Joseph Ankrah in an influence scandal.

The National Liberation-Council voted unanimously yesterday for Afrifa, at 33 its youngest member. It also said it would hold to its promise to restore civilian rule by Sept. 3.

Ankrah resigned after an investigation showed $30,000 had been collected from foreign firms for "research" to see whether he could be elected president in the fall elections, a government statement said.

Fighting Over

BEIRA, Mozambique (AP) — A four-year guerrilla campaign against Portuguese rule over this big southeast African territory was reported ended today.

The Mozambique government is expected to issue a communique saying rebel leaded Lazara Kavandame and 60,000 guerrillas and refugees from the northern part of the country have surrendered.

Reports from northern Mozambique said Kavandame, who started a revolt against Portugal in 1964, already is touring rural areas urging the population to cooperate with the government.

Names Council

KARACHI (AP) — President M. A. Yahya Khan today appointed a four-man military council of administration to run Pakistan.

Political observers had expected the 51-year-old military president to form a new civilian government. But instead he chose three deputy chief administrations of martial law and named himself chairman of the council.

Driver Hurt When His Car Overturns

A San Francisco man was injured yesterday at 3:40 p.m. when his car overturned on Highway 101, near Lakeville Highway, south of Petaluma.

Lawrence N. Bernstein, 21, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for cuts of the head and arms. The California Highway Patrol said his car skidded on the wet roadway, struck a guardrail and overturned.

Nixon Plans Rest, Work In Florida

Flying with him to Florida yesterday from funeral services in Kansas for Dwight D. Eisenhower were John D. Ehrlichman, White House counsel and a key figure in domestic policy planning, and Bryce N. Harlow, special assistant for congressional liaison.

However, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said there was a possibility that Nixon's assistant for national security affairs, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, might fly down from Washington at some point in the next few days.

Mrs. Nixon and daughter Tricia accompanied the chief executive to Kansas and Florida.

Mechanical Monster To Aid Foot Soldier

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — What stands 11-feet high, weighs 3,000 pounds, has four legs and walks?

The answer is Cybernetic Anthropomorphus Machine System —a tongue-twister of a name for a machine that is designed to extend man's physical abilities.

The machine, developed for the Army by General Electric, is the forerunner of equipment which G.E. says "will improve the mobility and capability of the foot soldier under the most severe conditions of terrain."

The Army paid almost $1 million for CAMS, and introduced it to the world yesterday.

CAMS can walk at five miles an hour, step over barriers 18 inches high and is expected to cross rough terrain that would stop wheeled vehicles.

The machine's legs operate by hydraulic pressure. It is guided by one man who can run it blindfolded if he had to because of a mechanical system that allows him to feel what the machine is doing.

Tank Critic Is Ordered To Shut Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman who charged the Army with a "billion-dollar boo-boo" in developing a new tank has been ordered to stop talking publicly about the matter.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., confirmed yesterday ordering Rep. Samuel Stratton, D-N.Y., to stop giving interviews or issuing news releases about the Sheridan tank.

Rivers took the action in his position as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. Stratton heads a subcommittee, under Rivers' jurisdiction, investigating the Sheridan program.

"I told him to stop saying anything unless he had something worthwhile to say," Rivers said in an interview.

"He was getting to the point where he was turning out a news release about it every day," said Rivers.

"I'm not trying to put a lid on anything," said Rivers. "I'm simply concerned about the morale of our troops in Vietnam."

It was Stratton's investigation that led to release of a previously classified document on the new Sheridan tank. Stratton called the tank a "billion dollar boo-boo," because:

It is too noisy and leaves a large exhaust trail as to be nearly useless as a reconnaisance vehicle; uses improper ammunition; has a leaky fuel tank and several other problems.

Stratton, normally willing to talk about his subcommittee work, was reluctant to discuss the matter when approached about the investigation yesterday by a newsman.

Finally, he said Rivers had asked him "to put a lid on interviews and news releases" and he had agreed.

Swiss License Antimeasles Vaccination

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Switzerland today granted the first license in the world for a vaccine said to be 97.5 per cent effective in preventing German measles, the disease blamed for crippling or killing thousands of unborn babies.

The Swiss Federal Service of Public Hygiene granted the license for a vaccine using the live "Cendehill" virus strain to Recherche et Industrie Therapeutiques, RIT, a Belgian subisidary of Smith Kline & French Laboratories of Philadelphia.

It is expected that the vaccine, grown in primary rabbit kidney cell cultures, will be available for general use in Switzerland within a month.

Prof. Abel Prinzie of Louvain University, research director at RIT, isolated and developed the vaccine along with Belgian virologist Constant A. Huygelen, director of biologics at RIT. They reported at a news conference that the vaccine proved "very effective" in clinical tests involving 60,000 children and adults in many countries, including the United States.

Switzerland was the first country to issue a license to the "Cendehill" vaccine. Applications for licensing by other countries, including the United States are pending, he said.

Prinzie said between 50 and 90 per cent of expectant mothers who contracted German measles, or rubella, during the first month of pregnancy give birth to malformed babies. In the later stages of pregnancy this percentage shrinks.

Educator Dies

SAN GABRIEL (AP) — Dr. James D. Finn, 54, nationally recognized professor of education at the University of Southern California, died yesterday of complications of pneumonia and diabetes.

U.S. Sets Guidelines For Rubella Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today proposed new standards for producing a safe German measles vaccine, a step Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch said brings medicine closer to preventing a major cause of birth defects and miscarriages.

"This means that we are one step closer to the prevention of a disease that has caused an untold number of tragic births," Finch said.

The regulations spell out step-by-step production methods and set standards of safety, purity and potency for experimental vaccines now being tested. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said one or more of the experimental drugs might meet the standards and be licensed.

The government estimates that the epidemic of 1964-1965 resulted in about 50,000 abnormal pregnancies. About 20,000 infants were born with such defects as mental retardation, heart disease, blindness and deafness. The remaining 30,000 pregnancies ended in miscarriages or stillbirths.

The regulations apply to vaccines containing a live virus strain known as HPV-77, which is grown in either duck embryo or dog kidney cell cultures. They were prepared by the division of biologics standards of the National Institutes of Health.

U.C. Scientist Questions Anticancer Efforts Data

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A California scientist challenges the statistics stating that more people now are being saved from cancer than ever before—and his views are in turn challenged.

The American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute cite figures that one out of three cancer patients are being saved now, as against one in four some 20 years ago. If existing knowledge were applied fully, half of all cancer patients could be cured, these agencies say.

The challenge came from Dr. Hardin B. Jones, professor of medical physics and physiology at the University of California at Berkeley. He is not a doctor of medicine.

Dr. Jones said his analysis found little difference over the last 50 years in results whether people were treated for cancer or not—by surgery or radiation or by a handful now of drugs and other techniques—but he added, "I am not brave enough to say people should not be treated."

He said that vigorous treatment may interfere with the body's own natural defenses so much that the patient usually doesn't live any longer or better than he might without treatment, or at least by undergoing only the simplest of treatments. Objective studies should be made about this point, Dr. Jones said.

He spoke at closing session of an American Cancer Society seminiar bringing cancer specialists together with science writers.

Special Session

The Cotati School District trustees will meet in special session today at 7:30 p.m. to interview and possibly hire teaching candidates. They will also receive a report on construction progress at the Thomas Page School.

Two Red-Held Yachts Back In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Four Americans and nine other persons returned to Hong Kong today on two yachts the Communist Chinese seized seven weeks ago.

Another yacht and two Americans captured with her were kept for further investigation," Peking announced. The Americans are Simeon Baldwin, a native of Los Angeles who heads a Hong Kong firm representing American aircraft companies, and Bessie Hope Donald, a long-time resident of Hong Kong from Bristol, Va.

The three yachts and the 15 persons aboard them were captured Feb. 17 while on a holiday cruise from Hong Kong to the Portuguese colony of Macao, 40 miles to the west.

Peking's official Hsinhua (New China) news agency announced today that the three vessels "intruded into China's territorial waters."

It said that one yacht was Swedish-owned and one British-owned, and said their owners "admitted their transgression."

The four Americans released were Carol Zinky, 10-year-old daughter of William Roy Zinky of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. Joan Hopkins von Sydow, formerly of Spokane, Wash., and her two daughters, Christine, 15, and Sarah, 12.

Others released were Mrs. von Sydow's husband, C. F. von Sydow, a Swedish businessman in Hong Kong; a 4-year-old Australian girl, two Britons, a Frenchman and four Hong Kong Chinese.

Shippers Threaten Balky Union With Court Again

The Pacific Maritime Association threatened yesterday to take the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union to court again, saying it had ignored a court order to handle cargo.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert Peckham held yesterday that the longshoremen had to handle the cargo under terms of their contract. They have refused to do so since March 17.

PMA attorney Richard Ernst prepared a complaint to be submitted to Peckham detailing specific instances at West Coast ports this week where ILWU gangs have refused to handle containerized cargo.

The union, as it has since the boycott began, refused comment on the PMA move.

The union is also under a pressure from Gov. Keith Miller of Alaska to handle what he called essential cargo tied up in Seattle.

"Vans caught by the stoppage on Seattle docks contained thousands of tons of essential supplies," the governor said in telegrams to ILWU President Harry Bridges and Oliver Olson, president of Seattle Local 19.

What the ILWU is seeking in the dispute is the right to pack and unpack containerized vans they hoist between the trucks and ships. Packing is largely done by members of the Teamsters Union.

MARK OF EXCELLENCE

No other wagons have such a capacity for enjoyment.

Show you what we mean.

Only you can't tell it's rough.

You see, the Kingswood floats along on computer-selected coil springs that smooth even the meanest road. It takes a mighty rough trail to bother you.

That's true of our other wagons, too. Take the Concours Wagon. It's our second size, but there's no compromise on room. Put down the back seat and you've got up to 94 cubic feet of cargo space.

Maybe you're a bit more serious about the great outdoors. So are we. That's why we offer the Chevy Sportvan. To a camper, this one's like clear skies and no mosquitoes. Add a camper conversion unit and take along beds, stove and the kitchen sink. But we're not done yet: there's also the Suburban, the tough go-anywhere truck that doubles as a car.

So before you head out to see the U.S.A., better stop by your Chevrolet dealer's.

His Sports-Recreation Dept. is right up your alley.

Psychiatrist, Sirhan's Attorney At Swordpoints

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The chief prosecution psychiatrist at the Sirhan B. Sirhan murder trial admitted today that when he filed his report on the young Arab's mental condition he did not believe he would ever be brought to trial.

Dr. Seymour Pollack conceded under cross-examination that he wrote in a report that the 25-year-old Sirhan was "a psychotic person with a borderline schizophrenia."

"You believed at the time you wrote that there would be no trial, didn't you?" asked defense counsel Grant B. Cooper.

"Yes, I did," Pollack said.

It had been previously revealed that the prosecution and defense had agreed on a guilty plea to first-degree murder with a penalty of life imprisonment. Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker refused to approve such a deal and ordered the trial to proceed with the jury deciding the penalty which could include death in the gas chamber.

Pollack, a professor at the University of Southern California, became flustered and red-faced as Cooper sought to demonstrate that after the trial began the doctor modified his diagnosis of Sirhan's mental illness to something less than psychotic.

Cooper noted Pollack was in disagreement with all the other psychiatric witnesses—two psychiatrists and five psychologists who had testified.

"We all agreed he was quite paranoic and we all agreed he had a mental illness," Pollack said, his voice rising.

Pollack agreed again that Sirhan was a "borderline schizophrenic who could quite easily be pushed into a full schizophrenic stage."

The shrewd attorney and the pedantic professor had confronted each other in a classic courtroom duel Wednesday.

Pollack and Cooper are friends. They have lectured jointly on the law and psychiatry. But now they were at swords points and Cooper was trying to break Pollack's simplification that Sirhan killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy "because he hated him."

Pollack had said confidently that, yes, Sirhan was mentally ill but had the mental capacity to premeditate and plan the slaying of Kennedy and was trying to escape afterwards.

Cooper brought out that seven other psychiatrists and psychologists —some paid by the state —had concluded that Sirhan was psychotic and some said he was a paranoid schizophrenic.

Pollack said he placed more weight on his own observation and findings.

WAR

the offensive is costing the enemy heavily. Last week's reported toll of 4,314 enemy killed raised North Vietnamese and Viet Cong casualties to 23,992 reported dead since the offensive began Feb. 23. According to official U.S. figures, a total of 474,372 enemy troops have been killed in the war.

The U.S. Command also announced that an American F4 Phantom fighter-bomber was shot down yesterday 38 miles southwest of Da Nang, but the two crewmen bailed out and were rescued unhurt. It was the 352nd American warplane reported shot down in combat over South Vietnam.

In the biggest ground action reported, a thousand North-namese paratroopers guarding the approaches to vital Tay Ninh City northwest of Saigon.

South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and American helicopter gunships helped the paratroopers beat off the attack. Reports from the field said at least 38 enemy troops and seven government soldiers were killed, and 66 government troops wounded.

The first attack was made by about 800 enemy soldiers who moved in under cover of a mortar barrage and about 1:30 a.m. hit a base camp manned by about 800 paratroopers. The camp was 11 miles southwest of Tay Ninh and 55 miles northwest of Saigon.

About an hour later, 200 enemy troops hit a paratrooper battalion in night bivouac nine miles southeast of Tay Ninh and 44 miles northwest of Saigon.

Officers in the field said there were no casualties among the dozen or so American advisers working with the South Vietnamese.

Edgington told the board he has accepted a position as professor of education with the University of Miami's graduate school. He will also be co-director of the university's $1 million experimental project for the development of new methods of training teachers, he said.

Edgington was named superintendent in July 1966 following a nationwide search in which more than 200 candidates were interviewed. Hired at a salary of $18,500 a year, he was given a raise last year to $20,675.

Gaw graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1951 and received his master's degree at Berkeley in 1957.

He taught in Sloan, Nev., Lake Tahoe and the University of California's laboratory school on the Berkeley campus before coming to the Reed district in 1958.

NORAD

manded by Maj. Gen. James R. Winn at Hamilton, has about 85 men at its headquarters, 10 of them Canadians.

Shaughnessy was quoted yesterday by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, in whose district Hamilton is, as saying "under no circumstances" is the Air Force considering closing Hamilton down completely.

Shaughnessy said the base was considered an "integral part" of the Air Force and of the continent's protection against enemy attack.

Clausen said he was "vitally concerned with any changes at Hamilton" because of the important effect it has on Marin County's economy.

There was no indication how long it would take to phase the Western NORAD headquarters out from Hamilton if President Nixon's budget review deemed it necessary. That review will not be completed for several months and any move presumably would take at least several months more.

Other NORAD headquarters are at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska; Richards-Gebaur AFB, Mo.; Steward AFB, N. Y., and North Bay, Ontario.

Nixon Names Four Important Envoys

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon announced today his choices for four important ambassadorships, including the dispatching of former Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York to India.

In addition to tagging Keating to replace Chester Bowles in New Delhi, Nixon will nominate career diplomat William Leonhart as ambassador to Yugoslavia, former Republican Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska as envoy to Finland, and New Hampshire businessman Robert C. Hill to replace former Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York as ambassador to Spain.

AIRMAN

He was convicted of violating an Air Force order by taking part in uniform in an anti-Vietnam war rally in San Francisco last Oct. 12 and in a television interview connected with the rally the night before.

In their suit before Zirpoli, Locks' attorneys will contend that Locks' punishment should be held up until higher military courts rule on the constitutionality of his position.

Bendich said yesterday the Uniform Code of Military Justice says that the punishment of any military man sentenced to more than one year in confinement must be suspended until the higher military appeals courts review the sentence.

Bendich said he and Werthimer will also challenge the constitutionality of the Air Force order banning participating in uniform in antiwar demonstrations but he was not sure whether Zirpoli would consider that question at the Tuesday hearing.

Locks' attorneys tried unsuccessfully during his court-martial to bring up the constitutional question but were overruled by the trial officer. They contend the order violates the First Amendment's guarantee of freedom of speech and that it is discriminatory because it allows military men supporting the war in Vietnam to voice opinions favoring but prevents opponents from voicing their opposition.

A group of antiwar Army men, using the same argument, filed suit in U.S. District Court in Columbia, S.C., Tuesday in an attempt to gain the same right to protest as civilians. Naming Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Brig. Gen. James F. Hollingsworth, commander of the sprawling Fort Jackson infantry training base there, as defendants, the soldiers claimed the Army is using "harassment and intimidation" to suppress antiwar dissent.

Army officials in Washington said the suit probably has no parallel in American military history.

Locks originally had been scheduled to go to the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Hamilton officials yesterday gave no reason why he was sent to Lowry instead.

TRANSIT

The proposal, Hebert said, would broaden the county's tax base, cut welfare expenses "in a substantial manner," and provide 150 jobs, principally in Marin City.

The annual payroll would be $750,000, the corporation estimated.

"Our operation would provide convenient access to all major transit systems in the county existing or contemplated whether they be land, sea or air," according to their proposal.

The 130 buses, which would include 65 minibuses carrying up to 21 passengers each, would be air-conditioned and comfortable, they said. The 130 buses, Hebert noted, "would only be the initial system.

"We'd provide the nucleus for the transit district to operate," he said.

"All indications are that there would be reductions" in the fares now charged by Greyhound Bus Lines if the corporation took over the service, he said.

"Research is also under way to investigate the feasibility of a computerized fare system to eliminate the inefficiency of handling money," the corporation's proposal said.

"It is your duty to aid in implementing this system expediently, and we expect your cooperation," their proposal concluded.

According to their written proposal, the four directors of the corporation, named Marin County Transit Systems Inc., are Herbert R. Wade of Mill Valley, Reginald Tolbert of Forest Knolls, Theophus (Ted) Barron Jr. of Marin City, and Hebert.

Wade, also operations director for the corporation, has operated five buses transporting Marin City students to Tamalpais High School for about 18 months.

The attorney for the corporation, George Lu of San Francisco, declined to give newsmen details of who is backing his clients. The corporation was formed Monday, he said, and the four directors are only temporary.

Backers of the corporation, he acknowledged, "are not locally based." The backers are "radically mixed," he added.

He likened the proposal to a bus system run by blacks in Watts, but said there was no connection between the Watts system and the one proposed for Marin.

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer, both transit directors, termed it "refreshing." "It makes a lot of sense," Arrigoni said.

Only Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst objected to the proposal. The district's first task is to move commuters, not intracounty traffic, he said.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar, who said he admired the corporation for making its proposal, asked its directors to prepare a financial statement and details on fares.

Hebert said he would have both ready for presentation in two weeks, and the transit board set a special meeting to hear more about the proposal at 8 p.m. on April 16 in the Civic Center.

Supervisor Michael Wornum, citing the corporation's proposal to operate in three months, noted that the transit district "thinks in centuries when we propose transit systems."

"I hope they're not expecting a decision on the 16th," Baar said.

10 UNITS PLANNED

Larkspur Authorizes Low-Income Housing

Larkspur City Council last night authorized 10 units of leased housing in various parts of the city for low-income tenants under the program operated by the Marin County Housing Authority.

Council approval came with the condition that the subsidized housing be offered only to persons who have lived in the city for at least two years.

The program has been approved by eight other cities in Marin, and Neil B. Little, program director, reported last month that 125 units have been leased throughout Marin.

Under the program, the tenant pays 22 per cent of his income toward the rent and the federal government subsidizes the portion beyond that amount.

The chief proposed a study toward relocating the station and said he was thinking of the Hutchinson Quarry area, east of Highway 101.

Regional shopping center plans call for a three-lane road in front of the station on South Eliseo Drive, about 200 feet from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the chief said. "Cars would be stacked up in front of the door."

The council directed Shurtz and City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst to study potential sites for the station and the costs involved and report back by May 7.

Councilmen also heard a report from City Atty. Robert W. Elliott that the dity might have to hire an admiralty lawyer in its claim against the Corps of Engineers for damage to the Bon Air Bridge during dredging, estimated at $95,000.

Elliott said a "friendly suit" will be filed against the Marin County Flood Control District, and the state of California and two contractors, but he hopes that the corps will recognize its responsibility.

If the federal government rejects the claim, it may have to file in Washington, D.C. It may be under maritime law because a dredge was involved, and an admiralty lawyer would have to be retained, he said.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

PARK RULES — Introduced an ordinance to close city parks at 8 p.m. during the period from May 1 to Sept. 1 and limit use of play equipment to persons aged 12 and under. Bathurst noted that the closing hour would apply mainly to Dolliver Park since Piper Park operates on a schedule. The park curbs were prompted by vandalism at Dolliver Park last summer, believed caused by hippies.

DOG CONTROL — Confirmed its willingness to adopt Marin County's proposed uniform dog control ordinance if the district attorney's office handles prosecution and the penalty for nonlicensed dogs is increased.

ARK DWELLINGS — Postponed for 90 days review of the city regulations on living on boats and arks after Bathurst said the problems can be controlled by existing regulations.

FAMILY — Adopted an ordinance defining a family for zoning purposes as a group related by blood or marriage or a group of unrelated persons not exceeding five persons; an ordinance designed to halt communal living by hippies.

UNDERGROUNDING — Introduced an ordinance requiring underground utilities in new subdivisions.

DISASTER FUNDS — Designated Bathurst as the city's representative to apply for federal disaster funds for damage to public facilities during winter storms. Public Works Director Warren Mistron estimated the damage at $30,000.

RIBEIRO OFFICE — Announced that the office of Johnny Ribeiro Inc., a contracting business, which had drawn protests from Lark Court neighbors, has been moved to Mill Valley.

FIREWORKS — Approved a display of fireworks at Piper Park during the annual Larkspur-Corte Madera Fourth of July celebration.

DRIVEWAY APPEALS — Set April 15 at 8 p.m. at city hall to hear appeals of property owners whose driveways encroach on city streets, and have been ordered to remove them.

STUDY COMMITTEE — Postponed for one month appointment of a library study committee.

PHOENIX LAKE — Received a request from the planning commission to appoint recreation and/or planning commissioners to request the Marin Municipal Water District to maintain the water level at Phoenix Lake at a low level prior to the rainy season until the Corte Madera Creek flood control project is completed. City Attorney Elliott, who is also the attorney for the water district, said: "It is not in the power of the Marin Municipal Water District to act as a flood control agency."

ABANDONMENT — Continued until May 7 a public hearing on the city's intention to abandon Rockridge Road, to give the city planning commission time for further study.

ANNEXATION — Approved having a small portion of land in the Greenbrae Marina area, in the Larkspur Sanitary District area, switched to the Ross Valley Sanitary District, which is now serving it.

CLAIMS — Denied the claims of Eleanor Aralar of 116 Ward Street, for $1,116, and Joseph and Juanita Chase of 305 Holcomb Avenue for $1,281 for damages in January, allegedly resulting from a sewer stoppage.

IN MEMORY — Adjourned in memory of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Magnolia Widening Contract Is Given

Larkspur City Council spent most of its session last night on roads, awarding two contracts and thrashing out the problem of an access road to the Meadowwood subdivision.

The council awarded Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael, lowest of five bidders, a contract for the widening of Magnolia Avenue from Daly Swim School to Bon Air Road at a cost of $130,840.

Ghilotti Bros. also was awarded a contract for widening of Oak Road at a cost of $27,612, lower of two bids.

Councilmen chose the plan recommended by City Engineer Roy Hoffman, which ties in with widening Redwood Avenue to 26 feet by filling downslope property owned by Albert A. Drennan.

Drennan has strongly opposed this option contending it will obliterate his creek "and destroy the natural environment of Redwood Avenue."

Planning consultant Norman T. Gilroy, representing Drennan, had proposed another plan, which would widen Redwood to 22 feet by using land on both sides.

Hoffman estimated that the combined jobs, Oak and Redwood, would cost $38,992 under his proposal, and $47,599 under Gilroy's plan.

Gilroy commented that court costs would shave the difference in costs. Drennan had offered to surrender a part of his land under the Gilroy plan, but it appeared that under the adopted plan the city will have to condemn to acquire the land.

Councilman Alfred Malvino commented after Gilroy's remark that the councilmen "shouldn't concern themselves with a condemnation suit. I'd have to take something like this as a threat. We should go along with what we think is best and vote it on that point."

Councilman Benton A. Sifford Jr., chosen vice mayor last night, said that replanting and landscaping in the area will improve the appearance of the area after the widening.

The council also authorized hiring Harding and Associates of San Rafael, soils engineers, at costs of up to $800 for the Oak Road job and up to $1,500 for the Magnolia Avenue widening.

After the decision, Drennan said, "I'm quite unhappy."

Councilmen aired the need for another access road to the Meadowwood subdivision, near Chanticleer Road, for more than an hour.

Holcomb Avenue has been used as an access, but councilmen last night gave notice of their intention to abandon it for access use.

Residents in the area had complained in February about the use of the road and last night attorney Bernard Etchverry of San Francisco, reporesenting one homeowner whose land was being used for right-of-way, asked for a determination that it was only a temporary arrangement.

The city planning commission had recommended that Ward Street be extended to meet Meadowwood drive and provide access to the subdivision.

Councilmen agreed that the Ward Street proposal, estimated to cost $65,000, would be beyond the city's financial ability.

Mayor Neil R. Brixon said the plan for the subdivision was to have two entrances, one through Chanticleer and another to be provided by the developer.

Two units of the subdivision have been approved, and councilmen indicated they wouldn't approve a final map of the proposed third unit until the road access problem is solved.

H. B. Reid Jr., developer of the subdivision, said that there are 13 homes in the first unit, and eight completed in the second unit.

Reid suggested that rather than cut off Holcomb access permanently, the city put a barrier there "and see what happens" to traffic at the Chanticleer entrance.

Councilmen set no date for closing off the Holcomb access, but asked that the matter be put back on the agenda in June.

Neil Brixon New Mayor Of Larkspur

For Brixon, who has served on the council since Sept. 7, 1960, it will be his third one-year term as mayor. He was elected mayor in 1964 and re-elected in 1965.

Brixon also is in his third one-year term as chairman of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen. He is the owner of the Elite Rug Cleaners in Larkspur and a partner in Service Masters, a firm dealing in furniture, carpet cleaning and fire insurance.

Police Continue Roundup Of 21 In Bomb Plots

NEW YORK (AP) — Police continued today their roundup of 21 Black Panther Party members accused of plotting to bomb five Manhattan department stores, a commuter railroad line and a police station.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced the indictment of the Panthers yesterday and said the attacks were planned for today—when stores were filled with Easter shoppers. He said the attacks were intended to strike "the white power structure."

Extra security precautions were in force at stores involved in the alleged plot. One store official said "all the precautions it is possible to take have been taken" and another said all days off had been canceled for his internal security force.

Novato Faces Three Plans To Raise Pay

The Novato City Council will face three proposals for salary increases and fringe benefits for fiscal 1969-70 at its April 22 meeting.

The requests have been prepared by the Novato City employees, their department heads and City Manager Charles A. Brown who chopped requested increases which ranged as high as 17.5 per cent down to 10 per cent for the police and 5 per cent for the rest.

COST TO CITY

Brown's recommendations, he estimated, would increase salary cost to the city by $38,443, from $655,605 this year to $694,048 for fiscal 1969-70.

City employees asked for varied increases, 5 per cent over all and 12.5 per cent for the police.

Department heads reduced these requests to a basic 5 and 10 per cent, with some exceptions in the police force and public works.

Police Chief Robert J. Di Grazia asked a 17.5 per cent raise for the senior police clerk and a 15 per cent increase for other police clerks.

The police also are seeking a uniform allowance for clerks and incentive pay for advancement through the police academy and other schools. The latter would cost an additional $3,250 per year, Brown estimated.

RECRUITING NEED

"The city has been unable to recruit police under the present salary scale as fast as they have gone elsewhere," he said.

Public Works Director Clifford Temps asked a 7.5 per cent increase for maintenance men and 15 per cent for the maintenance leadman.

In addition, city employees want a $5,000 life insurance policy which would be in effect as long as they work for the city. It would cost the city $2,000 in annual premiums, Brown said. Other requests were for books and tuition reimbursement when attending a job-connected school.

Woman's Coat Taken From Doctor's Office

A $40 suede coat belonging to Barbara Anita Monda of 142 Tamalpais Road, Fairfax, was stolen from a waiting room of a pediatrician's office yesterday, San Rafael police said today.

The theft occurred on the second floor of the medical building at 1540 5th Street, according to police, who did not know whose office it was.

Bay Area Earthquake Hazard Study Sought

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The Legislature was urged today to launch a study of earthquake hazards in the Bay Area by a group sponsored by the Institute of Government Studies at the University of California.

The group of 18 experts in seismic hazards, building design, city planning, industry, disaster planning and government included Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum, who lectures at the university in city planning, and E. Jack Schoop of San Rafael, chief planner for the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

"Every major building or other structure of any consequence will experience at least one great earthquake during its lifetime," the group said in its statement to the Legislature.

"We urgently need new policies and intensified earthquake research to guide future decisions on land use and urban development, housing and industrial location and construction design," it said. Also needed, the group declared, is abatement of existing hazards.

The group's call for a study of the problem closely paralleled a proposal in January that a San Francisco Bay Area Earthquake Commission be set up. The Independent-Journal reported that proposal in detail on Jan. 7 when it was made by Stanley Scott, assistant director of the university's institute.

Innocent Plea To Auto Theft

Bennette Miles Kellam, 48, of Fresno, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to stealing a car in San Rafael on Sept. 20, 1967. A preliminary hearing was set for April 8.

Kellam was arrested last weekend on a bench warrant which had been issued in November 1967, when he failed to appear for arraignment.

Fair-Marin Manager Job Attracts 51 Applicants

A total of 51 persons, including 15 from Marin County, have applied for the job of manager of Fair-Marin Inc.

The salary range for the job is $14,000 to $16,000.

Personnel Director Maren Rinne and Asst. Administrator Thomas F. Campanella are prescreening the applications to see which meet the qualifications set forth in the recruiting brochure. The list of qualified applicants will be presented to the Fair-Marin board of directors, which will set up interviews and make the selection.

The manager of Fair-Marin will be responsible for the administration and operation of the veterans memorial auditorium and fairgrounds at the Civic Center, and for scheduling of events and promotion of year-round use of the facilities.

Qualifications call for at least five years' professional experience in auditorium, theater or cultural center management; fair operation; or management of performing at arts, visual arts or quality recreational facilities.

Harold Stockstad, president of the Fair-Marin board of directors, said he hopes the manager can be selected by the end of this month.

Pleads Innocent

Terrence Scott Borrman, 19, of Mill Valley, who allegedly ran a California Highway Patrol Officer off Lucas Valley Road Thursday while driving a stolen car, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. A preliminary hearing was set for Monday.

Silent Majority Seeks Support

The Marin unit of SMART (Silent Majority Against Revolutionary Tactics) may be disbanded unless it receives greater support from its members, a unit spokesman said today.

What was described as an "emergency organizational meeting" will be held Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in Room 343 of the Marin County Civic Center.

The local SMART unit reported that five San Francisco units and the East Bay and Peninsula units have had enthusiastic participation but the Marin unit's second meeting on March 25 attracted only five out of a hundred registered members plus five other interested non-members.

Strep Cases Lead County Disease List

A total of 91 cases of streptococcus infection, 58 of them in Novato, was reported in Marin County last week, County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht has announced.

There were also 26 gonorrhea cases reported, four cases of infectious hepatitis, one of serum hepatitis and one of syphilis, Dr. Albrecht said.

Professor's Pay Issue Is Probed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Attorneys are checking today into why Prof. Nathan Hare was not paid for the month he was suspended from San Francisco State College.

School authorities confirmed yesterday that the state controller's office had refused a March paycheck to Hare, acting head of a proposed Black Studies Department and a leader in the Black Faculty Union.

S. I. Hayakawa, acting college president, suspended Hare for a month Feb. 17 after Hare and others had shouted down Hayakawa during a faculty strike. But Hayakawa said then that Hare would be suspended with pay.

Audubon Ranch Trip Set By Jewish Center

Polish Airliner Crash Kills 51; Two From U.S.

WARSAW (UPI)—A Polish Airlines two-engine turboprop loaded to capacity crashed near the city of Cracow yesterday, killing all 51 persons aboard. Two of the passengers were Americans.

The Soviet-built high-wing AN24 went down in the foothills of the Tatra Mountains near the village of Podpolice, about 25 miles southwest of Cracow, the Polish news agency PAP said.

The Americans were identified as Richard Andrews, 45, of Forest Hills, N.Y., and Jean Irwin, 25, of Los Angeles.

An official of the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines said Andrews worked in KLM's passenger handling department at Kennedy International Airport and was on a family visit to Poland.

Miss Irwin was a student of dancing and drama at Warsaw's Grand Theater. She had spent about 18 months in Poland.

Three other foreigners aboard were identified as Ulica Zaulek, 26, Paul Turner, 37, both of England, and G. Barril, 38, of Italy.

The crash was the third and most serious accident involving a Polish Airlines AN24 in four and one half months.

A similar model plane skidded off the runway at Warsaw's Okecie Airport Nov. 11 without causing injuries. Another AN24 made a crash landing near Wroclaw early this year causing slight injuries to several passengers.

Marin Theft Case Left Up To Fresno

A charge of car theft will not be pressed in Marin courts against Myron Price, 26, of no fixed address, the district attorney's office said yesterday, because officials in Frenso County have charged him with the same theft.

Price, who was arrested in Santa Venetia March 26, will be turned over to Fresno authorities.

Only Minor Injuries In 101 Truck Crash

A Eureka man escaped with minor injuries on Highway 101 yesterday at 10 a.m. when his tractor-trailer rig loaded with lumber crashed through a guardrail. The truck cab went over an enbankment at the railroad avenue exit in Cotati.

Daniel Pettit, 39, was reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital with head cuts. The California Highway Patrol said the truck jacknifed on the road, separating the cab from the truck as it plunged down a steep enbankmant. Southbound traffic on the freeway was held up for more than an hour while the wreckage was cleared.

New Threat Of Soviet Troops Looms In Prague

PRAGUE (AP) — Moscow told Czechoslovakia's leaders to prevent further anti-Soviet demonstrations or Soviet occupation troops would step in, foreign newsmen have been told.

The message was brought to Prague by Soviet Defense Minister Andrei Grechko and Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir S. Semyonov who arrived on Monday.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the two were sent "on instructions of the Soviet government." Since their arrival they have met several times with the leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist Party.

Foreign newsmen were told the ultimatum they brought gave Czechoslovak authorities a choice between halting further anti-Soviet demonstrations on their own or asking for help from some of the estimated 70,000 Soviet troops here since their invasion last August.

Candidate Night For Hub Schools

Five candidates for three openings on the San Anselmo School District Board will face the public at a candidates' night Monday at 8 p.m. at Wade Thomas School, Ross Avenue at Kensington Road.

The event is being sponsored by a citizens committee headed by John Holm.

Candidates have been sent six questions which they will be asked to answer during eight-minute presentations, after which the session will be opened for questions from the floor. Bryce W. Anderson of the Independent-Journal will serve as moderator.

Juveniles Nabbed

Five juveniles, aged 15 to 17, four of them walk-aways from Marin County Juvenile Hall last Sunday and one a 16-year-old San Anselmo boy, were placed in Juvenile Hall yesterday after they were found sleeping in an empty house at 121 Oak Knoll Avenue, San Anselmo, police said today.

Petaluma Accident Injures Airman

An airman stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base was injured yesterday at 2:55 p.m. when his car struck a tree on Petaluma Boulevard North, near Jesse Lane, north of Petaluma.

Gene Garcia, 38, who resides in Sebastopol, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for a broken nose and facial cuts and transferred to Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco. The California Highway Patrol said his car skidded on the wet pavement and struck the tree.

MYRL DAHL tries to play the saw with a violin bow as Mrs. Hiorth accompanies her. The saw must be played on the untoothed side, with the wooden handle held under the right knee and the metal part across the other knee. Vibrations of the knee will vibrate sound, they say. Mrs. Dahl said that the sound resembles the human voice. Her other instruments are a tire pump which she has not "mastered" and a gut bucket made of an old Wisconsin butter tub.

WOMAN HISTORY-MAKERS

Activities Of 'The Friend' Evoke Old Familiar Refrain In America

Women have made their own challenge in their own way in American society. Some lesser known achievers, challengers and characters are subject of this series on American "woman history."

By BARBARA HOSMER

As founder of a religious cult she struck a chord that has recurred through 200 years of social development.

Born to well-to-do parents in Rhode Island in 1752, Jemima grew up extremely pretty and especially fond of frivolous reading. But at the impressionable age of 16 she heard a preacher at a revival meeting and decided to change her life completely.

She fell into a coma for several days. Back among the living once more, she claimed that she had died, gone to Heaven and had a conversation with the Lord. She then reported to her family that she had returned to earth to direct all good men and women in the path of Jesus as "The Public Universal Friend." Henceforth she always referred to herself as "The Friend."

NEXT THE FRIEND obtained a flowing white robe, mounted a horse and rode off through Rhode Island to preach to any who would listen. Tall, black-haired, and with especially compelling eyes, The Friend became an effective preacher, holding meetings and founding churches as she went.

Preaching celibacy and the need to support her sect above family or other responsibilities, The Friend led a band of converts into Pennsylvania on horseback and then on to western New York. There, near Seneca Lake she set up a colony called Jerusalem, which began to prosper through dedication and work.

With it The Friend prospered too. All property was owned jointly by the group, but somehow The Friend laid claim to some 12,000 acres for her own use and instructed her followers to erect a grand structure which was to surprise the casual traveler by its sudden rise above the forest as he approached the colony.

From her mansion headquarters The Friend began to lord it over the faithful followers, with six handmaidens in attendance upon her at all times.

"The Friend hath need of these things," she is reported to have explained when she wished to acquire something, and when mumblings of revolt broke out she would don the flowing white robe and call upon all her eloquence to soothe the temper of her brood.

THE DUKE de la Rochefodcauld paid the colony a visit in 1796 and recorded that The Friend's abode "resembled the boudoir of a fine lady, not that of a nun." He reported that The Friend dressed herself in the finest silks and conducted

Clink, Clank, Buzz Strike Up The Band

By DOROTHY NEWELL

"Clink, ding or burr," says Mrs. Allen Dahl, the director to those playing the percussion "instruments" such as a washboard, gut bucket, bones, or a barrel drum, while the melody is played on Pakistani cow bells, piano, violin, oboe and at times the accordion.

The Newcomers Rural Band was organized by Myrl Dahl, an accordion teacher, but two of those in the band, Mrs. Edwin Grundstrom, who plays the bells and Mrs. Cal Hunt, who plays the gut bucket and formerly played with a band in San Rafael, are not members of the Newcomers Club.

Myrl says she has known country music since she "slept in the hay" while her father called square dances in the hay barns in Minnesota when she was small.

"My goal is to revive the old time homey instruments played spontaneously from a natural personal impulse on available things like water goblets, hand saws, tire pumps, washboards, (which now must be purchased in second hand stores as they do not make them of metal any longer) nail kegs and bells."

And there is certainly no question that the women are playing spontaneously and enjoying it. And if one wants to hear an unusual sound, he'll hear it when the rural band strikes up "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" or "76 Trombones."

Unusual instruments in the band include the bones, the gut bucket and plastic cups with covers, containing cork, seeds and paper clips.

How did Myrl acquire the

The nuptial rites took place at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley, where the brides' father is pastor, and were performed by him, assisted by the brides' uncle, Chaplain Stacy Roberts Jr. of Lemoore Naval Station.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Generation Gap Includes Dating And Brings Mixed Reactions

DEAR HELEN:

This letter concerns the guy who called himself "Shut-Out," and who says 15-17 year old boys are all out after one thing and girls should go with older men.

He is anything but right but then what can you expect of a guy who says "I am going to sock it to you in the only way groovy chicks will understand." He sounds like an overgrown teenybopper, who just might develop into a hairdresser or interior decorator.

Let him stick to his own generation — if they'll have him! — A 15-YEAR-OLD GUY

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter said the same thing that "Shut-Out" did when she wanted to date a man five years older than she was. Now, at 16, she has an illegitimate baby and a broken heart. — MRS. T. G.

DEAR HELEN:

I would like to compliment "Shut Out," who is so-o-o-o right about older guys being more gentlemanly.

I've gone out with men 25 years old and they treat me like I was a porcelain princess. But boys my own age (16) can't even carry on a good conversation. They just lip-read and talk with their hands, if you know what I mean! — H.G.T.

DEAR PROS AND CONS on the "Older Man" Controversy:

Your letters all add up to two words: "Don't generalize." There are good guys and bad guys in every age group. Be smart enough to know the difference. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'd like to say I think the girl who felt so sorry for herself because her folks were divorced is very selfish. My mother and father divorced when I was young, but I've never hated them for it. Parents have feelings too. Maybe there would have been much more torment for all of us, if they had stayed together. People who "stick it out" for the kids aren't doing the children any favor — they just give them an example of how miserable marriage is.

I have a step-father and a step-mother and I'm not ashamed of either of them. My parents are all friends, though of course they don't bum around together.

I don't think divorce is the only answer to marriage problems, but I do think a child should want happiness for her parents also, not just for herself and she should adjust to what she can't change. — HAPPY CHILD

DEAR HELEN:

May I speak for a misunderstood generation, namely: Parents.

Since the youth of today stress above all else the hypocrisy of adults, perhaps the girl who signed herself "Stop Broken Homes" should look at her argument from this point of view.

She says parents should stay together for the sake of children as long as they don't actually hate each other. How dishonest! When love leaves, pretense begins. There is nothing more deadening to the human spirit than pretending emotions that don't exist. The result: Usually two bitter, quarrelling (or quietly antagonistic) people, and what child won't be blighted by this?

Two real parents create the ideal climate for growth, but only if love is there to supply warmth.

As a member of the new, wonderfully idealistic generation, SBH should not condemn us for hypocrisy, then ask us to practice it when it interferes with her comfort and convenience. — B.C.

Society Advises Against Fear In Protecting Self From Cancer

Most modern women know something about the threat of cancer of the female breast. It is wrong for anyone to live in fear of this or any other illness, but you should be aware of the simple steps you can take to detect possible trouble early.

Breast cancers are often first discovered by the women who have them. If discovery is made early in the course of the disease, the chances for effective treatment are vastly improved. It's simply a matter of good common sense, therefore, for all women to make a point of examining their own breasts at regular intervals. Most authorities feel this ought to be done about once a month, preferably at the conclusion of the menstrual flow.

Self-examination of the breasts need not be a complicated affair. Most women are very familiar with the appearance and feel of their breasts. It should be easy for them to spot any change which might signal early cancer.

First, look at your breasts in a mirror. With your arms hanging loosely at your sides, check for any change in the usual size, shape, or contour of the breasts. Then try to spot irregular areas, such as depressions in the surface in the form of dimpling or puckering. Likewise, search for any unusual elevation which might be produced by a swelling underneath. Look at the nipples to see if there is any discharge from them or rash around them.

Second, repeat this careful visual examination of both breasts with your arms held high overhead.

Third, feel your breasts for the presence of lumps which were not there before. Your fingers can locate abnormal areas quite easily. This is best done while you are lying down. Feel all around each breast in a regular fashion so that you will not miss any part. When you reach the outside of each breast, search under each arm, as well.

Does this description sound too simple to be useful? How can you decide whether what you are seeing and feeling is really normal or abnormal? You can't — but your doctor can. All you have to do is spot the changes, whatever they may be. Then, see your doctor to find out what they mean.

Don't worry about cancer, but if you are a sensible woman, do try to protect yourself by following these simple steps.

IN NOVATO

Television Viewing Survey Jolts Parents Into Action

Effects of television viewing on their own families are being studied by a group of women in North Marin, who have found that television may indeed be shaping attitudes in their children.

Through its Communications Media Section the Novato Branch of the American Association of University Women is seeking to find out what television viewing is doing to youngsters and adults.

Members are keeping a log marked off in blocks (similar to a calendar) for successive days of viewing. Within these blocks they have noted programs viewed, age of viewers, time of day of viewing takes place and comments concerning programming and hours they have devoted to the TV screen, according to Mrs. Forest Van Vleck who reported on the last meeting of the section.

QUESTIONS ASKED of members were: "How selective was their TV viewing, what observations had they made concerning program content, length of viewing time and what role does television play in their family life?"

At the meeting members evaluated the merits of the survey and decided to make known to TV station licensees their wishes for quality programming and adherence to the TV code which in part states "such subjects as violence and sex shall be presented without undue emphasis."

After looking over the log sheets, members found that most of the viewing was by their children. They would watch their favorite programs in addition to what the parents watched. The average number of hours of viewing time seemed to vary from family to family depending, in part, on the ages and number of children. A conservative estimate was 15-20 hours weekly, Mrs. Van Vleck said.

SOME COMMENTS made by those who took part in the survey were for a more conscious effort, almost to the point of new restraint, to select programs with greater care and to limit viewing time.

Mrs. Van Vleck said that one mother related how the 6 p.m. news and meal time became synonymous in her household, that violence and the spectre of war consumed along with the evening meal left both children and parents tense, abrupt with one another and uncommunicative.

Recognition of these unhealthy symptoms soon decided the mother against such an unnerving disruption. Meals are now conducted in a quiet relaxed atmosphere, conversation is free flowing and the dinner hour is once more an enjoyable time of day, she said.

"My children become irritable and tense and begin to fight with one another after one or two hours of uninterrupted viewing," complained another mother. Other parents said they had observed a similar pattern of behavior among their children. So the group felt that not only program content but viewing time, with its demands on the whole person for total concentration of the senses, seems to produce real aggressive tendencies, Mrs. Van Vleck said.

VIOLENT PROGRAMS viewed by youngsters can cause family conflict, one parent noted. Everytime her children watched "Bat Man" they began to argue and pummel each other. As far as violent content, this program had the most apparent ill effects for her children, the mother reported.

Children do have the ability to discriminate between what is fantasy and real on the television screen, suggested the mother of two small boys whose favorite program is "Lost in Space." She claims her children will act out this program for a greater part of their play time.

It was generally agreed by the members that the power and influence of television is a great enough learning force that it may now be shaping attitudes and values, of children especially, to a degree depending on the amount of viewing engaged in.

With regard to influencing values and attitueds, one mother related an episode in the series "Run for Your Life" in which a young 18-year-old runaway turned Hippie was brought before the court for writing and distributing pornographic poetry. The girl was portrayed as a symbol of innocence and purity and was acquitted by the judge while society, the man who brought charges and the prosecutor were portrayed as narrow minded, evil thinking, pathetic products of a hostile, hateful, sick society, the mother reported.

The group concurred that in other words morality and the ten commandments were being viewed as passe. "With this philosophy anything can be condoned, even murder," the parent said.

MEMBERS ALSO felt that young people would be greatly influenced in their moral outlook and attitudes with much exposure to this kind of content in all its subleties. When children or young adults watch TV they are not aware they are learning, members said.

The observations which the television survey aroused proved very valuable in promoting a keener awareness of the members' responsibility to be selective of program content and length of viewing time. Members report they also have become more aware of the station licensee and his responsibility to the public for enforcing the TV code, Mrs. Van Vleck said.

Traditional Easter Eggs Ready For Shoppers This Weekend

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's good buys for the weekend was prepared by the Departments of Agriculture (USDA) and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that Easter weekend food shoppers will find excellent displays of meat and poultry and good supplies of some fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets.

All stores should feature abundant supplies of eggs for the traditional Easter egg hunts and for dyeing.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue as the most abundant meats. Beef roasts, steaks and ground beef are also in the abundant class and should be featured in most areas. Pork items are ample enough to fill all shopping needs. These include bacon, Boston butts, chops, ham, roasts, sausage, smoked picnics and spareribs. Maine sardines, canned salmon and fish sticks and portions are the fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Cabbage, carrots, onions and potatoes repeat as the most abundant fresh vegetables in all areas. Fresh fruit in best supply include bananas, grapefruit and oranges.

USDA's plentiful foods for April will supplement your shopping list this weekend—they include prunes, canned and frozen green beans and corn, dry beans, rice, and peanuts and peanut products.

her formal appearances with expert showmanship. Though she was 44, the Duke found her in as good repair as a woman under 30 and he thought her manner to be as studied as an actress.

Suspicions began to appear in the minds of some of the females of the colony when The Friend felt the need of a spiritual companion in the person of Squire Parker of the colony. They listened and watched and at last reported that the squire and The Friend "were blessing each other with raptures." With that the disillusioned colony began to come apart.

With a population once of 260 followers, Jerusalem's people dwindled through the years. The Friend grew fat and overblown, with little trace of her former great beauty. She died in 1819 embittered and old, and Jerusalem headed for extinction.

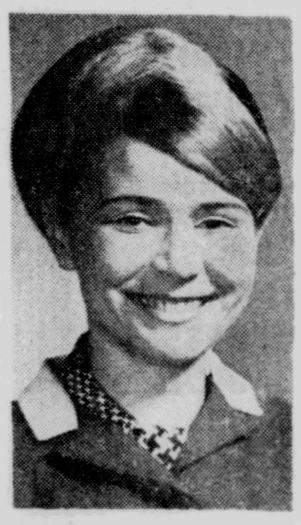
Miss Waknitz Engaged To Wed Kit Mosden



KRISTIN WAKNITZ

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mosden of Ross. He is a graduate of Redwood High School. The late Judge and Mrs. Adolphus E. Graupner of San Francisco are his grandparents.

Kristin is the sister of F. William Waknitz, also a student at the University of Puget Sound. She is a graduate of Franklin High School in Seattle. Her sorority is Gamma Phi Beta.

Man's Look

Deep color tones now have moved into the sportshirt picture, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. For a smart casual look, it is suggested the dark shirts be worn with boldly striped flared trousers and accessorized with a neckerchief of silk in a contrasting or accenting color.

No earthly reason for a "confinement" any more. At least not lookswise. Here's a desk-to-date-with-the-stork sort of dress. White cotton knitting, coat buttoned, black banded, looking cool, crisp, copeable. Also perfect for Easter.

ART REVIEW

Potter's Paintings Suited To Season

By LAURA DEVENDORF

If ever a painting medium was suited to spring, it's watercolor. And the "Spring Renaissance" of Ken Potter's watercolors through April 17 at Gallery III in Corte Madera's Co-op Center, illustrates the point with landscapes and street scenes that have much of the season's damp-clean newness.

It also demonstrates Potter's facility for this difficult medium.

Realistic watercolors worked in the traditional way are no cinch. Ask anyone who has tried and you'll find that working quickly from light to dark, from drooling wet washes to dry brush detail, always remembering where everything will ultimately go, avoiding open white areas and doing it all rapidly, with no corrections as the work dries — takes a great deal of talent and experience.

Even if the painting does turn out to be technically sound there is no guarantee that it will be more than just another competent realistic watercolor like dozens of others.

This is a problem for any artist who insists on painting the same themes in the same way year after year. No matter how adequate each new piece may be, it can seem just another chorus of the same song which picks up slickness and loses originality and sparkle with repetition.

If Potter has had a problem it has been this. His technique has been sound but often the edge of excitement has been dulled by repetition. In several of these spring scenes, however, his finesse with the medium has blended with the fluid freshness of the season.

Subject and technique explain and enhance each other in the damp pastels and wet darks of blooming fruit trees, misty skies and fields, fishing boats stained with dawn colors, blue-green mountain shadows and wet brick and pavement.

They are fresh with the clean liquid light of spring and are more convincing than Potter's works have been in some time.

Businessman To Jail Like Draft Evader

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A judge who sentenced a man to prison after he pleaded guilty to tax evasion says a businessman shouldn't be treated differently than a draft evader.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge William T. Sweigert ordered yesterday Frank D. Helman, 66, retired Manteca auto dealer accountant, to serve 18 months in federal prison and fined him $15,000.

"I cannot find any mitigating circumstances for his acts except his age," Sweigert told Helman.

"No judge of this court can, in good conscience, perform the distasteful and sometimes heart rending duty of committing young idealists to jail for refusal to perform duties under the controversial Selective Service Act and, at the same time, extend the lenient and sometimes meaningless imposition of a fine for this kind of crime.

He said Helman was "materialistic rather than idealistic."

Helman was indicted on nine charges of evading personal taxes and taxes from an auto agency partnership which he sold in 1966.

He pleaded guilty to two charges involving 1965 taxes.

Judge Sweigert said Helman concealed $180,810 in business income and did not declare $67,432 of it on his personal income tax return.

Russ Explain Goal Of Seabed Disarmament

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union today gave the first extensive explanation of its draft treaty to demilitarize the sea bed. It was closer to the U.S. position than had been thought.

The Soviet draft was presented March 18 and called for a ban on any kind of military installation on the sea bed. Chief U.S. delegate Gerard C. Smith said such complete demilitarization "would be simply unworkable and probably harmful."

Smith expressed fear last week that it would bar such things as communication and navigation aids and submarine warning systems. The United States thinks the ban should be limited to nuclear weapons and other weapons of mass destruction.

Chief Soviet delegate Alexei A. Roshchin said today that under the Soviet draft, "according to international law, demilitarization does not presuppose restrictions on establishment and use of communications, beacons and any other means of infrastructure."

He said demilitarization means agreement not to "station troops and place objects and structures of military character."

Roshchin also said the treaty would only be operative beyond a 12-mile coastal limit and inside that belt such installations as submarine warning stations could be built.

The Soviet draft would not even bar the use of military equipment or personnel for peaceful scientific research on the sea bed, Roshchin commented.

Terra Linda Woman Denies Chico Theft

Patricia Ann Miller, 22, of Terra Linda, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court ot stealing a car in Chico. A preliminary hearing was set for April 15.

Miss Miller was arrested March 19 when she returned to the car which was parked at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael. She said she had borrowed the car from its owner but a check of Chico police showed that the car was stolen, police said.

Police Struggle To Keep Lid On Palm Springs Mob

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — City police backed by reinforcements from up to 100 miles away tried to put the lid on this desert resort today after two days of violence and cavorting — in some cases nude—by thousands of vacationing youths.

Nearly 300 persons had been arrested, most of them for drunkenness or distrubing the peace. The city jail was crammed. One man was detained on a charge of statutory rape of a girl teen-ager.

Police and deputy sheriffs marshaled forces for a sweep today through Tahquitz Canyon west of Palm Springs. There, large groups of hippies and students had gathered, many to sunbathe and swim without clothing.

After a rock music show last night, police fired gunshots into the air and tear gas to quell rampaging crowds.

Rocks and bottles hit several officers and broke windows of cars. In the melee, police said, a local man shot and wounded a boy and girl with a rifle.

The encounter came as 5,000 youths gathered outside a baseball park while 10,000 others inside listened to rock music. Those outside tried to rush the gates, were repelled by police and hurled missiles.

The violence was an encore to a disturbance Tuesday night after a concert in a drive-in theater.

Asked why the trouble started, Jim Packard, 17, of Santa Barbara, said "We have no money, nothing to do. We see these people living in motels and eating fine and the rest of us are hungry."

"Generally, they're an antagonistic group, a bunch of rowdy hippies. I don't think they're students, they're just bums. They don't have anybody. They live in cars and they don't know what to do with themselves."

To Cement Relations?

Bret Harte Gas Fire Costly In Time, Equipment

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has estimated it lost 465,000 cubic feet of natural gas from the ruptured gas line which fed a fire for five hours and 45 minutes Friday night in Bret Harte Heights outside San Rafael.

In addition, manhours for eight men who worked most of Friday night and Saturday and four who finished the work this week, cost about $600, Johnson said.

The gas line was broken when a tractor loader driven by Harold Holtzinger scraped through mud at a construction site and hit the line. The tractor, worth $31,000, was destroyed.

Pullout Bickering At Paris Parley

PARIS (UPI)—The United States said today there can be no lasting peace in Southeast Asia until North Vietnam withdraws its forces from Cambodia and Laos as well as South Vietnam. It offered a mutual withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam.

The Communists countered with charges it was the United States which committed aggression in all three countries and said the Nixon administration was trying to mislead the American public by making them believe there has been "progress" in the Paris peace talks.

"The Paris conference on Vietnam has so far made no progress at all," Viet Cong chief negotiator Tran Buu Kiem told the 11th session.

He said optimistic American reports of "secret talks" while putting forward other conditions "expose their deceitful and stubborn nature."

The American position was set forth by Lawrence E. Walsh, heading the U.S. team in the absence of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge who is in Washington for consultations.

"The people of South Vietnam cannot hope for a lasting peace so long as North Vietnam continues to violate its international obligations—so long as this infiltration from North Vietnam continues and so long as North Vietnam refuses to respect international demarcation lines and international boundaries," Walsh said.

"Your discussions cannot be regarded as serious until you recognize that there must be a mutual withdrawal of external forces," Walsh said. "We believe that our proposals are practical steps towards peace. We ask that you address yourself to them seriously."

He cited several instances. When the 1962 Geneva agreements were signed to end a civil war in Laos the United States withdrew all 666 of its military advisers, he said, while North Vietnam withdrew 40 of its 10,000 troops. Since then North Vietnam has sent in a total of 40,000 men.

A double-barreled tube, the final link in the world's longest underwater subway, floated on the San Francisco Bay today waiting to be dropped into place. The tube, illustrated by this drawing, was to be connected by nightfall. The first section of the $90 million Bay Area Rapid Transit District system was lowered 17 months ago in the trench 135 feet below the surface of the bay. The 19,200-foot tube is expected to be in operation by 1972. (BART Photo)

Accounting Contract Gets Reluctant Nod

Directors sharply criticized Seymour Kashin, manager of the district, for trimming only $1,075 from his previous proposal that the consultants be paid up to $14,000.

The directors agreed on March 18 that the cost should be reduced considerably after they cut some parts of the proposed study.

"NO" VOTE CAST

Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, who cast the only "no" vote, objected that the maximum of $12,925 provided in the contract automatically will become the minumum cost of the study by the consultants.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar, noting that Ernst and Ernst of San Francisco had offered to do the job for $12,000, said "it seems strange to me that we have to go all the way to Washington, D.C. — it's not the proper way of doing business. You're on thin ice when you grant a contract to a firm when another offered a lower price," he declared.

Kashin said he had selected the firm of R. L. Banks & Associates Inc. because he was familiar with the Washington firm, which the district paid about $15,000 last year to prepare a case against Greyhound Bus Lines' fare hike.

"There's a great deal of think work involved" in such a study, Kashin said, adding the maximum figure "is for the protection of the district."

GNOSS CRITICAL

Supervisor William A. Gnoss, while also critical of the high figure, argued successfully that the work had to be done soon so a firm proposal could be presented to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District. The transit district directors voted last December to contract with the bridge district to finance and operate a bus system.

(Meanwhile, the bridge district is considering a plan to go into the commuter bus business on its own.)

Kashin said the consultants' work should be completed in May.

Chairman John F. McInnis was absent.

Skeleton Bus Network Is Outlined

The long-awaited skeleton of a network of commuter bus routes throughout the populated areas of Marin was presented last night to the Marin County Transit District board of directors by its manager, Seymour Kashin.

The detailed routings, however, did not show how frequent bus service would be, or the cost of the system.

Kashin, pressed by newsmen after the meeting in the Civic Center, offered an estimate ranging from $5 million to $10 million for the system, which would have from 100 to 170 buses. Greyhound Bus Lines, which generally sticks to Highway 101 for its service, uses 95 buses in Marin, Kashin said.

The system, if begun immediately, would cut the time it takes for commuters to get from their homes to their businesses, but the time saving will last only two years "before congestion catches up with it," he said.

Kashin's proposed routes all use Highway 101 extensively.

"But if transit is to remain competitive (with the private car), it must find its own right-of-way," Kashin declared. The reserved right-of-way should be iether on existing railroad rights-of-way or on a reserved freeway lane, he said.

Faster service and comfortable buses, Kashin told directors, "should attract a significant percentage of Marin commuters," perhaps doubling the 3,100 who now commute by bus.

Detailed schedules of service, he said, "are not yet firmed up to the point where we're ready to make them public." The cost of the system will be determined in a consultants' study due in May, he said.

But service on all routes, he insisted, would be "relatively frequent at all hours of the day."

Several members of the audience pushed for more details on the proposed bus system, but Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, a member of the transit board, argued "we're not here to be specific."

Among the few comments by directors on Kashin's report was a caution by Supervisor Louis H. Baar that San Francisco will not allow its downtown streets to be used by the district as a bus terminal. An offstreet terminal probably would be needed to load passengers in the evening, Baar said.

"Instead of bringing people to the buses, we'd bring the buses to the people," Kashin responded. A "multiplicity of stops" would make a terminal unnecessary," he said.

To speed evening loading, Kashin added, fares may be collected only when passengers leave the bus in Marin.

About 32,000 commuters cross the Golden Gate Bridge each way, Kashin reported, of whom 30,000 come from Marin. Most of the rest come from Sonoma County. In 1960, the number of Marinites working in San Francisco was about 18,500. By 1980, it is expected to be over 40,000.

"Unless staggered working hours are adopted, which is unlikely, or an effective mass transit system is introduced to raise the passenger carrying capacity per lane drastically, the trend toward further congestion and earlier trips will continue to a ridiculous point, or act as a constraint against further residential development," Kashin said.

Shoreline Panel Eyes Class Space

The Shoreline Unified School District board last night discussed but took no action on the classroom need at Bodega Bay Elementary School, according to Supt. Charles E. McCully.

The Bodega Bay trustees on March 10 received a low bid of $32,800 for the addition of one classroom, office, reception room and storage area from Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, the lowest of three bids. The district had $21,000 for the project.

Trustee Earl Carpenter of the Bodega Bay District last night met with the Shoreline board to discuss the possibility of using a portable classroom next year or the installation of a folding partition in one large room to divide it, McCully said.

The Shoreline Unified School District board also:

TEACHERS — Voted to rehire all present teachers in the unified district for next school year.

MENTALLY RETARDED — Decided to conduct its first educationally handicapped program next school year. The district will continue having the Marin County schools office handle the educatable mentally retarded and trainable mentally retarded, McCully said.

AUDITOR — Hired Wadsworth, Smith, Mohrman and Dado, certified public accountants of Petaluma, as auditors for the district.

GUIDE — Discussed but took no action on the policies and procedures guide for the district. The board hopes to have this in final form by the last of May, McCully said.

Sausalito Planners Reject Zone Changes

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night rejected changes proposed by the city council in an interim zoning ordinance and stuck to its original recommendations.

The commission repeated its recommendation that yacht clubs and all ferry docks be conditional uses in the proposed commercial waterfront zone, and that houseboats not be required to meet uniform building code requirements for housing.

The council Tuesday night recommended the code requirements for houseboats, and recommended making yacht clubs and passenger ferry docks permitted uses.

The difference is that conditional uses would be allowed only after public hearings for use permits, giving the city power to ban them if it wished.

The council sent its changes back to the commission as required by law before another council hearing and probable adoption next Tuesday.

On the houseboar question, the commission recommended less stringent requirements until adoption of a city houseboat ordinance with building construction spelled out.

The commission recommendations now go to the council again. While the council was legally required to send its proposed changes back to the comission for reconsideration, it can accept or reject commission proposals as it wishes in acting Tuesday.

The Sausalito Planning Commission also:

VARIANCES — Denied a variance request by Russell R. Rudzinski to build an addition at 292 Glen Drive, and approved a variance sought by Paul Ciampi for an ornamental overhang on a commercial building to be built at Bridgeway and Coloma Street.

HEARING — Set a public hearing May 7 for a proposed zoning ordinance change to give the commission power to set parking requirements for schools rather than have a fixed parking ratio.

Marinites Flee Fire At Disneyland

I-J Special Report

ANAHEIM — Roaring flames which drove Easter week occupants from the crowded Disneyland Hotel last night damaged the top two floors of the 11-story hotel last night but no injuries were reported.

Hal Wagner, manager of the Rafael Racquet Club in San Rafael, who was staying at the hotel with his wife and her son, said that, since rain had started to fall earlier in the evening, most of the residents had returned there from the park.

There was no panic in leaving the hotel, he said, but many persons became panicky when they got outside and saw the roaring blaze on the 10th floor.

He said that occupants of the hotel stood outside in the rain for about two hours. The fire was controlled in about 25 minutes, according to firemen.

The Wagners, whose room was on the third floor, were able to return to their room later in the evening as were many other occupants. Wagner said that hotel employees put cots in the lobby for people whose rooms were damaged. There was no estimate of damage loss.

Adebonojo New Leader Of EOC Panel

Dr. Festus Adebonojo, San Anselmo pediatrician, was elected chairman of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council last night, defeating two candidates proposed by the nominating committee.

Dr. Adebonojo, 37, of 2 Toyon Drive, San Anselmo, garnered eight votes to defeat Arthur Miller and Charles L. Convis who had five votes each. (The other 15 members of the council were absent, accounting for the small total vote.)

A native of Nigeria, Dr. Adebonojo received medical training at Yale University and has been a Marin resident five years. He represents the Family Service Agency of Marin County on the council.

His wife, Mary Adebonojo, teaches folklore and Negro history at Dominican College of San Rafael. The couple has three sons.

Elected as vice chairman was Rogers Jones, who was also nominated from the floor. The nominating committee's candidate, Elihu H. Johnson, received six votes to Jones' 11, with one blank ballot.

Rev. John J. O'Connor, director of the Catholic Social Service Agency, was elected treasurer without opposition.

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Marie Delloue as representative of Citizens for Social Change, but refused to appoint Gina Joe, the group's suggested replacement, until she attends a meeting.

PUBLIC RELATIONS — Heard Richard Mermin of Tiburon report on plans of the public relations committee, including inviting community groups to meet with them and publishing a newsletter.

MOVE — Learned, through the newsletter, that the executive offices of the council at 1380 Lincoln Avenue are being moved to the multi-service center at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, with the move scheduled to be completed by April 15.

MANPOWER — Heard that Marin has joined with San Francisco and San Mateo counties in a new community program area concept which will offer, among other programs, a manpower training area which outgoing EOC director Victor H. Cary said is "our next step."

Water Line Bids All Above Estimates

Bids on the installation of an eight-inch water line on Petaluma Boulevard South from H Street to Mountain View Avenue, Petaluma, all came in over the engineer's estimated costs of $29,935.

The lowest apparent bid Tuesday was received from the Argonaut Construction Co. of Santa Rosa at $35,740. The second lowest of five bidders was the Gene McLaughlin Co. of Fresno at $36,027.

Cary Plans To Work With Federal Agency

Victor H. Cary plans to work with the model cities program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development in the Bay Area, he said last night after he resigned as executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

Cary's resignation after almost two years as director was accepted last night, effective April 15.

However he agreed to be available after that date to smooth the transition to a new director which is already being sought by the council's personnel committee.

Cary gave no reason for resigning in his letter of resignation, but indicated after the meeting it was not due to poor health as reported yesterday to the Independent-Journal by an EOC secretary, but to take the job with the model cities program.

In his letter, Cary commented, "It has never been my intention to remain with the MCEOC after attaining certain defined goals and standards I had set for myself. We now have, I believe, a sound corporate structure, including fiscal confidence and administrative strength."

However, he announced that one other of the three top council administrators has also resigned. Peggy Woodruff, head of the council's multiservice center, quit effective April 1.

Miss Woodruff, a graduate of Mills College who now lives in Fairfax, is a candidate for the Fairfax School board this year and is a member of various other groups, ranging from Planned Parenthood to the National Association of Social Workers.

The council agreed last night not to replace her until after a new executive director is hired. The center will remain open.

Recruiting for the executive director was reported moving along well with two applications already received — one from a man in San Francisco and another from a man in Washington.

Although the EOC board learned only yesterday of his intention to quit, Cary reported word of the vacancy went out to area community action agencies a week ago, but advertising in newspapers had not begun.

He said related agencies are the only practical training grounds for the job because it requires not only administrative ability but also working knowledge of federal programs.

The board agreed to begin advertising in area newspapers as soon as possible to fulfill requirements and set April 11 as the final date for applications.

Gilbert Medeiros, chairman of the personnel committee, in an attempt to discourage council members from asking Cary to stay after April 15, said, "He has been ordered by his doctor to take an immediate rest."

Cary did not confirm the statement and after the meeting said he did not plan to rest.

Funds Save Legal Aid Assistance

Marin's legal assistance program has been saved and expanded, with a $35,000 federal grant and $15,000 from an East Coast philanthropist.

Victor H. Cary, executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, said last night the refunding of the 6-month-old program is for the fiscal year April 1, 1969 to March 31, 1970.

The program, which handles civil cases for persons who cannot afford to pay an attorney, had been on the verge of extinction and James Kovacs, attorney in charge, said he saw little hope of getting the needed funds to continue.

However, after telling officials there would be a month in which to phase out, the federal government changed its mind and provided the $35,000.

The extra $15,000 is to pay a Reginald Heber Smith Fellow, Cary said. Smith, an attorney, lives and practices in Boston, Mass. He began his career in 1914 with the Boston Legal Aid Society, has been active in development of legal aid programs throughout his career and has written books and articles on such topics as "Justice and the Poor." The fellowship has not been filled.

The legal assistance program, directed by the Legal Aid Society of Marin County, operates in an office in the Albert Building in San Rafael and also maintains evening office hours in Marin City and San Rafael. Kovacs will continue as the attorney in charge, Cary said.

Mass Arrests In Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Police detained 13 truckloads of students after they staged a sit-in at Haile Selassie University today. Secondary school students walked out of afternoon classes in sympathy.

The university students are campaigning for educational reforms and for police to drop charges against some students.

The university was closed March 3 when it became known that students planned demonstrations there. It reopened two weeks ago.

Santa Barbara Will Seek Halt Of All Drilling

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Santa Barbara County planned today to seek a federal injunction against resumption of offshore oil drilling—and one county official said he would appeal to the President.

"Once again President Nixon is our only hope to prevent drilling," County Supervisor George Clyde said after Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel authorized resumed drilling.

Supervisors directed county counsel George P. Kading to seek an injunction against the resumption in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles. Kading said the suit would try to stop all drilling permanently.

Youth Booked In Marijuana Probe

A 13-year-old boy was arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and narcotics paraphenalia in the parking lot behind Oliver Hartzell School, San Rafael Police said today.

Police officers said they found 15 cigarettes and a small bag of what appeared to be marijuana as well as a cigarette rolling machine in the youngster's possession.

The boy was turned over to a juvenile officer. A 12-year-old boy on the scene had a matchbook "crutch" in his possession, police said. He was taken to his home and will be contacted later.

Market's Customer Flees Without Paying

A man stole $4 in sandwiches and hamburger from the checkout stand at the 7-Eleven Market at 703 B Street last night, San Rafael police reported.

Truman Reviews His Honor Guard

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Former President Harry S Truman, trailing a cane but flashing a snappy salute, returned to his summer White House today and received honors at the U.S. Naval Station.

The 84-year-old former president surprised his host, Rear Adm. Frederick J. Brush, by electing to inspect the Marine honor guard assembled on the concrete seawall where he used to take his morning constitutionals.

While the band from the Navy Sonar School played "Ruffles and Flourishes," Truman passed down the long file of Marines. He stopped occasionally to chat with the veterans back from Vietnam and to snap off a salute as the guide on flag was dipped.

Sewage Lines Report Sought

Ross Valley Sanitary District directors last night asked Ralph C. Noah, district manager, to investigate the possibility of increasing the program for testing and repairing sewage lines and report back at an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m., April 17.

The board's action, said Noah, came after it learned that there is a great deal more infiltration of drainage than was anticipated. This was made known after last year's smoke bomb infiltration testing.

Recommendations from the new feasibility report will be considered in connection with the 1969-70 budget, Noah reported.

Rifles Stolen

Employees at Camp Tamarancho, a Boy Scout camp near Fairfax, reported to the sheriff's department that someone had broken into a building Sunday and stolen nine .22-caliber rifles and 30,000 rounds of ammunition, officers said today.

Reed Trustees Approve Plan For Summer School

Summer school plans for 450 pupils at Granada and Del Mar schools were approved last night by the Reed School District board.

Fourteen teachers and 13 aides will teach the program, which is tentatively scheduled for July 7 to Aug. 1.

Classes at Del Mar will be given in improvement reading, improvement mathematics, creative arts, mathematics and science, home economics, typing, industrial arts, music, art, mechanical drawing, outdoor education and aerospace.

At Grenada School there will be improvement classes, enrichment classes and an arts and crafts class.

Summer school costs were estimated at $13,430.

The Reed School District Board Also:

Daily Floods Hit Town In Nevada

ELY, Nev. (AP)—This copper town's daily suppertime flood was an hour late yesterday, but the melted snow that has made a millrace of the main street was 24 inches deeper.

Although the water was three feet deep, residents were preparing, with earthen dikes and sandbags protecting stores and other buildings.

Each day, starting last Sunday, the sun has melted snow on the 9,000-foot-high Robison Mountain range 10 miles west of this eastern Nevada town. And each day the melt has reached Ely at sundown. When the sun sets the melting stops and so does the flooding—about six hours after it starts.

Candidates' Night Set For San Marin

The nine candidates for three positions on the Novato Unified School District Board of trustees and the two candidates for one position on the Marin County Board of Education will address residents of San Marin at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Cluster C building at San Ramon School in Novato, according to publicity chairman Joann Dickson.

The candidates' night is being sponsored by the San Marin Improvement Association and the San Ramon Parent-Faculty Club.

Woman Is Found Trussed, Gagged

OAKLAND (UPI)—The nude body of a 46-year-old woman, trussed and gagged, was found in her apartment yesterday in a quiet residential neighborhood.

Police said the hands and feet of Mary Florence, a clerk, were tied with hosiery and a towel was wrapped around her head. There were no marks of violence, officers said.

The coroner's office said the woman apparently had been dead about three days.

Fairfax Youth Denies Felony Driving Count

Michael Roth, 21, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court to charges of felony drunk driving and manslaughter.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set April 18 for a preliminary hearing. The charges stem from the March 15 death of Mrs. Margaret McIntyre, 45, of Petaluma, who was killed in an auto accident on the Petaluma-Tomales Road. The California Highway Patrol said the car driven by Roth entered a curve too fast and struck the car in which Mrs. McIntyre was a passenger.

Three Children Killed In Blaze

VICTORVILLE (UPI)—Three young children died and a fourth suffered critical smoke inhalation late yesterday in a fire which swept through the living room of their three-bedroom home here.

Dead were Vannessa Patricia Smith, 6, and her two brothers, Kenneth Cleveland, 3, and James Michael, 5. The fourth child, William Thomas Smith, 8, was in serious condition at Victor Valley Hospital in this San Bernardino County city.

Deputy county coroner Leo Reyes said the children's mother, Ursula Smith, 27, whose husband William is with the Air Force in Vietnam, was not at home at the time of the fire.

Editor Testing Business Tax

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Scott Newhall, executive editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, has been arrested on charges of refusing to pay a business tax.

Newhall said he was testing the validity of the tax law in his capacity as owner and publisher of a weekly newspaper in Southern California which does a small amount of business in San Francisco.

He contends San Francisco's recently-enacted tax on the gross receipts of all businesses violates the first amendment to the U.S. constitution if it is applied to newspapers because it could endanger freedom of the press.

New York Team Transfers Heart

NEW YORK (AP) — Doctors at New York Hospital did their fifth heart transplant operation last night, giving a new heart to a 40-year-old woman who was reported "progressing satisfactorily."

The hospital disclosed today that the surgical team headed by Dr. C. Walton Lillehei completed the transplant in one hour.

Neither the woman nor the heart donor was identified, and the hospital even declined to say whether the heart donor was a man or a woman.

MAYOR CANDIDATES' PANEL

Courthouse Negotiations Argued

By DAVID DIETZ

Dr. Charles W. Aby, San Rafael mayoral candidate, criticized on a radio program today the installment plan sale of city corporation yard property voted by the city council March 18.

Aby, a former San Rafael councilman, said he felt the city had ignored a renewed offer by Marin County Board of Supervisors to discuss trading the corporation yard property for the soon-to-be-abandoned courthouse square.

Aby appeared on radio KTIM's Sounding Board with Mayor C. Paul Bettini, seeking re-election, and another candidate, Arthur F. Dieters, a businessman.

"I'm quite chagrined at the lack of communication on the part of the city," said Aby, apparently in reference to a letter sent to the city by the county proposing discussion of the trade.

Three city councilmen said recently they never saw the letter.

Aby said the 3.25 acres of corporation yard property — sold to two auto dealers — "should have been kept intact or sold for cash or traded."

Defending the council decision, Bettini said that the county had previously refused to trade the courthouse square for the parcel on Francisco Boulevard and "we couldn't afford to wait any longer."

"The county still has not had the courthouse property appraised," he added. "The receipts from the sale of the Francisco Boulevard property will be used for a senior citizens and teen-age center and for a new main fire station."

All candidates agreed on the urgency of a new role for the courthouse square to stimulate business in downtown San Rafael, but Aby did not think the city and county had been working closely enough on disposition of the block.

The city has offered the county $500,000 for the property, but the board of supervisors said this is too low.

"I realize our offer may be low," said Bettini, "but I feel that, after an appraisal, it may be accepted. We are also perfectly willing to accept arbitration or an appraisal agreed negotiated by both parties to buy the property."

Dieters said the property would have been sold long ago but that city zoning regulations were too restrictive.

Traffic problems, annexation and the controversial city charter amendments on the April 15 ballot also were discussed by the three candidates.

Bettini said a study being done may recommend that Fourth Street and Fifth Avenue be converted into one-way streets, although Dieters said this would turn the thoroughfares into "speedways."

The mayor said areas in Terra Linda and Bayside Acres, now unincorporated, should be annexed to San Rafael for better services, but Dieters said the residents "should be left alone to run their own lives" and Aby added that annexation should be promoted only by residents.

Dieters strongly urged a "no" vote on the charter amendments to make the positions of city clerk, treasurer, attorney and police chief appointive rather than elective, saying the changes would abridge the voting right and perpetuate bureacracy. (See story below.)

But Aby and Bettini said the city's ability to recruit competent administrators was vital in the complex operation of present government.

Sonoma State To Build First On-Campus Dorm

Plans for the first residence project and dining facility at Sonoma State College, part of a $4 million project, have been approved by the state College Board of Trustees, despite complaints from Rohnert Park developers.

Warren Tappin Jr., associate dean of students, said the college will go ahead with plans for the dormitory to house 600 students and will advertise for bids in January. Completion is scheduled for September 1971.

Local developers had complained that the state would give unfair competition to owners of nearby apartment buildings. Rents on two-bedroom apartments average $240 per month.

Tappin said that dormitory living would probably be more economical and offer many benefits that off-campus living cannot. He said costs for room and meals for two semesters are estimated at about $1,100 per year, or $122 per month.

Rents for two-bedroom apartments in Rohnert Park now average $240 per month and are usually shared by four students of an average cost of $60 apiece per month. Students, however, must also consider food, utility bills and transportation above the rental cost. It can be assumed that these rents will be higher when the dormitory opens in 1971.

Tappin said students would be expected to use both residential and dining hall facilities and that the two would be separated only in exceptional cases. He said that parents most often prefer on-campus housing where there will be some supervision and restrictions.

The dean said he doesn't forsee financial failure for local apartment owners because he feels there will always be a large number of students who prefer unsupervised living arrangements.

Located on the northwest corner of the campus, Tappin described the architecture as "early California" with red roofs and redwood siding. Deviating from standard dormitory styling, the design will provide as much privacy as possible, he explained. Units have been designed to house one, two, four and nine students.

The unit for two will include two bedrooms and a bath; four students will share two double bedrooms, a living room and a bath. The unit for nine will include four double bedrooms, a single bedroom, a living room and two bathrooms.

He said these combination will be put together to make a unit for 50 students which will include a laundry room, lounge area and a resident manager's apartment.

Four of these units, housing 200 students, will have a common lounge and kitchen facility. All apartments will have private entrances off a central court. The plan includes parking for 300 cars and a swimming pool.

Tapping said the total enrollment should reach 4,800 students when construction is completed. Total cost of the project is estimated at $4 million.

Kindergarten Registration Is Next Week

Dixie School District youngsters who expect to enter kindergarten in September will be registered next week, Wednesday through Friday, at eight elementary schools.

Registration will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon in the principals' offices of each school. This is registration only, and children need not be present, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis. He urged all parents of children eligible for kindergarten classes to register at the stated times, so that classroom space can be assured when kindergarten opens in September.

Children who will be 5 years old on or before Dec. 2, 1969, are eligible to enroll in kindergarten in September. Parents should bring birth certificates, baptismal records, or passports as proof of birth date.

The school district will also require proof that the child has received protection from poliomyelitis and measles, or that parents of the pupil state that it is against their belief to give such protection.

Registration will be held at these schools: Bernard Hoffman, 1111 Las Gallinas Avenue; Don Timoteo School, 39 Trellis Drive; Mary Silveira, 375 Blackstone Drive; Dixie School, 1175 Idylberry Drive; Lucas Valley School, 755 Idylberry Drive; Oak View School, 70 Skyview Terrace; Nova Albion School, 380 Nova Albion Way, and Santa Margarita School, 1055 Las Ovejas Avenue.

San Rafael Candidates' Opinions Vary Widely On Charter Issues

Three candidates for mayor of San Rafael and seven of the eight candidates for city council are in unanimous agreement that the nonexistent position of police judge should be removed from the list of city offices in the charter.

Aside from that, however, there is no unanimity among the candidates on the charter changes which will be before San Rafael voters April 15.

Two of the candidates for mayor — incumbent C. Paul Bettini and former Councilman Charles W. Aby — call for passage of the four propositions (A, B, C and D) which would convert city clerk, attorney, police chief and treasurer from elective to appointive positions. The third mayoralty candidate, Arthur F. Deiters, is against all four.

There is no such clear-cut division on these four propositions among the city council candidates. Three of them — incumbents Harry A. Barbier and Fred C. Robbins Jr. plus Thomas H. Litz — are in favor of all faour. Ray White is against all four, explaining that he believes the line of authority and division of duties in the various city departments should be more clearly defined before such changes are considered.

Other council candidates are for some of the changes from election to appointment, and against some.

Joseph D. Dahlman would make clerk, attorney and treasurer appointive, but says "no — with reservations" on making the police chief appointive. He said he had in mind creation of a police commission before considering appointive status for the chief.

John J. Adams advocates making the city clerk and treasurer appointive, but retaining elective status for attorney and police chief. George S. Burton would keep the police chief subject to election but make the other three positions appointive.

Benjamin F. Walton would make the police chief appointive but keep clerk, attorney and treasurer elective.

Propositon F, which would change the mayor's term from two to four years, is favored by two of the mayoralty candidates — Bettini and Deiters, but is opposed by Aby. Among the council candidates, it is favored by all except Adams.

Proposition G, which would expand the library board, fire commission and parks and recreation commission from five to seven members, is also favored by Bettini and Deiters and opposed by Aby.

Here, however, the division is different among the council candidates. Incumbent Barbier, although he voted to put the proposition on the ballot, is against its passage. It is also opposed by Litz and Walton. The other five favor it.

The mayoralty candidates are unanimous in support of Proposition H, which would make fire chief, street superintendent, health officer and city engineers subject to removal by votes of three members of the council. Removal of these officials now requires unanimous vote of the council, although the city manager and other appointees may be removed by three votes.

Although the mayoralty candidates all favor this change, the council candidates are evenly divided. Barbier, Robbins, Dahlman and White favor the change. Litz, Adams, Burton and Walton oppose it.

Transient Winds Up In Drug Trouble

A 28-year-old transient, who wound up in County Jail Tuesday night by showing sheriff's deputies a cigarette he said was made of marijuana, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a marijuana possession charge.

The case of Jeffery Neil Stallard was continued today for entry of plea.

Officers said that Stallard walked into the sheriff's department about 10:30 p.m. and informed them that he should be incarcerated to appear in court the next day.

Officers told the man that since he had committed no crime, they could not oblige him.

"Oh, well, I was ready for this," they said he replied.

Boys Clear Up Confusion In Rescue

Apparent contradictions in two reports on the rescue of two children from drowning Sunday at Stinson Beach have been clarified by the two boys who made the rescue.

Both boys acknowledged today that the excitement of the incident had led to the confusion about what each had done.

The first report, in Tuesday's Independent-Journal, was provided by Tim Thompson, 15, of 19 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo. He said he made the solo rescue of both unidentified children while nearby adults refused to help.

The second report, in yesterday's Independent-Journal, was by Howard F. Barnes, 17, of 15 Fernwood Way, San Rafael. He said that he and an unidentified man helped Tim rescue one of the children. Howard also said he rescued the second boy alone from a rock in the heavy surf.

What happened, both agreed today, was that Tim first got one of the children up onto a rock, then swam out for the second. As he got the second child back to shore, he was joined in the rescue by a man and by Howard.

With the second child safe, both boys then rescued the first one from the rock and brought him to shore.

Residence Looted

Harold J. Wright told police at 3:20 p.m., yesterday, that someone entered his home at 209 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, apparently through an unlocked door, and stole $25 in cash from a dresser drawer and a $356 color television set. The burglary occurred between 9:30 a.m. Sunday, and 2:45 p.m., yesterday, Larkspur police reported.

Novatan Will Resign City-County Position

Douglas M. Merill of Novato announced yesterday he will resign from the City-County Services Committee as soon as another city representative can be named to succeed him.

Merrill, who has been on the committee for more than three years, explained this morning that his workload is getting too heavy, and he cannot devote enough time to the committee. He is also chairman of the City-County Planning Council. "I'm pretty well extended now, and I've got to set priorities," said Merrill.

In a letter to Neil R. Brixon, chairman of the Council of Mayors and City Councilmen, Merrill asked that the council name his replacement by the end of June.

The City-County Services Committee is a four-man forum for city-county cooperation in Marin. It is composed of Supervisor John F. McInnis and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Larkspur Councilman Alfred J. Malvino and Merrill.

Suspects Deny Dope Charges

Innocent pleas to charges of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia were entered yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by a man and woman arrested by narcotics agents March 25 at the Diaz Ranch on Panoramic Highway near Mill Valley.

A preliminary hearing was set for June 10 for Peter Bruce Winston, 22, owner of the Resh Galley in Tamalpais Valley, and Gayle Cecila Solon, 24, both of whom live at the ranch.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated By Firemen

Tiburon volunteer firemen last night agreed to hold an Easter egg hunt for children of firemen from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday at Paradise Beach Park, President John Grbac reported.

Grbac said the Corner Market in Tiburon agreed to donate 12 dozen eggs for the hunt.

Four Fined On Drunken Driving

Four men have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Hadden W. Roth for drunken driving.

Herbert Hoover Hill, 40, of San Pablo, was fined $175 and placed on six months probation. He was arrested March 10 in Novato.

Glen McDaniels Melligen, 43, of 630 Sunset Parkway, Novato, arrested March 13 on Highway 101, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation.

Melvin Nicholas Desin, 35, of 11 Wiltshire Avenue, Larkspur, was fined $175 and placed on six months probation. He was arrested March 22 on Highway 101.

Clemmie Charles Ford, 42, of San Francisco, arrested in Sausalito March 22, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation.

Two Youths Face Probe On Burglary

Two teen-age boys who were seen pushing a loaded wheelbarrow near a house on Panoramic Highway which was burglarized Tuesday have been referred to the Marin County probation department for investigation of burglary.

Juvenile officers said that Wayne W. Tuttle, 15, of 337 Linda Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, and Charles Joseph Young, 14, of 43 Ridge Avenue, Mill Valley, were first seen pushing an empty wheel barrow near the home.

Then they were observed with the barrow loaded and covered with a yellow rug, reported stolen by Thomas E. Robuck of 570 Panoramtc Highway, Mill Valley. Robuck also reported the loss of two black leather jackets, two calfskin vests, a turntable, tape recorder, tuner and a speaker.

Much of the stolen property was found in Young's bedroom, according to officers.

Boys' Clubs' Wooden Docks Feared Stolen

Thirty-two feet of wooden docks valued at $700 were stolen within the last two weeks from the Southern Marin Boys' Club pier near Enchanted Knolls on Richardson Bay, club director Jack Benjamin reported today.

The docks were apparently cut loose from the pilings and towed away, Benjamin said. The docks were given to the club by the Greenbrae Sailing Society for a joint sailing program planned by the Southern Marin Boys' Club and the Boys' Club of Southern Marin.

Stereo, Speakers Theft Is Reported

Goods valued at more than $400 were stolen sometime over Tuesday night from a car owned by Michael D. Woods of 2130 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, while the auto was parked at 1358 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael police reported today.

Missing items included an auto stereo, tapes, two coats, a camera and a toolbox containing $100 in tools. The car was locked, police said.

Country Path Work Party Set

Corte Madera Avenue Homeowners Association members will don work clothes on April 12 to walk Corte Madera Avenue's "country path" and make any necessary improvements, director Sheldon Schwebel said today.

The work party will meet at 9 a.m. at the home of Wayne Wood, 346 Corte Madera Avenue.

Last night the board agreed to request the town council to study the traffic at Redwood and Corte Madera avenues. Schwebel said the board feels the lack of a stop sign on the lower side of Redwood plus the parking situation on Corte Madera Avenue makes the corner hazardous.

Today is Thursday, April 3, the 93rd day of 1969 with 272 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1860 the Pony Express postal service began.

In 1865 the Union Army occupied Richmond, Va., former capital of the Confederacy.

In 1962 the United States government ordered New Orleans to integrate the first six grades of public schools.

A thought for the day: Vannevar Bush said, "The scene changes but the aspirations of men of good will persist."

Easter Egg Hunt Set At Tam High

The 20th annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Tamalpais Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held from 10:30 a.m. to noon Saturday on the Tamalpais High School football field.

The egg hunt is for children in Homestead Valley, Tamalpais Valley and Almonte from 1 to 14 years old. Prizes will be awarded children finding the most eggs.

The hunt was held in Tennessee Valley in past years but was moved to the football field because of the area's growth.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Play Known As 'Duck' Can Put South In Victory Column

You can afford to play carelessly against foolish opponents because their mistakes will make up your own. If your opponents know all the tricks, however, you'd better learn a few of your own. Wiliness works better than haste.

DIAMOND PLAY

South took the jack of spades and led a diamond to dummy's king. This naive play would have cost nothing if East had taken his ace, but East knew enough to refuse the trick.

South returned to his hand with a club to lead another diamond, and this time East won. East's return didn't matter because declarer had only one entry to dummy. He could use that to set up the diamonds, but he could never return to dummy to cash the diamonds. South toiled on, but he was eventually down two.

MATCH THE MOVE

South should expect the opponents to refuse the first diamond, but he can match this move with one of his own. When South leads the low diamond at the second trick, he should play a low diamond from the dummy as well.

This play, known as a "duck," forces East to take the first diamond since he cannot gain anything by refusing it. If East returns a spade (as good a defense as any), South takes the ace of spades and leads his other diamond to dummy's king.

MUST WIN

East must win with the ace of diamonds, and now the rest of dummy's suit is good. South gets to dummy with the king of spades to cash the queen of diamonds and then three more diamond tricks. South scores 830 points instead of losing 200.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one club, and partner has responded one spade.

It is up to you again, holding:
♠ A Q J
♥ A J 9 2
♦ 6 3
♣ A K 3 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

An experienced partner will treat this "reverse" bid as a force for one round. You are reluctant to raise spades very energetically with only three-card support; and you cannot jump in notrump without a diamond stopper. The heart bid is about the only remaining possibility.

School Busing Plan Voted In Richmond

The two-way busing is to start in September at eight schools and is aimed at reducing the Negro population of Pullman and Peres elementary schools to not more than 38 per cent.

Bales To Report On Probe Rules

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales is scheduled to discuss procedures used in investigating absent fathers at Tuesday's meeting of the Task Force on Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Room 400 of the Civic Center.

Mothers in the AFDC program have complained that procedures used by the district attorney's investigators are humiliating and degrading.

Rev. John J. O'Connor of St. Isabella's Church will discuss a Senate bill which would set up family courts in each county to handle domestic relations cases.

Rafferty Tells State's Gains In Integration

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty says that California leads the nation in integrating its schools, textbooks and school administration.

Rafferty told a meeting yesterday of the California School Administrators Association that its members often forget that "momentous progress has been made" while they are preoccupied with day-to-day problems.

Sex education and sensitivity training courses should be voluntary if offered in public schools, Rafferty said.

Sensitivity courses, which aim at increasing a person's awareness of other people's needs and motives for acting, are offered by some California schools and are included in some teacher training programs.

Seven years ago, Rafferty said, Negro Associate Superintendent Wilson Riles considered integration of school facilities the greatest problem facing the state's schools.

The problem last year, he added, was finding enough minority teachers to meet the demand.

Rafferty said that textbooks used in the state had until recently "almost ignored" Negroes and "gave the Mexican-American even less attention."

Books now being used treat the minority races fairly, he said.

Seven years ago, Rafferty said, there was only one minority group member employed by the state Department of Education in a professional capacity.

Now, he said, 13 per cent of the staff is Negro and 5 per cent is Mexican-American.

Auto Makers Tally Good Sales Volume

DETROIT (UPI)—American auto builders sold 2,030,437 new cars in the first three months of 1969—the third best first quarter in industry history—and predict the rest of the year will be at least as good.

The sales mark was just slightly above the 2,020,690 sold during the first quarter of last year, but Ford Motor Co. sales then were inflated as the second largest automaker recovered from the effects of a three-month strike.

Industry giant General Motors Corp. led the upswing in sales, recording 1,090,265 cars against 1,008,475 in the first three months of 1968. It was an increase of 8.1 per cent for G.M. while the other three auto companies were showing slight declines.

Chrysler Corp. sales of 333,997 in the quarter were the third best in the company's history, behind the first quarters of 1968 when 373,883 cars were sold and 1966 when the company had sales of 366,925.

Ford sales totaled 540,463 as compared with 574,244 in the first three months of 1968 when the company worked overtime to fill orders taken during the extended shutdown.

Houseboat And Homes Burglarized

A houseboat at Gate 6 near Sausalito belonging to Richard Power Jr. was burglarized Monday, sheriff's officers said yesterday. Taken were a portable television set, stereo tuner and speakers, a typewriter and a camera.

Other recent burglaries reported to the sheriff's department include one Sunday at the home of John K. Phillips at 367 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, where thieves took a radio and stereo equipment.

On the same day Phillip H. Parker of 701 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, said that someone had stolen a radio speaker from his garage.

Joseph M. Teixeira, of 211 Corrillo Drive, Rafael Meadows, reported to sheriff's officers that a truck belonging to the county which was parked outside his home Saturday had a wind-wing smashed and sunglasses, a hunting spotlight, raincoat and jacket taken from it.

Jupiter Is Largest Solar System Planet

By SHERMAN WALKER

The largest planet in the solar system is Jupiter. Although its density is very low, it is still 317 times the size of the earth in mass and is 1,300 times the earth's size in volume.

It is large and gaseous and turns so rapidly that it shows a definite flattening at the poles due to the centrifugal force. It is assumed that the surface we see, down to a depth of at least 1,000 miles, is either gaseous or slushy.

The diameter of the planet at its equator is 88,600 miles. It is not only bigger than any other planet in mass or volume, but is bigger than all the others together.

There is a great deal of difference in the surface gravity at its equator and its poles. This is due to the eliptic shape, making its surface at the poles closer to the center, which would lessen the force of gravity at the surface on the equator. This results in a 15 per cent difference.

Jupiter rotates on its axis more rapidly than any other planet, but the time cannot be given with extreme accuracy because different points on the surface rotate at slightly different speeds and even the same spot at different times shows small changes.

It was assumed that Jupiter must have some light of its own, but this has been overruled now. When one of Jupiter's moons is eclipsed, it does not seem to receive any light from any other source.

Jupiter takes almost 12 years to go around the sun. Its average distance from the sun is 483 million miles, but it can come as near to the earth as 367 million miles.

Professors' Hostility Hit By Hayakawa

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Teachers who think it's their moral obligation to be hostile "to everybody representing the establishment," are responsible for recent troubles at San Francisco State College, says Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, the school's acting president.

Professors who are "disappointed in themselves because they didn't land at Cal, Columbia or Harvard" make up the dissident minority, Hawakawa said yesterday at a luncheon of the California State College Foundation.

Their hostile attitudes towards society were passed on to students, Hayakawa said.

In criticizing hiring practices of college departments, the famed semanticist told a news conference that "you seldom see a right-wing clique these days. If you are not left-wing enough, you won't be hired at many colleges."

Hayakawa also told newsmen that he hasn't planned a move to politics despite rumors that he may seek the Democratic nomination to oppose Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., in 1970.

Coroner Slates Shooting Inquest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A coroner's inquest into the fatal shooting of a Negro teen-ager by a policeman as been set for next Thursday.

Coroner Henry Turkel called the session at the request of homicide inspector Walter Kracke as a team of police captains investigated the death Sunday of Alvert Joe Linthcome, 19.

The youth was shot by officer Gerald Roberts after he jumped from a stolen car and ran into a Hunters Point record shop. Roberts and a fellow officer chased the car at high speeds for 31 blocks in the belief it was used a few hours earlier by the killers of Sing Shim, 65, a grocer.

Greenbrae Youth Injured On Coast

Robert Dunn, 18, of 50 Almenar Drive, Greenbrae, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for bruises on the nose, left arm and right knee suffered in an accident Tuesday, the California Highway Patrol said.

Dunn was a passenger in a car driven by Paul R. Major, 36, of Box 396, Stinson Beach, when it hit an embankment on Highway 1 south of Stinson Beach at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday, according to the Highway Patrol.

High School Graduates Say They're Mostly On Target

Students who graduated from Terra Lind and San Rafael high schools last June are generally doing what they had planned to do, according to the first phase of a survey the school district hopes to continue for five years.

Last June, 727 of 816 seniors at the two high schools completed forms on their backgrounds, plans and high school careers.

In October, 703 of the same 816 young people answered a survey covering what they actually were doing.

Of the 727 students responding in June, only 123 said they did not plan to continue their education.

Students planning to attend junior colleges last spring totaled 374; this fall, 334 were actually enrolled. Sixty-eight said they planned to attend the University of California and 69 did. Students planning to attend state colleges last June totaled 73 and 53 reported in October they were enrolled.

A total of 535 students siad n October they were continuing their educations, while 604 had indicated in June they planned to go to college or another school.

Last June, 246 seniors said they were lining up full and part-time jobs for fall employment, with direct application the most used method of finding jobs.

Seventy-four students, 30.08 per cent of those responding, used direct applications, while only four students, 1.63 per cent, found jobs through the California Department of Employment.

At the time of the fall survey, 316 students responding said they were working full or part-time.

In the June survey, such topics as why students were planning to go on to school and why they had chosen the career they planned were also covered.

Of 650 students responding to a question on why they decided to continue their education, 129 or 38.86 per cent of the boys listed earning a higher income as their major reason. Only 34 or 10.69 per cent of the girls listed higher earnings as their major reason.

Conversely, only 28 of all the students said they had chosen their career because of the high income it offered. The major reason for career choice, with a total of 305 students listing it, was "personal enjoyment of fulfillment."

Girls said they planned to continue their education to secure vocational training — with 99 or 31.13 per cent giving that as their reason. Five girls said they were going on to school hoping to meet the right person to marry, while none of the boys gave that as a reason for continuing their education.

Students generally picked their school according to cost and distance from home. In June, 123 of 641 students mentioned low cost, while 160 said they chose their school because it was close to home.

Students were also asked to evaluate their high school courses in relation to further education. Some 222 said physical education was the least help, followed by foreign languages with 137 listing it.

Most frequently mentioned as subjects students wished they had taken were business education, 244; social science, 195, and science, 164.

In another category, the least liked course was mathematics; the most liked, social science.

Asked about extracurricular activities, students responded with sports — 335 said they had participated; 253 said they wished they had. Only 35 reported participating in student government and 88 said they felt it would have been worthwhile.

Evaluation of high school instruction was also included in the June survey.

Teachers rated highest in helping to develop and use basic mathematical skills, understand the principles and practices of the American form of government and understanding local, national and world conditions and problems.

Students said teachers were of little or no help in teaching students how to conduct their own business affairs, how to budget money wisely or in preparations for marriage and family affairs.

Students rated counselors most helpful in selecting useful courses and learning about and planning for college entrance; least helpful in learning how to get a job, learning how to handle personal problems and how to use spare time.

In most cases students indicated they wished teachers and counselors had been more helpful.

Vagrancy Arrests

HELSINKI, Finaldn (UPI)—The Helsinki police reported they arrested 1,383 persons for vagrancy in 1968. In addition, 251 youths under 18 were arrested for living a "life resembling vagrancy."

FIRST IN MARIN

Tam History Students Pen Own Textbook

By ALAN JONES

What do you do when there's no textbook for your class? Have the students write their own.

That's what Tamalpais High School students do in their Marin history class, and instructor George Irvin says it has a lot of advantages.

For one thing, there isn't any comprehensive written history of Marin. And the students, instead of dutifully absorbing someone else's knowledge, get to go out and dig up information for themselves. In the process they learn about sources, research and bibliography as well as Marin.

The course started in summer school two years ago and was introduced into the regular school year last spring. Last year's class produced a thick mimeographed book crammed with information about Mission San Rafael Arcangel, Sausalito, ferries, West Marin, Miwok Indians, early-day land barons, the Portuguese Pentecost festival in Sausalito and much more.

This year's class of 30 students is amending and improving last year's publication and adding new chapters of its own on such subjects as Angel Island, the history of Marin schools, Marin County dairies and the Southern Marin forts.

Like most of California, Marin has its wild and woolly past, but professional historians rarely concentrate on something so small as a county — unless it's Cook County, Illinois, or Wayne County, Michigan.

Local historians, the class found, usually concentrate on areas of special interest or a small segment of the county. It is up to the students to assemble what they find in books, pamphlets and verbal recollections into a coherent county history.

This year, Irvin said, speakers in the class have included Marin historians such as Lucretia Little, Gloria Melbostad, Salem Rice, Mary Hill, John A. Thomson and Thomas J. Barfield — each highly knowledgeable about some part of Marin's past.

By way of procedure, each student selects a topic and writes his own chapter — sometimes in plainer language than a professional would use.

The chapter on Sausalito, for instance, opens with an incontestable observation: "Sausalito has a lot going for it."

Another chapter in describing Stinson Beach notes "the spit of Stinson Beach creeps right up to the shores of Bolinas but it doesn't quite make it."

The students have dug up some little-known facts, too — such as the history of the abandoned copper mines in Bolinas Ridge, and the logging industry around Bolinas which eroded the hills and helped silt the once-navigable lagoon.

The chapter bibliographies list many Independent-Journal articles and the names of familiar Marin historians such as Florence Donnelly, Helen Bingham, Helen B. Kerr, and Kenneth Lamott, and organizations such as the Marin County Historical Society and the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society.

"One of the most exciting things," Irvin said, "is when the kids find out something about the place they live" such as an old deed to the house they live in, or an ancestor's death certificate in an ancient city hall file.

The students have had to fight some obstacles other scholars avoid. The California Historical Society Library in San Francisco and the Bancroft Library in Berkeley refused permission for the students to use their materials, Irvin noted.

James Earl Ray Hires Third Lawyer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray has hired a third lawyer, this time in an effort to help him win a new trial in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. King was assassinated in Memphis a year ago tomorrow.

State Corrections Commissioner Harry S. Avery said today Richard J. Ryan of Memphis, previously turned away by prison officials, has been hired by Ray to represent him in criminal matters. There was no word when Ryan might seek to visit Ray again.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Snoring One Of World's Most Controversial Afflictions

VAN DELLEN

Laugh and the world laughs with you — snore and you sleep alone. The real victim of snoring is the listener, and we pity those contending with a rip-roarer who reaches intensities that equal a pneumatic drill (70 db.).

A widow who shall go unnamed is the exception. She lamented that snoring is the sweetest sound this side heaven. We assume that she was not stone deaf, or had a pet with a blunt nose such as the bulldog.

THE NOISE STEMS from a vibration of the soft palate or of the faucial pillars along the opening of the throat. It is similar to that created by a flag flapping in the wind, or a clarinet reed.

Snorts usually are produced during inspiration and stop when the individual awakens. An increase in the force of the air stream intensifies the sound. A reservoir of air in the nose and throat is necessary for a perfect snore, and explains why the concertizing is louder when the nose is partially obstructed.

REMOVING THE TONSILS and adenoids often corrects snoring in children under the age of 10. In others, allergy plays a role. A deviated septum, a correctable defect, may be responsible in some adults. Now and then collapse of the nostrils during inspiration creates a partial nasal obstruction, a common cause of snoring in oldsters. Other factors are involved, but despite the many possibilities, the condition may be difficult to correct.

Hundreds of antisnoring devices are available, but these are of little value unless the circumstances surrounding the din are known. Does it occur while sleeping on the back, with the mouth open or shut, etc.?

Collapse of the nostrils can be helped via self-massage and the avoidance of sniffing.

NASAL DECONGESTANTS help whe nthe nose is stuffy. For those who snore only when sleeping on the back, there are many gadgets which can be sewn on the back of the pajamas. Women should avoid sleeping with large hair curlers on the side. Chin straps may keep the mouth shut. An orthodontic device is also available. The listener may benefit by wearing ear plugs.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

DERANGED PIGMENT CELLS

REPLY

A melanoma is a skin cancer involving the pigment cells. The brownish lesion usually occurs in an irritated mole. Like other skin malignancies, it may spread to deeper tissues or more distant organs.

NIGHTLY SIX-PACK

A. S. writes: Can a 52-year-old women in seemingly normal health, drink a six-pack of beer every night without harmful effects?

REPLY

Yes, but 9 times out of 10, the habit encourages weight gain. In my opinion, the main danger to drinking six cans of beer is that there is a tendency to switch to hard liquor and become a heavy social drinker.

DOESN'T NEED 'PILL'

M. writes: Isn't it silly for a 54-year-old woman who has not menstruated for more than eight years to take birth control pills?

REPLY

Yes, this may be carrying caution too far.

TREATING SORE BACK

T. L. writes: Is a hot water bag or a heating pad better for a sore back?

REPLY

HEART VALVE REPAIR

Mrs. M. writes: My husband needs heart valve repair. Is this a serious operation?

REPLY

Such operations are serious but, when done by a skillful cardiac surgeon, the mortality is less than 5 per cent. Consider the alternative; the risk is worth taking.

PILES AND SURGERY

REPLY

No, but surgery will prevent problems in the future.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Arsenic' Version Not Up To Movie

By RICK DU BROW

It is a wild farce that gains its charm from the sweetly innocent and daft couple of old ladies who happen to poison elderly gentlemen to give them peace and tranquility, and then bury them in the cellar.

Apparently the fact that "Arsenic and Old Lace" has done pretty well on its own all these years—note the television reruns of the movie—was not enough for the adapter-producer of last night's two-hour ABC-TV version, Luther Davis.

SCRIPT ERRORS

He felt it necessary to alter the incomparable script, to jazz it up with attempts at being very contemporary. It was, shall we say, not the wisest decision ever made in video.

An example of the updating is that the male lead, the frantically worried nephew of the old ladies, was changed from a drama critic to a television critic. His fiancee, meanwhile, was switched from a minister's daughter to a hip television actress, on a show named "Homicide," no less. Well, as anyone surely can see, these changes were monumentally necessary.

MOOD RUPTURED

Naturally the new version started with a prolonged discotheque scene. And by the time yesterday's "Arsenic and Old Lace" was five minutes old, it was, for all practical purposes, over, the mood ruptured, the direction of the piece roughly 180 degrees off.

I don't mean to be unkind, because I honestly don't enjoy writing a rap review, but I confess that my love for the original work simply made it impossible for me to watch the video version to the end. I simply tuned out with about 20 minutes to go, and tried to figure out what had happened.

The first thing is that the production was reduced to the dimension and flavor of a situation comedy. There was, alas, a laugh track—an indication that someone at the network had already thrown in the towel. At one point, there was an inexplicable shot of an audience as if to prove there was no laugh track. It was not very convincing proof.

Then there was the pace of director Robert Scheerer. He seemed unable to be convinced that "Arsenic and Old Lace" is not merely comedy, but farce. Farce. Farce. So, played, as it was, at a normal pace, it was slow, slow, slow. There was no bubbly feeling as the production remained earthbound. The lines were telegraphed, the performances overplayed.

Where Cary Grant was hilarious in his extreme agitation and disbelief, Bob Crane, in yesterday's production, was, by comparison, just another upset guy. And as the pivotal old lady, Helen Hayes' essential solidness and certainty rendered her not nearly ffightly enough to save the day, as the play demanded. Lillian Gish portrayed the other sister.

Bradley Gains Backing In Drive Against Yorty

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A retired Negro policeman seeking to unseat Mayor Sam Yorty today picked up the support of Los Angeles' largest newspaper, and predictions of backing from organized labor.

Yorty and City Councilman Thomas Bradley mutually accused each other of introducing the race issue into the runoff campaign for mayor May 27.

They emerged as the two top vote getters in a field of 14 candidates in Tuesday's municipal election.

With only 14 of Los Angeles' 2,888 precincts unreported, Bradley had amassed almost 42 per cent of the vote in the city where around 12 per cent of the registered voters are black. Yorty got 26 per cent of the vote.

Television newsman Baxter Ward got 16.5 per cent, and Republican Congressman Alphonso Bell about 14 per cent. There were 10 other candidates on the ballot, none of whom got 1 per cent of the vote.

The Los Angeles Times, which backed Yorty four years ago, endorsed Bradley in today's edition.

"Yorty accused Bradley of making 'a great racist appeal' for votes and implied that the councilman's strength lay in the black community," the Times said. "That is arrant nonsense. Bradley's appeal was broad-based. A majority of his votes came from non-black areas of the city."

Before Tuesday's primary, Bradley had the support of the United Auto Workers and several other AFL-CIO unions. However, the AFL-CIO itself made no endorsement, nor did the Teamsters.

Parks Tour Slated For Petaluma

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission last night decided to begin preparation of a priority list for park development with a joint tour of parks May 7 with the city council.

Richard W. Shollenberger, recreation director, said he would prepare a general outline of immedaite and long-range park needs to begin discussion at the meeting.

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission also:

LOITERING — Discussed the problem of 20 or 25 Kenilworth Junior High School students who loiter and litter each morning before school at the Kenilworth Pool area. It was reported that City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer has asked the police to install a "no loitering" sign.

BOXING — Decided the department should not sponsor the proposed Petaluma Junior Olympics boxing team. Noting costs have been estimated at between $1,200 and $1,500, the commission decided it did not have the funds, lacked training facilities and might duplicate a program of the boys' club.

BASEBALL SAFARI — Heard a report that arrangements have been mdae to have youngsters from the recreation department and boys' club attend San Francisco Giants baseball games on June 19 and July 17. A minimum charge will be made for transportation.

MINUTES — Agreed to the request of the East Petaluma Civic Association that it receive minutes of commission meeting to better understand new developments and to plan activities.

DUTIES — Asked Shollenberger to obtain copies of the duties and responsibilities of neighboring recreation commissions so a comparison might be made.

Food Stamps Plan Begins For Marin

The food stamp program opened in Marin County this week with 530 families participating and 150 more applications pending.

The program, sponsored by the Department of Agriculture, allows families on public aid or on marginal income to purchase food stamps at a discount and thus increase their purchasing power.

Donald M. Sanford, administrative deputy in the Department of Public Social Services, announced that Crocker Citizens National Bank and Wells Fargo Bank now are selling the food stamps, and Bank of America will begin selling them next month.

The Department of Public Social Services, which administers the program, will conduct public briefings in various communities each Monday, beginning April 7 and continuing through May 26. The briefings are aimed at low-income households not on welfare and who may be able to benefit from the use of food stamps.

This is the briefing schedule:

APRIL 7 — Two briefings at 10 a.m., one at San Anselmo city hall and the other in San Rafael at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. demonstration room, Third and Brooks streets.

APRIL 14 — Corte Madera, Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, 2 Tamalpais Avenue, 10 to 11:30 a.m.; Mill Valley Recreation Center, 1 to 2:30 p.m.

APRIL 21 — Fairfax Women's Club, 46 Park Road, 10 to 11:30 a.m.; San Rafael, PG&E demonstration room, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

APRIL 28 — Marin City, St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Drake at Donahue streets, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

MAY 5 — Tiburon City Hall, 10 to 11:30 a.m.; Larkspur City Hall, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

MAY 12 — Novato Community House, 906 Machin Street, 10 to 11:30 a.m.; Lagunitas Elementary School auditorium, 7 to 8:3: p.m.; Tomales Elementary School library, 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Congress Lists War Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of 2,148 more U.S. casualties of the Vietnam war were placed in the Congressional Record today by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill.

Findley earlier had placed in the record the names and hometowns of the 31,379 American servicemen killed in Vietnam from the outset of the war through the end of January. That list covered 121 pages.

McCovey Ready For Giants' Opener

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Willie McCovey is ready.

The 6-foot-4 first baseman of the San Francisco Giants sharpened his batting eye to a razor's edge yesterday by drilling two home runs, including a grand slam, in the Giants' 9-2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians at Shreveport, La.

Juan Marichal was to pitch for the Giants today against the brilliant Luis Tiant in the exhibition series windup with Cleveland at Memphis. San Francisco has beaten the Indians five out of seven games this spring with one tie. And Cleveland is no patsy, either, with its 15-12-1 spring mark.

McCovey is banging the ball at a .415 clip this spring in leading the Giants, now 18-6-1, with 20 rbi's.

Maybe even more important than McCovey's slugging was a single and walk by Jimmy Hart. The stubby belter has been out with a groin injury, but said he felt fine yesterday.

Gaylord Perry probably earned the second pitching assignment next Tuesday at Atlanta by going seven strong innings. Although he got belted hard his last time out, Perry is 5-1 for the spring while the loser was Sonny Siebert, a Cleveland front-liner who got whacked hard.

Bobby Bonds also hit a round-tripper for San Francisco.

Hart wasn't the only man to come back strong. Rich Robertson rejoined the team after a Los Angeles doctor looked at his sore knee. He said it felt "pretty good."

With Robertson back, it means the Giants are two over the opening day limit. One of the cuts should be Kenny Henderson, now under a doctor's care with hamstring pulls. He's not expected to play anywhere for three more weeks.

TWO MARIN GOLFERS LEADING BYU TEAM

Two former Marin County high school stars are leading the Brigham Young University team after the first round of the three-day Far West Intercollegiate Golf Tournament played yesterday at Santa Cruz.

Don Hawken, San Rafael High alumnus, shot a 74 yesterday while Ray Leach of Novato was one stroke behind at 75.

HERB MICHELSON

Bauer Fits Image Of Tough Marine

OAKLAND — The image makers needn't bother with Hank Bauer. He has done quite nicely for himself, thank you.

Everything about the A's manager is steely — the graying, bristly crew cut, the flinty, distant gaze, the harsh, sandpaper voice. Bauer is all done up in Marine Modern, and it fits. He was heroic in the military, bold on the playing field, gutsy as a team boss.

Quite a change from Bob Kennedy, who came across as Concerned Colonial. Kennedy always appeared sad, although there was no reason for his glumness up until the day Charlie Finley fired him. Kennedy did very well with what he had. But not very, very well — which is Bauer's current burden.

He Was Polite, Charming

On the perplexing exhibition swing into the A's hometown last weekend, Bauer sat solitarily in the dugout while his lads exerted themselves in pre-game muscle toning. He was polite, as charming as he'd been in Arizona. All he asked was that the press not get in his line of vision. What a manager watches druing fielding and batting practice is best known to managers. Perhaps they do nothing more than make certain their chattel isn't loafing.

A stranger interrupted the silence of the steely gaze to inquire: "Worried about your pitching, Skip?" (Incidentally, I am never confortable calling a manager Skip or Skipper, although nearly all players do — when they don't refer to him as The Man or The Boss. Yet, when you say Skip you feel rather good, or intimate, or that you belong. So much for the dugout dictionary.)

'Let's Just Say Concerned'

"Well," come the slow sandpapery answer, "let's just say I'm concerned." Concern indeed! Throughout the spring, Mister Bauer's four starters have been crushed, demolished, devastated, driven from the mound day after day in abject horror.

The springtime earned run averages of Messers, Dobson, Nash Odom and Hunter, the starting mound quartet, have been obscenities. If my arm were in shape (there are these calcium deposits in the elbow, you see), I might open against the White Sox in the Coliseum next Tuesday evening.

"What's their problem?" was the inquiry to Bauer.

"They're all wild high. The lower mound, I guess." Which translates: Because the pitcher is throwing from a five-inch lower elevation, he's forgetting to compensate. Or something.

It's A Convenient Excuse

"Then there's this other reason: They all complain their pitches don't break in Arizona," said Bauer. Translation: The air is so thin the curve won't curve. Further translation: It's a convenient excuse.

Of all the Athletic hurlers, only ace firemen Lew Krause and young Rollie Fingers (a perfectly named pitcher) have been in the least bit impressive. And without a lot of rain, it may be difficult to survive a season with a two-man pitching staff. Ten Fingers and no ten Fingers.

Lakers Roll Over Ice-Cold Warriors

Series Even At 2-2

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "When the good shooters are dropping them in," said Nate Thurmond, "it's bad."

The Los Angeles Lakers' good shooters were dropping them in all last night, while the San Francisco Warriors' good shooters — right along with their not so good ones — were missing everything in sight.

By the time the buzzer mercifully called an end to the debacle, played before 14,812 in the Cow Palace, the Lakers had yawned their way to a 103-88 victory and knotted the National Basketball Association Western Division playoff series at two games each.

ADVANTAGE

The Lakers, once two games down, now have a decided advantage. Two of the next three games, if three are needed, will be played in Los Angeles, the next one set for there tomorrow night.

The Warriors hit only a pathetic 30.7 per cent of their shots, while the Lakers had a more respectable 43.3 mark.

Actually only the first 4½ minutes of the second quarter were necessary. The Warriors could have given up after that.

The Lakers scored the first 16 points in that period, running up a 41-16 lead before the Warriors broke the ice.

Not until the end did the Warriors begin to catch up, and only when both benches were empty.

SHOW THEM

"There's a lot of psychology in the first quarter. If you get off to a good start shooting and rebounding, it can go a long way."

Warrior guard Jeff Mullins, who injured a knee in the third game of the series, started last night but was quickly withdrawn from the game when it became evident his mobility had been hampered.

"I hurt the team on defense," said Mullins, the starter in the first two Warrior victories. "I couldn't cover Jerry West the way I did the first games."

36 FOR WEST

West led both teams in scoring with 36 points, while rookie Fritz Williams topped the Warriors with only 16.

REMATCH TONIGHT

Overtime: Kings Turn Back Seals

By DAVID DIETZ

OAKLAND — "We gave them the game," said Oakland Seals coach Fred Glover in bereavement. "We came up flatter than a pancake.

"We had a bad night. The problem was in our own end. Why, in the third period we must have hit Los Angeles players with 10 consecutive passes."

Glover spoke in a quiet dressing room last night moments after the Kings' Ted Irvine had swatted in a rebound after only 19 seconds of a sudden death overtime to give Los Angeles a 5-4 victory in the opening of a Western Division semifinal match in National Hockey League Stanley Cup competition. The Oakland Arena crowd was only 5,449.

TONIGHT

The Seals will seek to even the best-of-seven series tonight at 8 o'clock at the Coliseum Arena.

Irvine's winning goal came from a scramble in front of the net.

"I just banged at it," he said, receiving congratulations from Los Angeles coach Red Kelly. "Someone shouted the puck was down by his pad and I just swung at it."

Kelly, praising his team, said, "They worked up and down the ice all night. It was a great effort. We're now at least guaranteed of a split here in Oakland and that puts a little pressure on them."

BEATS SMITH

Los Angeles did not lead until the third period. With Oakland ahead, 3-2, Eddie Joyal, the King's fleet, high-scoring center, beat Oakland goalie Gary Smith twice within four minutes for a 4-3 Los Angeles lead.

Gene Ubriaco's 30-footer for Oakland with less than three minutes to play in regulation time sent the game into overtime.

50-FOOTER

Oakland was ahead, 2-1, after the first period on goals by Earl Ingarfield — a 50-footer which glanced off goalie Jerry Desjardins' glove — and Joe Szura, who beat Desjardins cleanly from 40 feet.

Rookie Gary Croteau, who recently graduated from St. Lawrence University, got the Los Angeles goal, his first of two for the night. His second tied the score at 2-2, but Oakland struck back when defenseman Francois Lacombe's shot from near midice caromed off Desjardins' replacement, Wayne Rutledge, into the net.

PULLED MUSCLE

Seals Gen. Mgr. Frank Selke said Oakland seemed listless and tense.

"We didn't hit anybody all night," he said. "They wanted it more than we did. Checking is the secret and we didn't do it. They pressed us pretty good."

Oakland captain Ted Hampson, on whom falls the job of lifting his team after a defeat, said, "We're down, naturally, but I think tomorrow night we'll be up again."

Warriors Win Flip To Pick Seventh

CINNCINNATI (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors won a coin flip against Cincinnati Royals yesterday for the right to pick seventh Monday in the National Basketball Association's telephone draft.

Both clubs finished with a 41-41 record and they split the season series 3-3. The Royals will make the eighth selection.

Novato's Streak Broken At Nine

That old adage that "you can't win 'em all" finally became a reality for the Novato High School varsity baseball team yesterday.

After nine consecutive victories, Coach Bob Aune's Hornets finally tasted defeat, 2-0, to the Terra Nova Tigers in the semifinals of the Terra Nova High School Invitational Tournament in Pacifica.

SHAKY START

The Hornets were to play today for third place in consolation round against an opponent yet to be determined.

Novato ace left-hander Russ Dillion got off to a shaky start yesterday when Terra Nova touched him for three hits, a walk and two runs in the first two innings. That was the ball game, although Dillon pitched well enough to win most games, giving up a total of four hits while striking out nine and walking three.

THREATEN

Novato threatened to score in the second inning on singles by Steve Majka and Bog Helbing, but Terra Nova's Bill Burgess escaped further damage. Only other hits by Novato, both singles, were by Dee Fedrick and Barry Beringer.

Only other Marin County Athletic League team still active in Easter Week tournament action is Terra Linda whose Trojans were to play Sacred Heart of San Francisco this afternoon in the South S.F. Tournament.

Dick Green On Inside Track For A's Job

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — Although no one has said it officially, put it down that Dick Green has won the second base job with the Oakland A's.

Green, a stickout hitter all spring, didn't hurt his chances any yesterday when he homered in an 8-4 victory over the San Diego Padres at Mesa. The two clubs met here again today.

Green has been in competition with John Donaldson and Ted Kubiak for the second base job. Donaldson is a sure handed fielder, as is Kubiak, but neither can hit as consistently—or as long for that matter—as Green.

The A's made news on several fronts yesterday.

At home in Oakland, it was announced that the entire 1969 season will be played in memory of Connie Mack, founder, owner and manager of the club for more than 50 years while it was based in Philadelphia.

Also, Bobby Hoffman, the club's first base coach, became a serious casualty when he stopped a foul line drive off the bat of Sal Bando during the first inning of yesterday's game with the Padres.

He was taken to a Mesa hospital in an ambulance and was reported to have suffered a broken nose. A's officials expected him to rejoin the club today but he probably will remain on the bench for several days.

In still another move, the A's cut four pitchers to get down to the opening day player limit of 25.

Jack Baldschun, Cincinnati property who joined the A's on a trial basis, was one of the pitchers released. He immediately hooked on with the Padres, also on a trial basis. If he fails to make the expansion club, he returns to the Reds, who more than likely would assign him to the minors.

Also cut were pitchers Vida Blue, Gil Blanco and George Lauzerique. All three went to Des Moines of the American Association on option.

Game Rescheduled

The Oakland Oaks and Los Angeles Stars have rescheduled their last game of the season for tomorrow night. The American Basketball Association match was to have been played tonight in Oakland, but conflicted with the National Hockey League playoff game between Oakland and Los Angeles.

Toronto's Kennedy On Carpet

MONTREAL (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said he would conduct a hearing this afternoon in Boston into an attack by Toronto center Forbes Kennedy on a linesman in last night's Toronto-Boston playoff game. (See picture on page 32.)

Kennedy knocked down linesman George Ashley late in the third period of the game in Boston after squaring off with Bruins goaltender Gerry Cheevers. Kennedy received a minor, two majors and a game misconduct for his role in the skirmish.

Boston walloped Toronto 10-0 in the penalty-studded first game of the NHL East Division best-of-seven semifinal series.

Giant Bolin Coming Off Good '68 Finish

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Bob Bolin is a master of capsule comments. He has an ability to sum up a complete season in a pithy phrase. He invariably makes himself the butt of the comment that always is touched with just a tinge of irony.

"I won the hang-in-there title," said Bolin following the 1966 season in which he completed 10 games but wound up with a mediocre 11-10 record that belied a commendable 2.89 ERA over 224 innings in 36 games.

IN 1967 even BB found it difficult to comment about his pitching because that year was his worst since the Giants promoted him in 1961 from their farm system to the big team. "Just forget it," said Bolin in referring to a 6-8 record and 4.88 ERA.

Last year was one of Bolin's best once he got a chance to pitch. He did not become a starter until July 31. All but two of his wins in a 10-5 record came as a starter. In the last two months of the season, Bolin started 13 games, won 6, completed 5 and finished with an ERA of 1.98.

BOLIN'S ERA throughout the 1968 campaign was consistent and only four times during the season did he yield more than two earned runs in a game. Why wasn't his record better than 10-5? Here are a couple of examples that answer that.

On Sept. 18 Bolin was a 2-0 loser to St. Louis and Ray Washburn who no-hit the Giants on their home lot in Candlestick Park. It just about takes a no-hitter for Bolin to lose to the Cardinals against whom he has been most effective (lifetime 9-4).

"I'M LIKE A USED car," said Bolin in reference to the 1968 season. "You don't want to run it very much because it might break down. But if you want to take a long trip you have to drive it."

Now, Bolin is starting his ninth major league season with the Giants. Thus far, he hasn't been impressive in spring exhibition games. He finds it difficult to get excited about the exhibitioners. He regards them, as most ball players do, as games designed to sharpen pitching and hitting.

THIS SPRING Bolin's back has been bothering him a bit but he says it hasn't interfered with his throwing. Clyde King, the new rookie boss of the Giants, told Bolin that he has seen him throw much more effectively. "He hasn't been throwing like he can," said King.

Bolin blazed the ball during his first three years in the big time. He had only one pitch then — fast ball. He since has added a slider and a changeup curve. He has had trouble getting his changeup over this spring.

Bolin still has no effective pickoff move to first base — or any other base, for that matter. In his first outing this spring, base thieves stole second twice and third once on him. Nobody has stolen home yet on Bolin. That would be just too much of an effrontery.

Lew Puts End To Bidding War, Signs With Bucks

BEVERLEY HILLS (AP) — The bidding war for the services of UCLA's Lew Alcindor has officially ended with the 7-foot-1½ center signing a Milwaukee Bucks contract and announcing he'll change his style of play.

With contentment etched on his face, a poised Alcindor autographed a document yesterday that would make him a millionaire and, reportedly, a part owner in the National Basketball Association expansion team.

NOT DISCLOSED

Terms of the contract were not disclosed by John Erickson, the Bucks' vice president and general manager, who said "This contract is very fair."

Lew said he chose the NBA's Milwaukee "because their offer was more stable and more lucrative" than one by the American Basketball Association.

Asked if Lew also received stock in the contract, Erickson said, "I have no comment to make about that."

The signing came less than two weeks after Lew had led UCLA to a history-making third straight national collegiate title. He did it with what his college Coach John Wooden called "a most unselfish attitude." Will that style of play change?

"I have a few ideas of my own about playing in the pros," said Alcindor.

SOME WORK

"I'm going to work out on my own this summer—before I go to camp. I've got a few things to work on, things I haven't tried before."

He said some of the centers in the league use moves toward the basket that are "too rudimentary" and he said he would try to be a little more of "a freelancer." He indicated that variety would be the spice of his game.

Aaron Wins Greensboro Pro-Am

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Tommy Aaron shot a 65, six-under-par, to win top prize of $750 yesterday in the $7,500 Pro-Amateur preceding the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament which started today.

Aaron finished one stroke ahead of three other pros. Al Geiberger, Don January and Don Bies each won $563 for their second place tie.

BOWLING

AKRON, Ohio — Dick Weber of St. Louis, the only professional bowler to have earned $300,000 in official winnings, took a 26-pin lead in the PBA's Firestone Open, with a sizzling 223 average for 16 games.

HORSE RACING

ARCADIA — Schatzi Pie, $20.40, broke on top and led all the way in the Fresno Fair Purse at Santa Anita.

Knicks Make Sweep Over 'Champ' Bullets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willis Reed did his homework and as a result the Baltimore Bullets are wearing the National Basketball Association's dunce cap today.

Reed, burly 6-foot-10 center of the New York Knickerbockers, poured in a club playoff record 43 points last night, pacing the third-place Knicks to a 115-108 triumph over the pennant-winning Bullets that completed a four-game sweep of their Eastern Division semifinal series.

TO FINALS

The Knicks move into the Eastern finals against the survivor of the Boston-Philadelphia series, which resumes tomorrow night in Philadelphia.

Reed hit on 15 of 29 shots as he erased Cazzie Russell's Knick playoff standard of 40 points.

"I stopped him in the first two games," said Baltimore's Ray Scott of Reed, "but he's a great player and he goes home and does his homework. He studies the man who's guarding him.

"In the first two games I had him going to my strength, away from the basket, but tonight he used his great strength more. He moved me closer to the basket and then, when he gets off, there's nothing you can do to stop the guy."

EXPLOSION

Scott limited Reed to 35 points in the first two games, but was overwhelmed for 35 in the third game before last night's explosion.

"If you get the ball in the right spot at the right moment nobody can stop you," Reed explained.

It was the first time the Knicks have ever won four straight playoff games while the proud Bullets, who climbed from last place to first in one year, became the first division champion to be swept in four games.

FIRST 12

Baltimore stunned the Knicks by scoring the first 12 points. But the New Yorkers trailed by only 29-25 after one period and it was nip-and-tuck until they went ahead to stay 77-75 on Bill Bradley's basket.

Reed then took over. His bucket gave the Knicks an 86-82 lead and he added seven more points as they increased the spread to 99-87, then fought off a late Baltimore comeback.

Cal Denies Any Coach Decision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Examiner said yesterday that California assistant track coach Dave Maggard would soon be named head coach, but the school denied any decision had been made.

Maggard, 29, who made the U.S. Olympic team as a shot putter last year, will be named to replace Sam Bell, who is leaving Cal to become track coach at Indiana, the paper said.

Stan Wright, assistant U.S. Olympic coach, and Olympic hammer thrower Harold Connolly, have both said they would be interested in the job.

Clendenon Ends Short Retirement, Inks Pact

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Donn Clendenon is back with Montreal, Bill White is back with St. Louis and Bo Belinsky is back in the news.

Those developments overshadowed the action on the exhibition baseball playing fields yesterday.

Clendenon ended his brief retirement and signed a two-year contract with the Expos. The controversial trade involving Rusty Staub and Clendenon, which turned out not to involve Clendenon, was completed today. The Astros obtained pitchers John Billingham and Skip Guinn plus an undisclosed amount of money from the Montreal Expos.

FROM PHILS

The Cardinals reacquired first baseman White from the Philadelphia Phillies for infielder Jerry Buchek and chatcher Jim Hutto. White will be primarily a pinch hitter.

Belinsky was given a mild sedative at a St. Petersburg, Fla. hospital, and sent back to his hotel after complaining of weakness.

"I'm sure this has been a result of all the stress and strain Bo has gone through trying to make another big league club," said Dr. William Jefferey of Mound Park Hospital. The left-handed pitcher was cut by the St. Louis Cardinals a few days ago.

Los Angeles shelled Houston 10-5 in a night exhibition, while in afternoon games St. Louis walloped Detroit 11-3, Atlanta crushed Cincinnati 10-0, Kansas City edged Philadelphia 2-0, San Francisco crushed Cleveland 9-2, Minnesota nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings.

BLANK CUBS

Also the Chicago White Sox blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0, the New York Yankees took Washington 2-1 in 10 innings, Oakland downed San Diego 8-4, California beat Seattle 6-4, Pittsburgh whipped the New York Mets 7-2 and Montreal turned back the Mets' B team 2-1.

The Dodgers broke a 2-2 tie with three runs in the fifth inning and went on to defeat the Astros. Don Drysdale started for the Dodgers but left in the fourth inning with a strained right arm.

3RD SHUTOUT

Ron Reed, Ken Johnson and George Stone limited Cincinnati to three hits in the Braves' triumph. It was the Reds' third consecutive shutout.

Cookie Rojas' first-inning single off Dave Morehead was the only Philadelphia hit as Morehead, Tom Burgmeier and Dave Wickersham blanked the Phillies for Kansas City.

Harmon Killebrew slugged his first spring homer but the Twins needed George Mitterwald's two-out, bases-loaded single in the 10th inning to shade the Red Sox.

CALLED BY RAIN

Sammy Ellis outpitched Bill Hands as the White Sox topped the Cubs in a game shortened to seven innings by rain. Frank Fernandez hammered a 10th-inning homer to nudge the Yankees by the Senators.

NHL PLAYOFFS

Bruins Maul Toronto 10-0

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Explosive Phil Esposito and the rest of the short-fuse Boston Bruins gave Toronto a dose of their specialty — plenty of fists and plenty of goals. The boisterous Bruins stormed to a 10-0 romp over the hapless Maple Leafs in the opening game of their first round National Hockey League best-of-7 Stanley Cup playoff.

In other openers, Montreal tripped New York 3-1, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 5-2 and Los Angeles outlasted Oakland 5-4 in overtime.

SIX POINTS

Esposito, who set a scoring record with an incredible 126 regular season points, tied a playoff mark with six points on four goals and two assists, leading Boston's romp. Johnny Bucyk and Derek Sanderson also had two goals apiece for the Bruins, who set a record with 303 goals during the regular season.

The Bruins, who revel in tough stuff, got plenty of action from the Maple Leafs. Referee John Ashley tagged Toronto with 76 minutes in penalties including 10 minors, five majors and three misconducts. The Bruins were well-behaved by comparison with only 56 minutes on 10 minors, four majors and one misconduct.

Pat Quinn, a rookie defenseman for the Leafs, decked Boston's Bobby Orr with an elbow that left the Bruin defenseman stretched out on the ice. When he got to the penalty box, Quinn became embroiled with fans and the Leaf bench emptied to join him in the battle. Police had to break up that confrontation.

Later, Forbes Kennedy took on Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers and all he got for his trouble was a minor, two majors and game misconduct as well as some lumps from John McKenzie, who came to Cheevers' aid.

SNAPS TIE

Ferguson shoveled a short shot past Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin just six seconds before the end of a Ranger penalty and snapped a 1-1 tie. Then Henri Richard's carom shot slid 150 feet into an empty Ranger net for the clincher with 40 seconds left and Giacomin off for an extra attacker.

INJURY

Hall, who is expected to miss tonight's second game, was hurt at 10:48 of the first period with St. Louis leading on goals by Ab McDonald and Tim Eccelstone.

Bill Sutherland beat Plante at 12:13 on a power play but then the Blues' goalie took charge and goals by Larry Keenan, Camille Henry and Terry Gray carried St. Louis to a 5-1 edge before Dick Cherry's late goal for the Flyers.

Records For Howe

DETROIT (UPI) — Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wings' star now in his 23rd season, holds nine National Hockey League individual records, including most seasons, most games and most goals.

Quarterback John Hadl Back In Chargers' Fold

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — San Diego Chargers quarterback John Hadl, who had played out his option to become a free agent, was back in the American Football League club's fold, having signed a new contract.

Hadl refused to sign the standard option clause contract in 1968 and under pro football regulations became a free agent. But the former Kansas quarterback finally reached terms with the Chargers yesterday.

Neither side would disclose details of the agreement. Hadl had asked for a three-year contract calling for more than $50,000 a year plus a $250,000 loan for investment purposes.

"The club and John are very pleased with the contract and everything else is behind us," said Charger coach-general manager Sid Gillman. "We can now start concentrating on football."

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Passing On Some Notes To Hunters, Fishermen

HIGH WATER and snow have plagued hatcheries, with some flooding at Darrah, Crystal and Mt. Shasta. However, no fish were lost and only minor damage was caused at the hatcheries, due to constant vigil of staff workers. Temperatures as low as 17 degrees below zero were recorded in eastern Siskiyou and Modoc counties.

WARDENS IN the snow country report that three hunters chasing bobcats over crusted snow have taken 86 cats since December. They pursue the animals on snowmobiles. Pelts are reported to be selling for $27.50.

A REPORT by a predator hunter that poachers had killed and dressed out an elk on the Colusa Range sent wardens to the scene. Figuring the poachers would return after dark for the meat, the wardens staked out the area and nabbed two Bay Area men attempting to transport the meat to their car in a one-wheel meat carrier. The case is pending in court.

This is the fifth elk illegally killed in Colusa County in the past six months. Arrests and convictions were obtained in four cases.

FOWL CHOLERA was confirmed in the coot population at Grizzly Island, with coot losses low and no duck losses reported to date.

LOS BANOS and Mendota Wildlife Areas were busy in February, it was revelaed this week. At Mendota, 118 hunters took 733 coots, 36 jackrabbits and one raccoon. Muskrat trappers are averaging 45 to 85 muskrats per day and to date have taken 1,500 off the area.

At Los Banos, 228 hunters took 634 coots, and at San Luis Wasteway, 36 hunters took 137 coots. One six-pound catfish was reported taken at Los Banos, despite generally poor fishing.

AS A RESULT of the oil leak in the ocean off Santa Barbara, normal Marine Patrol activities in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties came to an almost complete halt and work was confined to the spill.

Some 1,500 water birds have been affected by oil, primarily western grebes. No serious effects on marine and intertidal life have been noted so far.

TWO SEA OTTER censuses came up with counts of 983 and 770. The high of 983 compares to the previous high of 664. This does not indicate a huge increase in the population, but means that because of ideal weather conditions and improved census techniques, more animals were visible and detected at census time than at any time before. It also means that on Jan. 31, there were at least 983 sea otters in the area between Seaside and Point Estero in Southern California.

ASSEMBLYMAN Ken MacDonald, D-Ojai, recently introduced legislation requiring persons under 21 years old to successfully complete a hunter safety course before obtaining a hunting license. Present law requires the course only for persons under 18.

Persons 21 years old who have never had a hunting license would have to either pass a test or successfully complete the hunter safety course.

The bill provides for a $2 fee for all taking the course, with half the money being retained by the Instructor for reimbursement of out of pocket expenses, and the other half going to the Department of Fish and Game.

An Optimistic Salmon Report

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state's new director of fish and game said yesterday better water conditions and an increase in young fish make new salmon fishing restrictions unnecessary.

Director G. Raymond Arnett's comments to the Fish and Game Commission would reverse earlier commission policy to ask the 1969 legislature to reduce commercial salmon limits.

Arnett said he will recommend next year that the sport fishing three-salmon limit be restored. The commission cannot raise salmon sport wishing limits until formal meetings this fall.

Arnett said today that "a slight increase" of spawning fish was seen in salmon grounds after sports fishing for king salmon was reduced last fall. He also said increased water supplies will aid salmon spawning this year.

GIANTS THE PICK IN WEST

Scribe Picks Cards For Flag

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals probably won their third straight pennant last October when they acquired Vada Pinson in a deal that was announced shortly after they lost the seventh World Series game to Detroit.

The Cardinals figure to become the first team since the St. Louis clubs of the 1942-3-4 period to make it three straight in the National League.

NOT EASY

It won't be as easy as it was last year or the year before, not because the opposition will be tougher, but because of the new format adopted by the major leagues.

In addition to winning their own Eastern Division, where they will compete with Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Montreal, they must beat the winner of the Western Division in a best-of-five series to get into the series with the American League champions.

Before we get into the whys and wherefores, here's the way it looks from here in the two divisions:

East	West
1. St. Louis	1. San Francisco
2. Chicago	2. Cincinnati
3. Pittsburgh	3. Atlanta
4. Philadelphia	4. Los Angeles
5. New York	5. Houston
6. Montreal	6. San Diego

As if the Cards were not strong enough already, they come up with an all-star outfield when they added Pinson, the former Cincinnati Red, to Lou Brock and Curt Flood.

TIME WILL TELL

It remains to be seen how much the swap that brought Joe Torre to the Cards for Orlando Cepeda will mean, but a switch of uniforms often helps both parties in a case like this.

The Cards will live or die once again on the pitching of Bob Gibson, 33, who is coming off a sensational 22-9 year with a record 1.12 earned run average. Nelson Briles, Ray Washburn, Steve Carlton and probably Davie Giusti, ex-Houston Astro, will back up Gibson to form a combination that will be hard to beat.

The Cubs figure to be the only real threat in the East. Leo Durocher has that fine infield and the big bats of Ron Santo, Ernie Banks and Billy Williams. Much depends on the young pitchers behind Fergie Jenkins.

NO GAPS

Despite injuries to men like Roberto Clemente and Gene Alley, the Pittsburgh Pirates seem to have enough to beat out the Phillies and the Mets for third place although there does not appear to be any real big gap.

The Pirates count heavily on rookies at first and third and must get big years from pitchers Bob Veale and Steve Blass and hope for a comeback by Jim Bunning. Richie Allen is the key to the Phils, who are short on pitching and also lean hard on new people like Don Money and Larry Hisle.

The Mets have largely the same club, but may have improved pitching from Jim McAndrew and rookie Gary Gentry. Gil Hodges has the club hustling but they still won't score many runs. Montreal has to be last as an expansion club with questionable pitching.

TEMPTING

It is tempting to pick the Giants second again because they always finish there. However, their solid pitching gives them the edge over Cincinnati and Atlanta in a race that could turn on the fans.

If you were sure the Reds' pitching would be as good as Manager Dave Bristol thinks it will be, they would have to be the pick. Cincinnati has the best hitting club in the league and the major league batting champion in Pete Rose.

But that pitching of Juan Marichal, Gaylord Perry and Ray Sadecki and the slugging of Willie McCovey, Jim Ray Hart and Willie Mays should do it for the Giants.

DANGEROUS

Atlanta has a 1-2 punch in Hank Aaron and Cepeda, plus Felipe Alou. They can be dangerous if the pitching continues to improve.

The Dodgers are experimenting with rookies and moving home plate closer to the fences while relying on the pitching of Don Drysdale, Bill Singer, Claude Osteen and Don Sutton. It should be enough to stay ahead of Houston, which toppled into 10th place last season. It will be a miracle if San Diego, the expansion team, gets out of last in its first season.

Next—American League Picks.

Some Charter Changes Needed—And Some Not

Four proposed San Rafael city charter amendments on the April 15 ballot have to do with matters other than converting elective to appointive positions.

There has been no police judge since reorganization of California courts nearly two decades ago which absorbed police courts into the municipal courts. The position therefore should not be listed in the charter.

A "YES" vote is called for on this corrective measure.

PROPOSITION F would make the mayor's term four years instead of two.

San Rafael is unusual in having the mayor elected separately. Most cities in California — including all general law (non-charter) cities — simply elect a city council whose members then designate one of themselves as mayor. The mayoralty often rotates year by year.

There seems little reason for election of a separate mayor in San Rafael. His duties as set forth in the charter could as well be performed by a mayor appointed by his fellow councilmen.

There is, however, one possible advantage to the two-year term. Having the mayor — the fifth council member — elected every two years gives the electorate the opportunity to change the majority of the council every two years, since two of the four councilmen also come up for election each two years. Such a majority council change has not happened within living memory, but it could.

If this chance to change the council majority every two years is worth preserving, then the mayor's term should remain at two years.

If it is not, we see no need for separate election of mayor, and suggest the voters should be presented a proposal to allow the council to choose one of it members as mayor.

Either way, a "NO" vote is indicated on Proposition F.

PROPOSITION G would increase the fire commission, parks and recreation commission, and library board from five to seven members. The planning commission already has seven members.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini, in proposing this revision, suggested that increasing the number would allow one city council member to serve on each commission (one now serves on the fire commission), and that a seven-member commission should have less trouble getting a quorum.

We doubt that the second contention is true. As to the first, councilmen have shown no enthusiasm for commission service. Also, experience has shown that the larger the committee, the less it accomplishes.

We recommend a "NO" vote on Proosition G.

PROPOSITION H would make removal of all appointive officials possible by vote of three members of the council.

All are now with these exceptions: city engineer superintendent of streets, health officer, and fire chief. Article VI, Section 11 of the charter provides that these "may be removed at any time by unanimous vote of the council."

There seems no reason for such a requirement for these jobs when all other appointed officers from city manager on down may be removed by vote of three council members.

Therefore, a "YES" vote is indicated on Proposition G.

Safer In The Suburbs

Cities are thought by many experts to be bad for mental health of their residents compared to life in the suburbs. But mental health is notoriously hard to measure, and what is one man's book may be another man's genius.

However, we recently stumbled across some figures that show that peptic ulcers and coronary attacks are more common in cities. And lung cancer among non-smokers is 11 times more common in the cities than in a rural environment. This can be explained by air pollution. Not so easy to explain is the fact that most kinds of cancer are more common in the city than in the country.

So even if your mental health is no safer in Marin than elsewhere, your physical health may be better here.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State May Move Into Field Of Farm Labor Mediation

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Attempts to resolve the continuing problems of agricultural labor disputes, boycotts, and other matters affecting employers and labor are being made by the state legislature this session.

The problems have been current for half a century, and little has been done to resolve them. The general public is affected in some instances, such as last year's grape boycott, which knocked this product from some markets and deprived people of the privilege of buying grapes.

ASSEMBLYMAN Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, is attempting to reach solutions through the route of a state conciliation board under the general services department.

Duties of the board would be to investigate and mediate labor disputes, and conduct representative elections under some circumstances.

The board would operate whenever any agricultural dispute is found to affect the public interest, and any organization claiming representation requests an election and shows that 30 per cent of employees desire to be represented by a union.

The bill also cites and specifies certain unfair labor practices by both employer and employee, and gives the mediation services the power to prevent such practices.

"There has been much propaganda and not enough truth in the area of agricultural labor relations," declares Veysey.

MEANWHILE, Assemblyman Alan Pattee, R-Salinas, returned from Washington, D.C., where he sought information as to probable federal action on the farm labor situation.

Pattee said that while he would urge support of California farmers and congressmen for national legislation, the state legislature could not afford to close its eyes to the possibility of state action.

He said there is a "great chance" that federal legislation will be "stalemated."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Protesters Ignore Real Obscenities

I see by your paper that the more conservative organizations are one by one coming out officially against any form of sex education in our schools. It strikes me, as I read the vehemence of the feelings behind the pronouncements about sex education for children, that somehow things have gotten all turned around. It strikes me how comparatively little protest is made over the really obscene things in our culture, the killing, the glorifying as heroes those who are killers, in history and in war; the lack of response to human suffering, to starvation, to despair, the insistence upon capital punishment; all of which are readily available to our children at any time during the day, on television or in various kinds of literature, while the teaching of human sexuality is something that even in its lowest and most perverted form, can never approach the ugliness of the really obscene things which we do to each other in the name of perverted patriotism and law.

I feel the possibility that what many of these people are afraid of is their own sexuality, and perhaps if we can teach our children to respect and enjoy their sexuality, there might not be so much need for the real obscenities in our society.

Simpler Meaning Of Peace Symbol

W. G. Woodward in the March 27 letters to the editor offers an interesting but quite inaccurate explanation of the meaning of the peace symbol. In semaphore, "a system of signaling, esp. a system by which a special flag is held in each hand and various positions of the arms indicate specific letters and numbers" (Random House Dictionary of the English Language, the letter "N" is signified by flags held at roughly the 20 past 8 o'clock position. When held at the 6 o'clock position, the flags indicate the letter "D." These two superimposed upon one another result in the peace symbol. "ND" symbolizes Nuclear Disarmament.

Only War-Hawks Can Be Patriots?

One of your correspondents, a Mr. (W.G.) Woodward, who I believe is active with the local Jack Acid Society, made a point in his letter about the peace symbol but I doubt if it is the one he wanted to. He rattled off some bloody nonsense about medieval and anti-Christ signs and tried to make the point that the Communists are the modern anti-Christ.

The real point that he made was that the ultra-left and the ultra-right both need and justify one-another and quite often agree with each other. For by Mr. Woodward's logic, since the Communists are back of the American peace movement, it follows that a good, true-blue, American patriot must be a super war-hawk. Correct me if I'm wrong, but this has been the psotion taken by Pravda for at least the past quarter of a century.

Site Of Easter Rites Littered

About a month ago I wrote to you my opinion on the student airline fare situation. I've got another beef now. Has any of your staff been on the top of San Rafael Hill lately? If not, I strongly suggest you send somebody up to look at the ugly trash on the sides of the road at the top.

My sister and I drove up there last week for the view. Besides seeing the bay and surrounding area, we saw loads of beer cans and other trash which spoiled the view for me. My sister and I started picking up beer cans, broken glass, etc., and filled the trunk of our car with junk.

The reason I'm telling you this is so people will find out about it before the Easter service at the cross and do something about it. I'm willing to do something about the mess, but I can't do it all alone.

Women Slandered By Crime Report

"Prediction: Women Will Turn to Serious Crime" headlined an AP dispatch citing a sociologist's special report to the Joint Commission on Correctional Manpower and Training (I-J, March 27).

This scare prognosis represents another ill-disguised attempt to degrade the female while covering up the male as the perpetrator of most crime and violence in our culture. The latest available FBI crime figures shows that in 1967 total arrests involved 4.8 million males, or more than 87 per cent of those apprehended. When you add to this the fact that in female arrests for prostitution, the males who purchased these services go free as does the procuror or "protector," the figures become even more lopsided. . . .

The generalized female respect for love and the preservation of life remains as one of our few hopes for any kind of future free of crime and violence.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Feuding Giants Of Communism Remain Partners Against U.S.

HONG KONG — The professional China watchers in this glittering, opulent outpost are working three shifts to try to get a reading on the struggle between the two communist Goliaths. It is guesswork at best, for beyond the borders of the British crown colony 700 million Chinese are sealed in an implacable dictatorship.

Efforts to send in observers, agents, call them what you will, invariably end in failure. The guesswork is based, therefore, on threshing through the mass of dreary propaganda out of Peking, reading between the lines of the newspapers for clues, interviewing the diplomats, businessmen and the few journalists who come out.

With the reservation that it is guesswork, several conclusions emerge as to the struggle between Moscow and Peking. First, all the evidence points to China's extreme caution in not provoking any large scale Societ attack. While the hate barrage has been furious and the Russian leaders branded as the "new Czars" with a call for their overthrow, demonstrations outside the Soviet embassy have been held in check. Demonstrators were kept at a distance of a hundred yards from the embassy.

CHINA'S FEARS are centered on the meeting of Communist parties of the world that the Kremlin has put together for June. If a resolution can be pushed through branding the Chinese as heretics, the Kremlin may feel free to move.

In the border provinces of Sinkiang and Inner Mongolia are ethnic groups, the Kazhaks and the Ugirs, with close ties with their fellows in the Soviet Union. Conceivably they could be whipped up to cause major trouble for the Chinese and a bloody repression would increase the risk of direct Russian intervention.

Moreover, China's nuclear weapons and missile center is at Lopnor in Sinkiang province. The Chinese do not rule out, observers here believe, the possibility of a Russian strike to destroy the nuclear center.

ON THE NUCLEAR timetable the general agreement is that China will have an intermediate-range missile with a nuclear warheod by 1974 or '75. Four to five years later will see an operational ICBM. Mao is reported to have said that if in a nuclear exchange two or three hundred million Chinese were killed there would still be a population surviving sufficient to restore the Communist order and dominate the earth.

Alongside the prospect of such a holocaust, the skirmishing across the Ussuri River on the remote border between the two powers is pre-World War I stuff. Both China and Russia have greatly increased their forces along the border. One estimate puts Russian troop strength at 300,000 on the eastern border.

YET THE ACCEPTED judgment is that open warfare on any sizable scale is not in the cards for the foreseeable future.

For the doctrinaire Communist this is a religious war with totally opposed views on the holy writ of Marxism-Leninism and how to bring about world revolution.

This is nowhere more evident than in the dispute between Peking and Moscow over the Vietnam War. Peking was bitterly opposed to the Paris talks and used every possible pressure to keep Hanoi from going to Paris. China's propaganda lectures Hanoi on the "perfidy" of Russian aid and the "peace talks fraud."

China nevertheless continues to supply about 40 per cent of the total support for North Vietnam to Russia's 60 per cent. So, for all the sound and fury of their propaganda war, Peking and Moscow are still partners in frustrating the wicked imperialists in Vietnam.

Ocean's Floor Becomes New Arena In Arms Race

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

On the Atlantic and Pacific ocean approaches to the United States and in key passageways such as Gibraltar delicate U.S. listening devices tell of the approach of potentially enemy submarines.

American scientists descend to ocean floors to test man's ability to live and work from undersea chambers.

And, as the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference reconvened at the beginning of its eighth year, a surprisingly affable Russian representative, Aleksei A. Roshchin, rose to present the Soviet Union's version of the latest proposal to prevent man from destroying himself.

He smilingly declared that if there were objections to some part of the Russian plan to ban use of the ocean floors for military installations, the Russian approach was negotiable.

BETWEEN the men working on the ocean floor, the detection devices and the Russian proposal there was a connection.

What, the United States wanted to know, did the Russians mean exactly by "military installations"?

To the surprise of its detractors, the Geneva Conference had since its beginning in 1962 major achievements to its credit.

Acting sometimes as mediator, sometimes proposing alternatives, it had assisted the United States and the Soviet Union to reach a widening circle of agreements ranging from a partial test ban on nuclear weapons, to a prohibition of nuclear weapons in outer space and in the Antarctic.

And it had provided a valuable assist in persuading nations to sign the latest of these—a ban on proliferation of nuclear weapons.

BETWEEN the U.S. and Russian positions there did not seem great differences.

In a letter to the conference, President Richard M. Nixon himself had proposed its members start negotiations to ban nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction from the ocean floor to "assure that the seabed, man's last frontier, remains free from the nuclear arms race."

But experience in dealing with the Soviets and their Communist partners from Yalta and Potsdam to Korea had taught the west a measure of caution.

There also was the unpleasant memory of the widespread favorable reaction to former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand for "general and complete disarmament."

AT SOME future date could the Russians claim that military messages sent by undersea cable violate the ban on "military installations?" Did it apply only to offensive weapons or to defensive weapons as well? Did it apply to scientific explorations in which the military participated?

The Americans wanted it spelled out. They also wanted the ban extended to prevent contamination of the seas by all weapons of the ABC category— Atomic, Bilogical and chemical —and radiological as well.

Marin's Most Interesting Places Are Mostly On Back Streets

"Daisy Dondero gave the deer to the city I don't know how long ago," said San Anselmo fireman George Jewell.

The big metal buck with the blue marble eyes stands on the lawn in front of the San Anselmo City Hall, real in an unreal world — or vice versa. Jewell said the firehouse has been added onto a couple of times but still has a boxed bulge where the engies stand, from which hay used to be dropped for the horses.

And the ridges are still on the pavement out front so the horses could get traction to start off.

Firemen are now doing some of their own remodeling in the kitchen, Jewell said, and a new firehouse is at least 15 years off.

A FEW stones' throws from the Spanish-styled city hall are the "castles" of San Francisco Theological Seminary. In fact, most of the interesting parts of Marin are on its back roads.

Shady Lane, for example, is a good street to take to Ross — a hidden town with lots of bike riders.

We visited the Squirrels' Nest where four women were very busy making tote bags. Asking about the Easter eggs in the window, Nancy Rogers said the squirrels don't make those. They are from Germany.

We visited Sam the Butcher's and found out that Sam isn't there any more. It's Kemp the butcher, now.

Flags were being flown for Eisenhower and more people were riding bicycles on Kent Avenue toward Kentfield. It's a good back road.

WE MET a nun in Larkspur who said she was walking back to St. Patrick's from the creek.

"I was looking for plant and animal life because my eighth grade science class is going on a small field trip tomorrow," said Sister Ann Rozalia.

What did you find? we asked.

"Salamanders and some lizards and tomorrow we'll compare the skins between reptiles and amphibiants. We're also checking out the trees — the poplars are just beginning to leaf out."

Sister Rozalia is with the Dominican order, wears a short-skirted white habit with a black top. We wished her a good trip and she said, "O.K. Pray for us. Don'lt let them fall in."

THERE'S A BACK alley off Hart Street in Corte Madera which is the property of precision engineer Bill Nelson. We asked him about life and Nelson said, "It's pretty good."

He said he welded a lot of toys after Christmas and right now is going into heli-arc welding which enables him to weld aluminum such as you find on outboard motors.

The red-faced, mustachioed Nelson, who calls himself an "odd character doing odd jobs," said he'll be 67 on June 30.

He said he tells friends that he retired a a lithographer but refuses to stop working because he's seen too many friends disappear that way.

In the winter he gabs around a pot-bellied stove in his shop with his cronies. "Some guy from L.A. wanted to give me $150 for the stove," said Nelson. "What are you, some kind of a nut?" Nelson said he asked him. he man said, no, the stove is a Bridge and Beach from St. Louis with grapes on the front. "It was given to me," said Nelson. "I won't sell."

Pentagon's New Inquiry Method: Deucedly Clever, These Chaps

WASHINGTON—The seismograph in Washington, D.C., showed a slight quake in the Credibility Gap last week when Undersecretary of Defense David Packard testified in front of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on disarmament on the ABM. Asked to name a science adviser not connected with the Pentagon who had participated in a review of the missile system, Packard came up with Dr. Wolfgang K. H. Panofsky, a noted physicist from Stanford.

Unfortunately for Packard, Dr. Panofsky denied he had participated in any review of the Safeguard system and said he was opposed to it. He also said that his only encounter with Packard was an accidental meeting at the airport in San Francisco where the men talked informally about different defense systems while waiting for their planes.

I WAS VERY curious about the Pentagon's new method of talking to scientists, and I was fortunate to run into a friend of mine who happens to be an assistant secretary of defense. He was standing next to the insurance counter at New York's La Guardia field.

"Where are you going?" I asked him.

"I'm not going anywhere," he said. I'm stationed here working on a research project."

"What do you mean?"

"WHY AT the airports?" I asked.

"None of them wants to come to Washington, so we have to catch them on the run. Look, there's Prof. Bezilsky of Harvard University." He stopped the professor.

"Dr. Bezilsky," he said, "my name's Carnaby of the Defense Department, and I was wondering if you could give me your opinion of the ultrahigh frequencies in radar simulation vis-a-vis the ABM."

Prof. Bezilsky looked anoyed. "I haf to catch my plane."

"It will only take a minute, sir."

"Please, this is not the place to go into ultrahigh frequencies in radar simulation." Bezilsky said, trying to move on.

"PROFESSOR, are you for it or against it?"

"Vill you let me catch my plane, dummkopf?"

Carnaby said, "Well, he's for it."

"How did you figure that?" I asked him.

"Our orders are that if a scientist doesn't come out specifically and say he's against the ABM, then he must be for it." Carnaby wrote something in his notebook. "I have four scientists for the ABM and one against."

"THAT'S MARVELOUS," I said in admiration. "All you have to do is wait by the New York to Boston shuttle and you catch the whole MIT, Harvard and Tufts scientific establishment."

"Right. It's foolproof because we could never get to talk to this many scientists in Washiington. Oh, my goodness, look who's over there—it's Dr. Heinrich Spitzelbaron, who discovered manifold pressure under glass. Dr. Spitzelbaron, Dr. Spitzelbaron, would you care to participate in an instant seminar we're holding here on the ABM system?"

"No, but I'd like to buy some flight insurance. I'm scared to death of flying."

"BUT WHAT ABOUT the threat of the Soviet multiple weapon launchers and their first-strike superiority?"

"If I could just get to Cleveland safely, I'd be grateful."

"Doctor, could I ask you about the Chinese first generation of nuclear weapons?"

"I usually get drunk when I fly," Dr. Spitzelbaron said. "I know it's stupid, but I'm afraid of heights."

After he bought his insurance and left, I Iasked Carnaby, "Is he pro or con?"

"If I had to testify in front of a Senate committee, I'd say he was pro—but with a few reservations."

Today on Holy or Maundy Thursday, Christendom around the globe celebrates the Last Supper which Jesus Christ spent with his 11 true disciples and with Judas Iscariot who betrayed him into the hands of his enemies.

This striking alabaster reproduction of Leonardo de Vinci's famed mural painting of "The Last Supper" was given to the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo several years ago by Rev. Edgington Resigns; Reed School Job Goes To Gaw

Administrative Switch After Secret Sessions

H. Joe Edgington last night resigned as superintendent of the Reed School District effective June 30 and Robert B. Gaw, district planning director for the Reedland Woods School, was named new superintendent by district trustees.

The dual resignation and appointment by trustees came following weeks of unannounced private negotiations with Gaw for the superintendent's post.

Asst. Supt. William G. Vanasen said today trustees began negotiations with Gaw in closed sessions shortly after Edgington informally notified the board a few weeks ago of his intention to seek a new job.

Vanasen said the closed sessions had been announced on the board's agendas for the purpose of discussing the hiring of new personnel.

The Independent-Journal was told by Edgington after each closed session that the discussion had been concerned only with hiring teachers for next year, and no indication was given that any district supervisorial positions were under discussion.

Trustee Thomas S. Price said today the board had decided to negotiate with Gaw without any public announcement of the vacancy because of the district's financial problems, the probability of unification within the next three years and the fact Gaw had been looking for another job.

Price said that if the proposed 50-cent tax rate increase fails on April 15, "we will have serious budget problems and will need a strong educational leader immediately."

He also said the board was concerned that, because of the likelihood of unification, the district would not be able to attract someone of "sufficient caliber" to take a job "which might end in two years."

In addition, Price said, the board had been impressed with Gaw's support in the community and was concerned he would leave the district if the appointment were delayed.

Gaw, 40, who has been with the district since 1953, was given a three-year contract at a beginning salary of $20,000 a year.

FOURTH COSTLIEST

U.S. Viet Deaths Surpass Korea's

SAIGON (AP) — A total of 312 Americans were killed in action in Vietnam last week, an increase of 18 per cent over the week before, and the U.S. Command confirmed today that the Vietnam War is now the fourth costliest in American history.

The toll announced for last week raised to 33,641 the number of Americans killed in action in eight years and three months of fighting in Vietnam. This is 12 more than the 33,629 American combat deaths during the three-year Korean War.

In only three other wars have American battlefield deaths been higher than Vietnam—292,131 in World War II; 140,414 Union troops and 74,524 Confederates in the Civil War, and 53,513 in World War I.

U.S. headquarters also reported that 1,593 Americans were wounded in action last week, raising the total number of American wounded in the war to 210,639.

The total American casualties in Vietnam—244,280—are fast approaching those of World War I, when 53,513 Americans were killed in action and 204,002 wounded, or a total of 257,515. If the present casualty rate continues, the U.S. killed and wounded in Vietnam will surpass total American casualties in World War I by early June although the total number of dead will be considerably less than the 1918 total.

Total U.S. casualties in Vietnam long ago exceeded the Korean War total of 136,914 killed and wounded.

U.S. headquarters said allied forces killed 4,314 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops last week. South Vietnamese government losses were put at 357 troops killed and 1,390 wounded.

The 312 Americans killed in action last week was 46 more than the number the week before and the second lowest toll in the first five weeks of the Viet Cong's spring offensive.

The offensive, now in its 40th day, took the lives of 1,718 Americans in the first 35 days, an average of 49 every 24 hours. Another 8,743 U.S. troops were wounded in that period.

U.S. officers say the goal of the enemy offensive is to inflict so many American casualties that public opinion in the United States will force the Nixon administration to grant concessions at the peace negotiations in Paris.

But according to U.S. reports,

Shuttle Bus System Proposed For Marin

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A new Marin City-based corporation last night proposed that the Marin County Transit District contract with it to provide an extensive shuttle bus system within the county at no cost to the taxpayers. (Other transit district stories, page 18.)

The new corporation's directors, appearing before transit district directors at the Civic Center, said the $5.1 million cost of getting their system in operation by July 1 would be met through private funds, federal grants, fare revenue and the sale of stock in the corporation.

The key to the ability of the system to make a profit will be contracts to supply school transportation for school districts throughout the county, according to one of the corporation's directors, Jesse R. Hebert of Marin City. He said he had indications from several school districts that they would contract with the corporation if the system got under way.

Terminals would be in San Rafael, Corte Madera, Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Novato and Point Reyes, according to an eight-page proposal submitted to the transit board.

The Marin City terminal would house maintenance facilities, vehicle storage, offices, parking, concessions and a communications and computer system to dispatch the

Hamilton Might Lose Air Defense Office

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

The western region headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command may be moved from Hamilton Air Force Base as a result of a review of the nation's air defense system now underway, it has been learned.

No final decision has been made, however, and probably will not be until President Richard M. Nixon completes his review of the fiscal 1970 federal budget.

Col. J. Shaughnessy of NORAD's headquarters in the Pentagon told the Independent-Journal yesterday that the nation's entire Aerospace Defense Command is "under complete review as to adequacy, composition and essentiality."

He emphasized that no final decision on Hamilton had been made and the possibility that the Hamilton NORAD operation would be moved "exists only because the entire ADC is under review."

Sources high in the Hamilton command structure said privatly, however, they feel the Western Region headquarters there probably would be moved to a bigger base elsewhere in California or, possibly, into the overall NORAD headquarters under Cheyenne Mountain near Colorado Springs.

It was not clear, either at the Pentagon or at Hamilton, what effect any move by the NORAD operation would have on the status of Fourth Air Force Headquarters which also is located at the Marin County base.

The Fourth Air Force is a subordinate command of NORAD and provides men and equipment for the operational control of NORAD. It covers the states west of the Rocky Mountains.

The Western NORAD Region covers the same area and part of Canada. NORAD is a joint Canadian-U.S. operation and both the U.S. Air Force and Army are involved in it.

Antiwar Airman Battles Sentence In Federal Suit

Attorneys for Airman Michael R. Locks, 25-year-old former San Anselmo resident, have filed suit in federal court in San Francisco to suspend his sentence of one year at hard labor for violating an Air Force order against participating in uniform in anti-war demonstrations.

U.S. District Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli is to hear the case next Tuesday. Zirpoli issued an order to the Air Force last Friday to show cause why the sentence should not be suspended until Locks' case has been reviewed by the U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

The show cause order had been requested by Locks' civilian attorneys at his February court-martial, Richard J. Werthimer of San Anselmo and Albert M. Bendich of Berkeley. The American Civil Liberties Union joined in the suit as a friend of the court.

Meanwhile, Locks was moved Friday from Hamilton Air Force Base to the Air Force Rehabilitation Center at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver, following a review of his trial and conviction, by Fourth Air Force Commander Maj. Gen. Robert W. Burns who upheld the sentence.

Locks had been in confinement since he was sentenced to one year at hard labor, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, reduction to airman basic and a

RAIN CLOUDS WILL RETURN BY TOMORROW

Spring rain totaling as much as .85 of an inch covered Marin yesterday, and while it was sunny today, the weatherman reported another storm threatens the Bay Area with 40 per cent chance of rain tomorrow.

Rain totals in the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today included Woodacre, .85 of an inch; Bolinas, .72; Ross, .43; Tamalpais Valley, .40; Petaluma, .39; Civic Center, .33; San Anselmo, .32; Novato, .29; Mill Valley, .28; Terra Linda, .25; Sausalito, .22 and Tiburon and Hamilton Air Force Base, .18.

The total for the past 24 hours at noon in San Rafael was .21 of an inch.

Quake Devastates Iranian Villages

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Two villages in northwest Iran were devastated by an earthquake last night, according to reports reaching here today.

Big Four Powers Launch Talks For Mideast Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Big Four powers opened their talks today on how to achieve peace between Israel and the Arabs. Opinions differed on prospects for progress.

The chief U.N. delegates of the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union and France met at the residence of French Ambassador Armand Berard.

Others attending were Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik, U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost and Lord Caradon, British minister of state for foreign and Commonwealth affairs. They were accompanied by their Middle East advisers.

On tap for discussion were methods of procedure for future talks, and proposals of the Soviet Union and the United States on a Middle East peace settlement.

Many diplomats are predicting the meetings will go on for months. Although Egypt and Jordan have announced their support for the Big Four effort, Israel has denounced the talks and said it would ignore any recommendations contrary to its interests.

But some diplomats believe all four of the major powers are anxious to come up with a workable plan to break the deadlock between the Israelis and the Arabs.

The United States and Britain generally support Israel, and France and the Soviet Union usually back up the Arab states. But the optimists noted that Soviet Ambassador Antoly F. Dobrynin and U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco met six or seven times in Washington during the past two and a half weeks to prepare for the start of the formal talks.

FORECAST

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We bought 100 Cavitorn at 16, watched it drop to 4 and soar to 50 last June. Is long-term growth in view? Several friends hold more than we do. — R. L.

A. Long-term growth appears promising despite recent drop in net income due to increased expenditures for research and marketing. Ultrasonic technology — utilizing the impact of high-frequency sound waves — has provided speculative thrust in Cavitron's shares.

The company's principal product, an ultrasonic dental unit, is supplemented by a line of hand instruments and equipment for the dental, medical and optical professions. Ultrasonic systems are sold to manufacturers of cleaning equipment used for removing dirt from hard-to-reach surfaces in complicated structures New surgical techniques use ultrasonic probes, and industrial researchers are hoping to design a small ultrasonic unit for household cleaning. If you and your friends can manage to hold Cavitron through the possibly turbulent years of an emerging industry, your early purchases should work out well.

Q. You mentinoned recently the Keogh Act. We've been unable to learn anything further on it and would appreciate your enlarging upon this subject. — R. Y., C. M.

A. Although I've discussed this pension plan several times I find that many readers, particularly those living in small towns, have been unable to secure information necessary for setting up their own plan. There are several sources of information on the Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962.

This act, liberalized as of Dec. 31, 1967 provides for investments in qualified mutual funds, insurance annuities, savings and loan accounts, U. S. retirement bonds and trusteed bank accounts. More than 200 mutual funds offer Keogh Plans and The Institute of Life Insurance reported a doubling during 1967 of Keogh-approved annuities. Late last year there were over 100,000 IRS-approved plans in operation.

Southern forests supply an estimated 60 per cent of the nation's pulpwood.

NORTHGATE EXECUTIVE OFFICE PROPOSED

Combined headquarters for Western Travelers Life Insurance Co., formerly of Los Angeles, and Mutual Fund Associates of San Francisco will occupy this 24,000 square foot building to be erected on Northgate Drive, San Rafael. Western Travelers now occupies temporary quarters at Northgate Industrial Park. Both companies are associated with Putnam Management Co. of Boston, manager of the $2 billion Putnam mutual funds. Construction is planned to start as soon as building plans are approved.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Marin Keeps Up With Growing Convalescent Hospital Trend

In recent years there has been great activity in the construction of convalescent hospitals.

Marin is no exception; in the last year at least three new institutions have been added. According to my latest figures there are now 14 operating in the county and the total should reach 18 by the end of the year or next spring if present planned construction is carried out. At least two more will expand their exisitng facilities to keep up with the need for more beds.

Hy-Lond Enterprises, owner of the London House Convalescent Hospital on Tamalpais Avenue, Novato, expects to start construction shortly on another 185-bed facility nearby. There is another convalescent hospital planned by John Butorac of Stockton at Indian Valley and Hill Roads, Novato, and Novato Manor Convalescent will double its capacity on Canyon Road.

There are plans for a 180-bed convalescent hospital on North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia near Granlee Road by L. B. M. Investment Co. and for a 102-bed facility called Bay View Convalescent Hospital by an out-of-town group of investors on South Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae. San Rafael Convalescent Hospital in Santa Venetia will remodel its present facility and add 30 more beds. And there has been talk of a hospital at Seminary Road and Strawberry Road in Southern Marin.

FRENCH'S HITCHING POST, new riding apparel and equipment shop of Mr. and Mrs. William H. French at 1205 Third Street, San Rafael, opened last Saturday and apparently has been playing to a full house of customers.

The Frenchs are holding a $1,000 merchandise drawing at 5 p.m. on Saturday. Articles to be awarded include two saddles, one Western and one English. Horse lovers can drop by anytime before then and drop their names in the trough.

San Rafael has been named chairman of the Designers' Qualifications Advisory Committee of the California State Board of Architectural Examiners. He has been on the committee for several years. He is also new vice president of the American Institute of Building Design.

MAMIE HEADS EAST

Abilene Returns To Quiet Life

ABILENE, Kan. (UPI)—Minutes after they laid Dwight D. Eisenhower to rest in the stony dignity of his "Place of Meditation," prairie disc jockeys were back playing Top Forty records and Abilene police were broadcasting helpful hints to motorists on how to get out of town.

Down in the railroad yards, an emotionally depleted widow sat disconsolate and almost unperceiving.

This was the brutal part of mourning for Mamie Eisenhower — when the emotional courage faded and she was left to the stark aftermath —while the rest of the world went on after having been stilled for a few moments for a man President Richard M. Nixon called an "authentic hero."

The Eisenhower burial yesterday was a model of military decorum. Only one thing went wrong — a sharp wind kept disturbing the flag on the former president's casket during funeral services on the steps of the Eisenhower Library.

It was this same flag, folded into a compact triangle before the casket was lowered into its valut, that Mamie clutched to the folds of her black fur coat as she walked tearfully and unsteadily from the tiny chapel on the strong arm of her son, John D. Eisenhower.

Then she and the family, some of the grandchildren sobbing, drove back to the funeral train which had brought them from Washington.

Local friends wanted them to come to a quiet reception in town after the services, but Mrs. Eisenhower was not up to another round of handshakes and nervous smiles from people she scarcely knew.

The train was due back in Washington about 8 a.m. (EST) tomorrow. Then Mrs. Eisenhower's first thought would be for her brother-in-law, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, who could not come to the funeral because of illness.

After seeing Milton Eisenhower either at Walter Reed Army Hospital where Ike died last Friday, or going to Milton's Baltimore home for a visit, the widow of the country's 34th president would make plans to go to Belgium, close associates said.

Her son John, the new U.S. Ambassador to Belgium, and his family plan to leave shortly for the post to which he was appointed by Nixon. Apparently Mamie Eisenhower plans to spend some time with them there before deciding on her own future.

Police said about 100,000 people came into Abilene, a town of 8,000 population, for the Eisenhower burial procession through the business district, from rail freight yards to the quietly majestic Eisenhower Center where the former commander-in-chief was buried.

90-Day Policy

The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission is scheduled to go out of existence, under current law, 90 days after the final adjournment of the 1969 Legislature, not in 60 days as reported incorrectly yesterday in the Independent-Journal report of the Novato City Council meeting. Bills are before the Legislature to extend the life of the commission.

Hope Fading

BARROTERAN, Mexico (AP) — Rescue workers continued digging for the bodies of about 120 coal miners today with little hope that any of the men trapped in a methane gas explosion Monday would be found alive.

The count of known dead rose to 33 yesterday with the discovery of four more bodies near the mouth of the Altos Hornos Mine Co.'s Shaft No. 2. One of those killed was a rescue worker overcome by gas.

Paper Says U.S. Plans Viet Cuts

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press reported today the Nixon administration is prepared to withdraw some U.S. troops from Vietnam unilaterally if the Paris peace talks fail.

The paper said top officials do not consider it out of the question that as many as 50,000 U.S. troops could be returned home by the end of the year.

No timetable, however, has been drawn up.

OUTLINES PLAN

An unnamed high administration official outlined the essentials of the plan which would turn the war over to the South Vietnamese government in Saigon as soon as possible, the Free Press' Washington staff said.

The plan, however, does not call for a complete U.S. pullout, but for a decline in the total number of allied troops now in Vietnam.

"The idea is not that the war would end—but rather that the allies would dig in for a long haul," the Free Press said.

No troop reduction would be forthcoming while the current Communist offensive is under way, it said.

The story said the United States is ready to add "a couple of sweeteners" in hopes of breaking the current deadlock in the Paris peace talks between the allies and the Communists.

"The administration hopes that a plan for mutual troop withdrawal can be reached. But if no program can be worked out, the United States is prepared to embark on its own plan to lower United States involvement in the war," the article said.

540,000 TROOPS

Although officials decline to say so, the Free Press said the plan implies strongly that the United States has more troops in Vietnam now than would be necessary to conduct an aggressive holding action over a long period of time.

It said there would be no demand that South Vietnamese troops replace U.S. troops man-for-man.

There are about 540,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam, about a third of the total allied forces.

Connecticut's ranking teneral in the Revolution was Benedict Arnold.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

New Ghana Boss

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Brig. Gen. Akwasi Afrifa is the new chief of Ghana's ruling military junta following the resignation of Lt. Gen. Joseph Ankrah in an influence scandal.

The National Liberation-Council voted unanimously yesterday for Afrifa, at 33 its youngest member. It also said it would hold to its promise to restore civilian rule by Sept. 3.

Ankrah resigned after an investigation showed $30,000 had been collected from foreign firms for "research" to see whether he could be elected president in the fall elections, a government statement said.

Fighting Over

BEIRA, Mozambique (AP) — A four-year guerrilla campaign against Portuguese rule over this big southeast African territory was reported ended today.

The Mozambique government is expected to issue a communique saying rebel leaded Lazara Kavandame and 60,000 guerrillas and refugees from the northern part of the country have surrendered.

Reports from northern Mozambique said Kavandame, who started a revolt against Portugal in 1964, already is touring rural areas urging the population to cooperate with the government.

Names Council

KARACHI (AP) — President M. A. Yahya Khan today appointed a four-man military council of administration to run Pakistan.

Political observers had expected the 51-year-old military president to form a new civilian government. But instead he chose three deputy chief administrations of martial law and named himself chairman of the council.

Driver Hurt When His Car Overturns

A San Francisco man was injured yesterday at 3:40 p.m. when his car overturned on Highway 101, near Lakeville Highway, south of Petaluma.

Lawrence N. Bernstein, 21, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for cuts of the head and arms. The California Highway Patrol said his car skidded on the wet roadway, struck a guardrail and overturned.

Nixon Plans Rest, Work In Florida

Flying with him to Florida yesterday from funeral services in Kansas for Dwight D. Eisenhower were John D. Ehrlichman, White House counsel and a key figure in domestic policy planning, and Bryce N. Harlow, special assistant for congressional liaison.

However, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said there was a possibility that Nixon's assistant for national security affairs, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, might fly down from Washington at some point in the next few days.

Mrs. Nixon and daughter Tricia accompanied the chief executive to Kansas and Florida.

Hanoi Lauds China

TOKYO (UPI)—North Vietnam has congratulated Red China on its ninth Communist Party Congress, saying it will strive for the consolidation and development of friendship between the two countries.

Mechanical Monster To Aid Foot Soldier

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — What stands 11-feet high, weighs 3,000 pounds, has four legs and walks?

The answer is Cybernetic Anthropomorphus Machine System —a tongue-twister of a name for a machine that is designed to extend man's physical abilities.

The machine, developed for the Army by General Electric, is the forerunner of equipment which G.E. says "will improve the mobility and capability of the foot soldier under the most severe conditions of terrain."

The Army paid almost $1 million for CAMS, and introduced it to the world yesterday.

CAMS can walk at five miles an hour, step over barriers 18 inches high and is expected to cross rough terrain that would stop wheeled vehicles.

The machine's legs operate by hydraulic pressure. It is guided by one man who can run it blindfolded if he had to because of a mechanical system that allows him to feel what the machine is doing.

Tank Critic Is Ordered To Shut Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman who charged the Army with a "billion-dollar boo-boo" in developing a new tank has been ordered to stop talking publicly about the matter.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., confirmed yesterday ordering Rep. Samuel Stratton, D-N.Y., to stop giving interviews or issuing news releases about the Sheridan tank.

Rivers took the action in his position as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. Stratton heads a subcommittee, under Rivers' jurisdiction, investigating the Sheridan program.

"I told him to stop saying anything unless he had something worthwhile to say," Rivers said in an interview.

"He was getting to the point where he was turning out a news release about it every day," said Rivers.

"I'm not trying to put a lid on anything," said Rivers. "I'm simply concerned about the morale of our troops in Vietnam."

It was Stratton's investigation that led to release of a previously classified document on the new Sheridan tank. Stratton called the tank a "billion dollar boo-boo," because:

It is too noisy and leaves a large exhaust trail as to be nearly useless as a reconnaisance vehicle; uses improper ammunition; has a leaky fuel tank and several other problems.

Stratton, normally willing to talk about his subcommittee work, was reluctant to discuss the matter when approached about the investigation yesterday by a newsman.

Finally, he said Rivers had asked him "to put a lid on interviews and news releases" and he had agreed.

Swiss License Antimeasles Vaccination

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Switzerland today granted the first license in the world for a vaccine said to be 97.5 per cent effective in preventing German measles, the disease blamed for crippling or killing thousands of unborn babies.

The Swiss Federal Service of Public Hygiene granted the license for a vaccine using the live "Cendehill" virus strain to Recherche et Industrie Therapeutiques, RIT, a Belgian subisidary of Smith Kline & French Laboratories of Philadelphia.

It is expected that the vaccine, grown in primary rabbit kidney cell cultures, will be available for general use in Switzerland within a month.

Prof. Abel Prinzie of Louvain University, research director at RIT, isolated and developed the vaccine along with Belgian virologist Constant A. Huygelen, director of biologics at RIT. They reported at a news conference that the vaccine proved "very effective" in clinical tests involving 60,000 children and adults in many countries, including the United States.

Switzerland was the first country to issue a license to the "Cendehill" vaccine. Applications for licensing by other countries, including the United States are pending, he said.

Prinzie said between 50 and 90 per cent of expectant mothers who contracted German measles, or rubella, during the first month of pregnancy give birth to malformed babies. In the later stages of pregnancy this percentage shrinks.

Educator Dies

SAN GABRIEL (AP) — Dr. James D. Finn, 54, nationally recognized professor of education at the University of Southern California, died yesterday of complications of pneumonia and diabetes.

U.S. Sets Guidelines For Rubella Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today proposed new standards for producing a safe German measles vaccine, a step Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch said brings medicine closer to preventing a major cause of birth defects and miscarriages.

"This means that we are one step closer to the prevention of a disease that has caused an untold number of tragic births," Finch said.

The regulations spell out step-by-step production methods and set standards of safety, purity and potency for experimental vaccines now being tested. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said one or more of the experimental drugs might meet the standards and be licensed.

The government estimates that the epidemic of 1964-1965 resulted in about 50,000 abnormal pregnancies. About 20,000 infants were born with such defects as mental retardation, heart disease, blindness and deafness. The remaining 30,000 pregnancies ended in miscarriages or stillbirths.

The regulations apply to vaccines containing a live virus strain known as HPV-77, which is grown in either duck embryo or dog kidney cell cultures. They were prepared by the division of biologics standards of the National Institutes of Health.

U.C. Scientist Questions Anticancer Efforts Data

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A California scientist challenges the statistics stating that more people now are being saved from cancer than ever before—and his views are in turn challenged.

The American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute cite figures that one out of three cancer patients are being saved now, as against one in four some 20 years ago. If existing knowledge were applied fully, half of all cancer patients could be cured, these agencies say.

The challenge came from Dr. Hardin B. Jones, professor of medical physics and physiology at the University of California at Berkeley. He is not a doctor of medicine.

Dr. Jones said his analysis found little difference over the last 50 years in results whether people were treated for cancer or not—by surgery or radiation or by a handful now of drugs and other techniques—but he added, "I am not brave enough to say people should not be treated."

He said that vigorous treatment may interfere with the body's own natural defenses so much that the patient usually doesn't live any longer or better than he might without treatment, or at least by undergoing only the simplest of treatments. Objective studies should be made about this point, Dr. Jones said.

He spoke at closing session of an American Cancer Society seminiar bringing cancer specialists together with science writers.

Special Session

The Cotati School District trustees will meet in special session today at 7:30 p.m. to interview and possibly hire teaching candidates. They will also receive a report on construction progress at the Thomas Page School.

Two Red-Held Yachts Back In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Four Americans and nine other persons returned to Hong Kong today on two yachts the Communist Chinese seized seven weeks ago.

Another yacht and two Americans captured with her were kept for further investigation," Peking announced. The Americans are Simeon Baldwin, a native of Los Angeles who heads a Hong Kong firm representing American aircraft companies, and Bessie Hope Donald, a long-time resident of Hong Kong from Bristol, Va.

The three yachts and the 15 persons aboard them were captured Feb. 17 while on a holiday cruise from Hong Kong to the Portuguese colony of Macao, 40 miles to the west.

Peking's official Hsinhua (New China) news agency announced today that the three vessels "intruded into China's territorial waters."

It said that one yacht was Swedish-owned and one British-owned, and said their owners "admitted their transgression."

The four Americans released were Carol Zinky, 10-year-old daughter of William Roy Zinky of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. Joan Hopkins von Sydow, formerly of Spokane, Wash., and her two daughters, Christine, 15, and Sarah, 12.

Shippers Threaten Balky Union With Court Again

The Pacific Maritime Association threatened yesterday to take the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union to court again, saying it had ignored a court order to handle cargo.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert Peckham held yesterday that the longshoremen had to handle the cargo under terms of their contract. They have refused to do so since March 17.

PMA attorney Richard Ernst prepared a complaint to be submitted to Peckham detailing specific instances at West Coast ports this week where ILWU gangs have refused to handle containerized cargo.

The union, as it has since the boycott began, refused comment on the PMA move.

The union is also under a pressure from Gov. Keith Miller of Alaska to handle what he called essential cargo tied up in Seattle.

"Vans caught by the stoppage on Seattle docks contained thousands of tons of essential supplies," the governor said in telegrams to ILWU President Harry Bridges and Oliver Olson, president of Seattle Local 19.

What the ILWU is seeking in the dispute is the right to pack and unpack containerized vans they hoist between the trucks and ships. Packing is largely done by members of the Teamsters Union.

MARK OF EXCELLENCE

No other wagons have such a capacity for enjoyment.

Show you what we mean.

Only you can't tell it's rough.

You see, the Kingswood floats along on computer-selected coil springs that smooth even the meanest road. It takes a mighty rough trail to bother you.

That's true of our other wagons, too. Take the Concours Wagon. It's our second size, but there's no compromise on room. Put down the back seat and you've got up to 94 cubic feet of cargo space.

Maybe you're a bit more serious about the great outdoors. So are we. That's why we offer the Chevy Sportvan. To a camper, this one's like clear skies and no mosquitoes. Add a camper conversion unit and take along beds, stove and the kitchen sink. But we're not done yet: there's also the Suburban, the tough go-anywhere truck that doubles as a car.

So before you head out to see the U.S.A., better stop by your Chevrolet dealer's.

His Sports-Recreation Dept. is right up your alley.

Psychiatrist, Sirhan's Attorney At Swordpoints

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The chief prosecution psychiatrist at the Sirhan B. Sirhan murder trial admitted today that when he filed his report on the young Arab's mental condition he did not believe he would ever be brought to trial.

Dr. Seymour Pollack conceded under cross-examination that he wrote in a report that the 25-year-old Sirhan was "a psychotic person with a borderline schizophrenia."

"You believed at the time you wrote that there would be no trial, didn't you?" asked defense counsel Grant B. Cooper.

"Yes, I did," Pollack said.

It had been previously revealed that the prosecution and defense had agreed on a guilty plea to first-degree murder with a penalty of life imprisonment. Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker refused to approve such a deal and ordered the trial to proceed with the jury deciding the penalty which could include death in the gas chamber.

Pollack, a professor at the University of Southern California, became flustered and red-faced as Cooper sought to demonstrate that after the trial began the doctor modified his diagnosis of Sirhan's mental illness to something less than psychotic.

Cooper noted Pollack was in disagreement with all the other psychiatric witnesses—two psychiatrists and five psychologists who had testified.

"We all agreed he was quite paranoic and we all agreed he had a mental illness," Pollack said, his voice rising.

Pollack agreed again that Sirhan was a "borderline schizophrenic who could quite easily be pushed into a full schizophrenic stage."

The shrewd attorney and the pedantic professor had confronted each other in a classic courtroom duel Wednesday.

Pollack and Cooper are friends. They have lectured jointly on the law and psychiatry. But now they were at swords points and Cooper was trying to break Pollack's simplification that Sirhan killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy "because he hated him."

Pollack had said confidently that, yes, Sirhan was mentally ill but had the mental capacity to premeditate and plan the slaying of Kennedy and was trying to escape afterwards.

Cooper brought out that seven other psychiatrists and psychologists —some paid by the state —had concluded that Sirhan was psychotic and some said he was a paranoid schizophrenic.

Pollack said he placed more weight on his own observation and findings.

WAR

the offensive is costing the enemy heavily. Last week's reported toll of 4,314 enemy killed raised North Vietnamese and Viet Cong casualties to 23,992 reported dead since the offensive began Feb. 23. According to official U.S. figures, a total of 474,372 enemy troops have been killed in the war.

The U.S. Command also announced that an American F4 Phantom fighter-bomber was shot down yesterday 38 miles southwest of Da Nang, but the two crewmen bailed out and were rescued unhurt. It was the 352nd American warplane reported shot down in combat over South Vietnam.

In the biggest ground action reported, a thousand North-namese paratroopers guarding the approaches to vital Tay Ninh City northwest of Saigon.

South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and American helicopter gunships helped the paratroopers beat off the attack. Reports from the field said at least 38 enemy troops and seven government soldiers were killed, and 66 government troops wounded.

The first attack was made by about 800 enemy soldiers who moved in under cover of a mortar barrage and about 1:30 a.m. hit a base camp manned by about 800 paratroopers. The camp was 11 miles southwest of Tay Ninh and 55 miles northwest of Saigon.

About an hour later, 200 enemy troops hit a paratrooper battalion in night bivouac nine miles southeast of Tay Ninh and 44 miles northwest of Saigon.

Officers in the field said there were no casualties among the dozen or so American advisers working with the South Vietnamese.

Edgington told the board he has accepted a position as professor of education with the University of Miami's graduate school. He will also be co-director of the university's $1 million experimental project for the development of new methods of training teachers, he said.

Edgington was named superintendent in July 1966 following a nationwide search in which more than 200 candidates were interviewed. Hired at a salary of $18,500 a year, he was given a raise last year to $20,675.

Gaw graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1951 and received his master's degree at Berkeley in 1957.

He taught in Sloan, Nev., Lake Tahoe and the University of California's laboratory school on the Berkeley campus before coming to the Reed district in 1958.

He was convicted of violating an Air Force order by taking part in uniform in an anti-Vietnam war rally in San Francisco last Oct. 12 and in a television interview connected with the rally the night before.

In their suit before Zirpoli, Locks' attorneys will contend that Locks' punishment should be held up until higher military courts rule on the constitutionality of his position.

Bendich said yesterday the Uniform Code of Military Justice says that the punishment of any military man sentenced to more than one year in confinement must be suspended until the higher military appeals courts review the sentence.

Bendich said he and Werthimer will also challenge the constitutionality of the Air Force order banning participating in uniform in antiwar demonstrations but he was not sure whether Zirpoli would consider that question at the Tuesday hearing.

Locks' attorneys tried unsuccessfully during his court-martial to bring up the constitutional question but were overruled by the trial officer. They contend the order violates the First Amendment's guarantee of freedom of speech and that it is discriminatory because it allows military men supporting the war in Vietnam to voice opinions favoring but prevents opponents from voicing their opposition.

A group of antiwar Army men, using the same argument, filed suit in U.S. District Court in Columbia, S.C., Tuesday in an attempt to gain the same right to protest as civilians. Naming Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Brig. Gen. James F. Hollingsworth, commander of the sprawling Fort Jackson infantry training base there, as defendants, the soldiers claimed the Army is using "harassment and intimidation" to suppress antiwar dissent.

Army officials in Washington said the suit probably has no parallel in American military history.

Locks originally had been scheduled to go to the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Hamilton officials yesterday gave no reason why he was sent to Lowry instead.

NORAD

manded by Maj. Gen. James R. Winn at Hamilton, has about 85 men at its headquarters, 10 of them Canadians.

Shaughnessy was quoted yesterday by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, in whose district Hamilton is, as saying "under no circumstances" is the Air Force considering closing Hamilton down completely.

Shaughnessy said the base was considered an "integral part" of the Air Force and of the continent's protection against enemy attack.

Clausen said he was "vitally concerned with any changes at Hamilton" because of the important effect it has on Marin County's economy.

There was no indication how long it would take to phase the Western NORAD headquarters out from Hamilton if President Nixon's budget review deemed it necessary. That review will not be completed for several months and any move presumably would take at least several months more.

Other NORAD headquarters are at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska; Richards-Gebaur AFB, Mo.; Steward AFB, N. Y., and North Bay, Ontario.

Nixon Names Four Important Envoys

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon announced today his choices for four important ambassadorships, including the dispatching of former Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York to India.

In addition to tagging Keating to replace Chester Bowles in New Delhi, Nixon will nominate career diplomat William Leonhart as ambassador to Yugoslavia, former Republican Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska as envoy to Finland, and New Hampshire businessman Robert C. Hill to replace former Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York as ambassador to Spain.

TRANSIT

buses, according to the proposal.

The proposal, Hebert said, would broaden the county's tax base, cut welfare expenses "in a substantial manner," and provide 150 jobs, principally in Marin City.

The annual payroll would be $750,000, the corporation estimated.

"Our operation would provide convenient access to all major transit systems in the county existing or contemplated whether they be land, sea or air," according to their proposal.

The 130 buses, which would include 65 minibuses carrying up to 21 passengers each, would be air-conditioned and comfortable, they said. The 130 buses, Hebert noted, "would only be the initial system.

"We'd provide the nucleus for the transit district to operate," he said.

"All indications are that there would be reductions" in the fares now charged by Greyhound Bus Lines if the corporation took over the service, he said.

"Research is also under way to investigate the feasibility of a computerized fare system to eliminate the inefficiency of handling money," the corporation's proposal said.

"It is your duty to aid in implementing this system expediently, and we expect your cooperation," their proposal concluded.

According to their written proposal, the four directors of the corporation, named Marin County Transit Systems Inc., are Herbert R. Wade of Mill Valley, Reginald Tolbert of Forest Knolls, Theophus (Ted) Barron Jr. of Marin City, and Hebert.

Wade, also operations director for the corporation, has operated five buses transporting Marin City students to Tamalpais High School for about 18 months.

The attorney for the corporation, George Lu of San Francisco, declined to give newsmen details of who is backing his clients. The corporation was formed Monday, he said, and the four directors are only temporary.

Backers of the corporation, he acknowledged, "are not locally based." The backers are "radically mixed," he added.

He likened the proposal to a bus system run by blacks in Watts, but said there was no connection between the Watts system and the one proposed for Marin.

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer, both transit directors, termed it "refreshing." "It makes a lot of sense," Arrigoni said.

Only Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst objected to the proposal. The district's first task is to move commuters, not intracounty traffic, he said.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar, who said he admired the corporation for making its proposal, asked its directors to prepare a financial statement and details on fares.

Hebert said he would have both ready for presentation in two weeks, and the transit board set a special meeting to hear more about the proposal at 8 p.m. on April 16 in the Civic Center.

Supervisor Michael Wornum, citing the corporation's proposal to operate in three months, noted that the transit district "thinks in centuries when we propose transit systems."

"I hope they're not expecting a decision on the 16th," Baar said.

10 UNITS PLANNED

Larkspur Authorizes Low-Income Housing

Larkspur City Council last night authorized 10 units of leased housing in various parts of the city for low-income tenants under the program operated by the Marin County Housing Authority.

Council approval came with the condition that the subsidized housing be offered only to persons who have lived in the city for at least two years.

The program has been approved by eight other cities in Marin, and Neil B. Little, program director, reported last month that 125 units have been leased throughout Marin.

Under the program, the tenant pays 22 per cent of his income toward the rent and the federal government subsidizes the portion beyond that amount.

The chief proposed a study toward relocating the station and said he was thinking of the Hutchinson Quarry area, east of Highway 101.

Regional shopping center plans call for a three-lane road in front of the station on South Eliseo Drive, about 200 feet from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the chief said. "Cars would be stacked up in front of the door."

The council directed Shurtz and City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst to study potential sites for the station and the costs involved and report back by May 7.

Councilmen also heard a report from City Atty. Robert W. Elliott that the dity might have to hire an admiralty lawyer in its claim against the Corps of Engineers for damage to the Bon Air Bridge during dredging, estimated at $95,000.

Elliott said a "friendly suit" will be filed against the Marin County Flood Control District, and the state of California and two contractors, but he hopes that the corps will recognize its responsibility.

If the federal government rejects the claim, it may have to file in Washington, D.C. It may be under maritime law because a dredge was involved, and an admiralty lawyer would have to be retained, he said.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

PARK RULES — Introduced an ordinance to close city parks at 8 p.m. during the period from May 1 to Sept. 1 and limit use of play equipment to persons aged 12 and under. Bathurst noted that the closing hour would apply mainly to Dolliver Park since Piper Park operates on a schedule. The park curbs were prompted by vandalism at Dolliver Park last summer, believed caused by hippies.

DOG CONTROL — Confirmed its willingness to adopt Marin County's proposed uniform dog control ordinance if the district attorney's office handles prosecution and the penalty for nonlicensed dogs is increased.

ARK DWELLINGS — Postponed for 90 days review of the city regulations on living on boats and arks after Bathurst said the problems can be controlled by existing regulations.

FAMILY — Adopted an ordinance defining a family for zoning purposes as a group related by blood or marriage or a group of unrelated persons not exceeding five persons; an ordinance designed to halt communal living by hippies.

Magnolia Widening Contract Is Given

Larkspur City Council spent most of its session last night on roads, awarding two contracts and thrashing out the problem of an access road to the Meadowwood subdivision.

The council awarded Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael, lowest of five bidders, a contract for the widening of Magnolia Avenue from Daly Swim School to Bon Air Road at a cost of $130,840.

Ghilotti Bros. also was awarded a contract for widening of Oak Road at a cost of $27,612, lower of two bids.

Councilmen chose the plan recommended by City Engineer Roy Hoffman, which ties in with widening Redwood Avenue to 26 feet by filling downslope property owned by Albert A. Drennan.

Drennan has strongly opposed this option contending it will obliterate his creek "and destroy the natural environment of Redwood Avenue."

Planning consultant Norman T. Gilroy, representing Drennan, had proposed another plan, which would widen Redwood to 22 feet by using land on both sides.

Hoffman estimated that the combined jobs, Oak and Redwood, would cost $38,992 under his proposal, and $47,599 under Gilroy's plan.

Gilroy commented that court costs would shave the difference in costs. Drennan had offered to surrender a part of his land under the Gilroy plan, but it appeared that under the adopted plan the city will have to condemn to acquire the land.

Councilman Alfred Malvino commented after Gilroy's remark that the councilmen "shouldn't concern themselves with a condemnation suit. I'd have to take something like this as a threat. We should go along with what we think is best and vote it on that point."

Councilman Benton A. Sifford Jr., chosen vice mayor last night, said that replanting and landscaping in the area will improve the appearance of the area after the widening.

The council also authorized hiring Harding and Associates of San Rafael, soils engineers, at costs of up to $800 for the Oak Road job and up to $1,500 for the Magnolia Avenue widening.

After the decision, Drennan said, "I'm quite unhappy."

Councilmen aired the need for another access road to the Meadowwood subdivision, near Chanticleer Road, for more than an hour.

Holcomb Avenue has been used as an access, but councilmen last night gave notice of their intention to abandon it for access use.

Residents in the area had complained in February about the use of the road and last night attorney Bernard Etchverry of San Francisco, reporesenting one homeowner whose land was being used for right-of-way, asked for a determination that it was only a temporary arrangement.

The city planning commission had recommended that Ward Street be extended to meet Meadowwood drive and provide access to the subdivision.

Councilmen agreed that the Ward Street proposal, estimated to cost $65,000, would be beyond the city's financial ability.

Mayor Neil R. Brixon said the plan for the subdivision was to have two entrances, one through Chanticleer and another to be provided by the developer.

Two units of the subdivision have been approved, and councilmen indicated they wouldn't approve a final map of the proposed third unit until the road access problem is solved.

H. B. Reid Jr., developer of the subdivision, said that there are 13 homes in the first unit, and eight completed in the second unit.

Reid suggested that rather than cut off Holcomb access permanently, the city put a barrier there "and see what happens" to traffic at the Chanticleer entrance.

Councilmen set no date for closing off the Holcomb access, but asked that the matter be put back on the agenda in June.

Neil Brixon New Mayor Of Larkspur

For Brixon, who has served on the council since Sept. 7, 1960, it will be his third one-year term as mayor. He was elected mayor in 1964 and re-elected in 1965.

Brixon also is in his third one-year term as chairman of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen. He is the owner of the Elite Rug Cleaners in Larkspur and a partner in Service Masters, a firm dealing in furniture, carpet cleaning and fire insurance.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced the indictment of the Panthers yesterday and said the attacks were planned for today—when stores were filled with Easter shoppers. He said the attacks were intended to strike "the white power structure."

Extra security precautions were in force at stores involved in the alleged plot. One store official said "all the precautions it is possible to take have been taken" and another said all days off had been canceled for his internal security force.

Novato Faces Three Plans To Raise Pay

The Novato City Council will face three proposals for salary increases and fringe benefits for fiscal 1969-70 at its April 22 meeting.

The requests have been prepared by the Novato City employees, their department heads and City Manager Charles A. Brown who chopped requested increases which ranged as high as 17.5 per cent down to 10 per cent for the police and 5 per cent for the rest.

COST TO CITY

Brown's recommendations, he estimated, would increase salary cost to the city by $38,443, from $655,605 this year to $694,048 for fiscal 1969-70.

City employees asked for varied increases, 5 per cent over all and 12.5 per cent for the police.

Department heads reduced these requests to a basic 5 and 10 per cent, with some exceptions in the police force and public works.

Police Chief Robert J. Di Grazia asked a 17.5 per cent raise for the senior police clerk and a 15 per cent increase for other police clerks.

The police also are seeking a uniform allowance for clerks and incentive pay for advancement through the police academy and other schools. The latter would cost an additional $3,250 per year, Brown estimated.

RECRUITING NEED

"The city has been unable to recruit police under the present salary scale as fast as they have gone elsewhere," he said.

Public Works Director Clifford Temps asked a 7.5 per cent increase for maintenance men and 15 per cent for the maintenance leadman.

In addition, city employees want a $5,000 life insurance policy which would be in effect as long as they work for the city. It would cost the city $2,000 in annual premiums, Brown said. Other requests were for books and tuition reimbursement when attending a job-connected school.

Woman's Coat Taken From Doctor's Office

A $40 suede coat belonging to Barbara Anita Monda of 142 Tamalpais Road, Fairfax, was stolen from a waiting room of a pediatrician's office yesterday, San Rafael police said today.

The theft occurred on the second floor of the medical building at 1540 5th Street, according to police, who did not know whose office it was.

Bay Area Earthquake Hazard Study Sought

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The Legislature was urged today to launch a study of earthquake hazards in the Bay Area by a group sponsored by the Institute of Government Studies at the University of California.

The group of 18 experts in seismic hazards, building design, city planning, industry, disaster planning and government included Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum, who lectures at the university in city planning, and E. Jack Schoop of San Rafael, chief planner for the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

"Every major building or other structure of any consequence will experience at least one great earthquake during its lifetime," the group said in its statement to the Legislature.

"We urgently need new policies and intensified earthquake research to guide future decisions on land use and urban development, housing and industrial location and construction design," it said. Also needed, the group declared, is abatement of existing hazards.

The group's call for a study of the problem closely paralleled a proposal in January that a San Francisco Bay Area Earthquake Commission be set up. The Independent-Journal reported that proposal in detail on Jan. 7 when it was made by Stanley Scott, assistant director of the university's institute.

Innocent Plea To Auto Theft

Bennette Miles Kellam, 48, of Fresno, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to stealing a car in San Rafael on Sept. 20, 1967. A preliminary hearing was set for April 8.

Kellam was arrested last weekend on a bench warrant which had been issued in November 1967, when he failed to appear for arraignment.

Fair-Marin Manager Job Attracts 51 Applicants

A total of 51 persons, including 15 from Marin County, have applied for the job of manager of Fair-Marin Inc.

The salary range for the job is $14,000 to $16,000.

Personnel Director Maren Rinne and Asst. Administrator Thomas F. Campanella are prescreening the applications to see which meet the qualifications set forth in the recruiting brochure. The list of qualified applicants will be presented to the Fair-Marin board of directors, which will set up interviews and make the selection.

The manager of Fair-Marin will be responsible for the administration and operation of the veterans memorial auditorium and fairgrounds at the Civic Center, and for scheduling of events and promotion of year-round use of the facilities.

Qualifications call for at least five years' professional experience in auditorium, theater or cultural center management; fair operation; or management of performing at arts, visual arts or quality recreational facilities.

Harold Stockstad, president of the Fair-Marin board of directors, said he hopes the manager can be selected by the end of this month.

Pleads Innocent

Terrence Scott Borrman, 19, of Mill Valley, who allegedly ran a California Highway Patrol Officer off Lucas Valley Road Thursday while driving a stolen car, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. A preliminary hearing was set for Monday.

Silent Majority Seeks Support

The Marin unit of SMART (Silent Majority Against Revolutionary Tactics) may be disbanded unless it receives greater support from its members, a unit spokesman said today.

What was described as an "emergency organizational meeting" will be held Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in Room 343 of the Marin County Civic Center.

The local SMART unit reported that five San Francisco units and the East Bay and Peninsula units have had enthusiastic participation but the Marin unit's second meeting on March 25 attracted only five out of a hundred registered members plus five other interested non-members.

Strep Cases Lead County Disease List

A total of 91 cases of streptococcus infection, 58 of them in Novato, was reported in Marin County last week, County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht has announced.

There were also 26 gonorrhea cases reported, four cases of infectious hepatitis, one of serum hepatitis and one of syphilis, Dr. Albrecht said.

Professor's Pay Issue Is Probed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Attorneys are checking today into why Prof. Nathan Hare was not paid for the month he was suspended from San Francisco State College.

School authorities confirmed yesterday that the state controller's office had refused a March paycheck to Hare, acting head of a proposed Black Studies Department and a leader in the Black Faculty Union.

S. I. Hayakawa, acting college president, suspended Hare for a month Feb. 17 after Hare and others had shouted down Hayakawa during a faculty strike. But Hayakawa said then that Hare would be suspended with pay.

Polish Airliner Crash Kills 51; Two From U.S.

WARSAW (UPI)—A Polish Airlines two-engine turboprop loaded to capacity crashed near the city of Cracow yesterday, killing all 51 persons aboard. Two of the passengers were Americans.

The Soviet-built high-wing AN24 went down in the foothills of the Tatra Mountains near the village of Podpolice, about 25 miles southwest of Cracow, the Polish news agency PAP said.

The Americans were identified as Richard Andrews, 45, of Forest Hills, N.Y., and Jean Irwin, 25, of Los Angeles.

An official of the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines said Andrews worked in KLM's passenger handling department at Kennedy International Airport and was on a family visit to Poland.

Miss Irwin was a student of dancing and drama at Warsaw's Grand Theater. She had spent about 18 months in Poland.

Three other foreigners aboard were identified as Ulica Zaulek, 26, Paul Turner, 37, both of England, and G. Barril, 38, of Italy.

The crash was the third and most serious accident involving a Polish Airlines AN24 in four and one half months.

A similar model plane skidded off the runway at Warsaw's Okecie Airport Nov. 11 without causing injuries. Another AN24 made a crash landing near Wroclaw early this year causing slight injuries to several passengers.

Marin Theft Case Left Up To Fresno

A charge of car theft will not be pressed in Marin courts against Myron Price, 26, of no fixed address, the district attorney's office said yesterday, because officials in Frenso County have charged him with the same theft.

Price, who was arrested in Santa Venetia March 26, will be turned over to Fresno authorities.

Only Minor Injuries In 101 Truck Crash

A Eureka man escaped with minor injuries on Highway 101 yesterday at 10 a.m. when his tractor-trailer rig loaded with lumber crashed through a guardrail. The truck cab went over an enbankment at the railroad avenue exit in Cotati.

Daniel Pettit, 39, was reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital with head cuts. The California Highway Patrol said the truck jacknifed on the road, separating the cab from the truck as it plunged down a steep enbankmant. Southbound traffic on the freeway was held up for more than an hour while the wreckage was cleared.

New Threat Of Soviet Troops Looms In Prague

PRAGUE (AP) — Moscow told Czechoslovakia's leaders to prevent further anti-Soviet demonstrations or Soviet occupation troops would step in, foreign newsmen have been told.

The message was brought to Prague by Soviet Defense Minister Andrei Grechko and Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir S. Semyonov who arrived on Monday.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the two were sent "on instructions of the Soviet government." Since their arrival they have met several times with the leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist Party.

Foreign newsmen were told the ultimatum they brought gave Czechoslovak authorities a choice between halting further anti-Soviet demonstrations on their own or asking for help from some of the estimated 70,000 Soviet troops here since their invasion last August.

Candidate Night For Hub Schools

Five candidates for three openings on the San Anselmo School District Board will face the public at a candidates' night Monday at 8 p.m. at Wade Thomas School, Ross Avenue at Kensington Road.

The event is being sponsored by a citizens committee headed by John Holm.

Candidates have been sent six questions which they will be asked to answer during eight-minute presentations, after which the session will be opened for questions from the floor. Bryce W. Anderson of the Independent-Journal will serve as moderator.

Juveniles Nabbed

Five juveniles, aged 15 to 17, four of them walk-aways from Marin County Juvenile Hall last Sunday and one a 16-year-old San Anselmo boy, were placed in Juvenile Hall yesterday after they were found sleeping in an empty house at 121 Oak Knoll Avenue, San Anselmo, police said today.

Petaluma Accident Injures Airman

An airman stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base was injured yesterday at 2:55 p.m. when his car struck a tree on Petaluma Boulevard North, near Jesse Lane, north of Petaluma.

Gene Garcia, 38, who resides in Sebastopol, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for a broken nose and facial cuts and transferred to Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco. The California Highway Patrol said his car skidded on the wet pavement and struck the tree.

MYRL DAHL tries to play the saw with a violin bow as Mrs. Hiorth accompanies her. The saw must be played on the untoothed side, with the wooden handle held under the right knee and the metal part across the other knee. Vibrations of the knee will vibrate sound, they say. Mrs. Dahl said that the sound resembles the human voice. Her other instruments are a tire pump which she has not "mastered" and a gut bucket made of an old Wisconsin butter tub.

WOMAN HISTORY-MAKERS

Activities Of 'The Friend' Evoke Old Familiar Refrain In America

Women have made their own challenge in their own way in American society. Some lesser known achievers, challengers and characters are subject of this series on American "woman history."

By BARBARA HOSMER

As founder of a religious cult she struck a chord that has recurred through 200 years of social development.

Born to well-to-do parents in Rhode Island in 1752, Jemima grew up extremely pretty and especially fond of frivolous reading. But at the impressionable age of 16 she heard a preacher at a revival meeting and decided to change her life completely.

She fell into a coma for several days. Back among the living once more, she claimed that she had died, gone to Heaven and had a conversation with the Lord. She then reported to her family that she had returned to earth to direct all good men and women in the path of Jesus as "The Public Universal Friend." Henceforth she always referred to herself as "The Friend."

NEXT THE FRIEND obtained a flowing white robe, mounted a horse and rode off through Rhode Island to preach to any who would listen. Tall, black-haired, and with especially compelling eyes, The Friend became an effective preacher, holding meetings and founding churches as she went.

Preaching celibacy and the need to support her sect above family or other responsibilities, The Friend led a band of converts into Pennsylvania on horseback and then on to western New York. There, near Seneca Lake she set up a colony called Jerusalem, which began to prosper through dedication and work.

With it The Friend prospered too. All property was owned jointly by the group, but somehow The Friend laid claim to some 12,000 acres for her own use and instructed her followers to erect a grand structure which was to surprise the casual traveler by its sudden rise above the forest as he approached the colony.

From her mansion headquarters The Friend began to lord it over the faithful followers, with six handmaidens in attendance upon her at all times.

"The Friend hath need of these things," she is reported to have explained when she wished to acquire something, and when mumblings of revolt broke out she would don the flowing white robe and call upon all her eloquence to soothe the temper of her brood.

THE DUKE de la Rochefodcauld paid the colony a visit in 1796 and recorded that The Friend's abode "resembled the boudoir of a fine lady, not that of a nun." He reported that The Friend dressed herself in the finest silks and conducted

By DOROTHY NEWELL

"Clink, ding or burr," says Mrs. Allen Dahl, the director to those playing the percussion "instruments" such as a washboard, gut bucket, bones, or a barrel drum, while the melody is played on Pakistani cow bells, piano, violin, oboe and at times the accordion.

The Newcomers Rural Band was organized by Myrl Dahl, an accordion teacher, but two of those in the band, Mrs. Edwin Grundstrom, who plays the bells and Mrs. Cal Hunt, who plays the gut bucket and formerly played with a band in San Rafael, are not members of the Newcomers Club.

Myrl says she has known country music since she "slept in the hay" while her father called square dances in the hay barns in Minnesota when she was small.

"My goal is to revive the old time homey instruments played spontaneously from a natural personal impulse on available things like water goblets, hand saws, tire pumps, washboards, (which now must be purchased in second hand stores as they do not make them of metal any longer) nail kegs and bells."

And there is certainly no question that the women are playing spontaneously and enjoying it. And if one wants to hear an unusual sound, he'll hear it when the rural band strikes up "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" or "76 Trombones."

How did Myrl acquire the

The nuptial rites took place at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley, where the brides' father is pastor, and were performed by him, assisted by the brides' uncle, Chaplain Stacy Roberts Jr. of Lemoore Naval Station.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Generation Gap Includes Dating And Brings Mixed Reactions

DEAR HELEN:

This letter concerns the guy who called himself "Shut-Out," and who says 15-17 year old boys are all out after one thing and girls should go with older men.

He is anything but right but then what can you expect of a guy who says "I am going to sock it to you in the only way groovy chicks will understand." He sounds like an overgrown teenybopper, who just might develop into a hairdresser or interior decorator.

Let him stick to his own generation — if they'll have him! — A 15-YEAR-OLD GUY

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter said the same thing that "Shut-Out" did when she wanted to date a man five years older than she was. Now, at 16, she has an illegitimate baby and a broken heart. — MRS. T. G.

DEAR HELEN:

I would like to compliment "Shut Out," who is so-o-o-o right about older guys being more gentlemanly.

I've gone out with men 25 years old and they treat me like I was a porcelain princess. But boys my own age (16) can't even carry on a good conversation. They just lip-read and talk with their hands, if you know what I mean! — H.G.T.

DEAR PROS AND CONS on the "Older Man" Controversy:

Your letters all add up to two words: "Don't generalize." There are good guys and bad guys in every age group. Be smart enough to know the difference. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'd like to say I think the girl who felt so sorry for herself because her folks were divorced is very selfish. My mother and father divorced when I was young, but I've never hated them for it. Parents have feelings too. Maybe there would have been much more torment for all of us, if they had stayed together. People who "stick it out" for the kids aren't doing the children any favor — they just give them an example of how miserable marriage is.

I have a step-father and a step-mother and I'm not ashamed of either of them. My parents are all friends, though of course they don't bum around together.

I don't think divorce is the only answer to marriage problems, but I do think a child should want happiness for her parents also, not just for herself and she should adjust to what she can't change. — HAPPY CHILD

DEAR HELEN:

May I speak for a misunderstood generation, namely: Parents.

Since the youth of today stress above all else the hypocrisy of adults, perhaps the girl who signed herself "Stop Broken Homes" should look at her argument from this point of view.

She says parents should stay together for the sake of children as long as they don't actually hate each other. How dishonest! When love leaves, pretense begins. There is nothing more deadening to the human spirit than pretending emotions that don't exist. The result: Usually two bitter, quarrelling (or quietly antagonistic) people, and what child won't be blighted by this?

Two real parents create the ideal climate for growth, but only if love is there to supply warmth.

As a member of the new, wonderfully idealistic generation, SBH should not condemn us for hypocrisy, then ask us to practice it when it interferes with her comfort and convenience. — B.C.

Society Advises Against Fear In Protecting Self From Cancer

Most modern women know something about the threat of cancer of the female breast. It is wrong for anyone to live in fear of this or any other illness, but you should be aware of the simple steps you can take to detect possible trouble early.

Breast cancers are often first discovered by the women who have them. If discovery is made early in the course of the disease, the chances for effective treatment are vastly improved. It's simply a matter of good common sense, therefore, for all women to make a point of examining their own breasts at regular intervals. Most authorities feel this ought to be done about once a month, preferably at the conclusion of the menstrual flow.

Self-examination of the breasts need not be a complicated affair. Most women are very familiar with the appearance and feel of their breasts. It should be easy for them to spot any change which might signal early cancer.

First, look at your breasts in a mirror. With your arms hanging loosely at your sides, check for any change in the usual size, shape, or contour of the breasts. Then try to spot irregular areas, such as depressions in the surface in the form of dimpling or puckering. Likewise, search for any unusual elevation which might be produced by a swelling underneath. Look at the nipples to see if there is any discharge from them or rash around them.

Second, repeat this careful visual examination of both breasts with your arms held high overhead.

Third, feel your breasts for the presence of lumps which were not there before. Your fingers can locate abnormal areas quite easily. This is best done while you are lying down. Feel all around each breast in a regular fashion so that you will not miss any part. When you reach the outside of each breast, search under each arm, as well.

Does this description sound too simple to be useful? How can you decide whether what you are seeing and feeling is really normal or abnormal? You can't — but your doctor can. All you have to do is spot the changes, whatever they may be. Then, see your doctor to find out what they mean.

Don't worry about cancer, but if you are a sensible woman, do try to protect yourself by following these simple steps.

IN NOVATO

Television Viewing Survey Jolts Parents Into Action

Effects of television viewing on their own families are being studied by a group of women in North Marin, who have found that television may indeed be shaping attitudes in their children.

Through its Communications Media Section the Novato Branch of the American Association of University Women is seeking to find out what television viewing is doing to youngsters and adults.

Members are keeping a log marked off in blocks (similar to a calendar) for successive days of viewing. Within these blocks they have noted programs viewed, age of viewers, time of day of viewing takes place and comments concerning programming and hours they have devoted to the TV screen, according to Mrs. Forest Van Vleck who reported on the last meeting of the section.

QUESTIONS ASKED of members were: "How selective was their TV viewing, what observations had they made concerning program content, length of viewing time and what role does television play in their family life?"

At the meeting members evaluated the merits of the survey and decided to make known to TV station licensees their wishes for quality programming and adherence to the TV code which in part states "such subjects as violence and sex shall be presented without undue emphasis."

After looking over the log sheets, members found that most of the viewing was by their children. They would watch their favorite programs in addition to what the parents watched. The average number of hours of viewing time seemed to vary from family to family depending, in part, on the ages and number of children. A conservative estimate was 15-20 hours weekly, Mrs. Van Vleck said.

SOME COMMENTS made by those who took part in the survey were for a more conscious effort, almost to the point of new restraint, to select programs with greater care and to limit viewing time.

Mrs. Van Vleck said that one mother related how the 6 p.m. news and meal time became synonymous in her household, that violence and the spectre of war consumed along with the evening meal left both children and parents tense, abrupt with one another and uncommunicative.

Recognition of these unhealthy symptoms soon decided the mother against such an unnerving disruption. Meals are now conducted in a quiet relaxed atmosphere, conversation is free flowing and the dinner hour is once more an enjoyable time of day, she said.

"My children become irritable and tense and begin to fight with one another after one or two hours of uninterrupted viewing," complained another mother. Other parents said they had observed a similar pattern of behavior among their children. So the group felt that not only program content but viewing time, with its demands on the whole person for total concentration of the senses, seems to produce real aggressive tendencies, Mrs. Van Vleck said.

VIOLENT PROGRAMS viewed by youngsters can cause family conflict, one parent noted. Everytime her children watched "Bat Man" they began to argue and pummel each other. As far as violent content, this program had the most apparent ill effects for her children, the mother reported.

Children do have the ability to discriminate between what is fantasy and real on the television screen, suggested the mother of two small boys whose favorite program is "Lost in Space." She claims her children will act out this program for a greater part of their play time.

It was generally agreed by the members that the power and influence of television is a great enough learning force that it may now be shaping attitudes and values, of children especially, to a degree depending on the amount of viewing engaged in.

With regard to influencing values and attitueds, one mother related an episode in the series "Run for Your Life" in which a young 18-year-old runaway turned Hippie was brought before the court for writing and distributing pornographic poetry. The girl was portrayed as a symbol of innocence and purity and was acquitted by the judge while society, the man who brought charges and the prosecutor were portrayed as narrow minded, evil thinking, pathetic products of a hostile, hateful, sick society, the mother reported.

The group concurred that in other words morality and the ten commandments were being viewed as passe. "With this philosophy anything can be condoned, even murder," the parent said.

MEMBERS ALSO felt that young people would be greatly influenced in their moral outlook and attitudes with much exposure to this kind of content in all its subleties. When children or young adults watch TV they are not aware they are learning, members said.

The observations which the television survey aroused proved very valuable in promoting a keener awareness of the members' responsibility to be selective of program content and length of viewing time. Members report they also have become more aware of the station licensee and his responsibility to the public for enforcing the TV code, Mrs. Van Vleck said.

Traditional Easter Eggs Ready For Shoppers This Weekend

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The following guide to the nation's good buys for the weekend was prepared by the Departments of Agriculture (USDA) and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that Easter weekend food shoppers will find excellent displays of meat and poultry and good supplies of some fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets.

All stores should feature abundant supplies of eggs for the traditional Easter egg hunts and for dyeing.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue as the most abundant meats. Beef roasts, steaks and ground beef are also in the abundant class and should be featured in most areas. Pork items are ample enough to fill all shopping needs. These include bacon, Boston butts, chops, ham, roasts, sausage, smoked picnics and spareribs. Maine sardines, canned salmon and fish sticks and portions are the fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Cabbage, carrots, onions and potatoes repeat as the most abundant fresh vegetables in all areas. Fresh fruit in best supply include bananas, grapefruit and oranges.

USDA's plentiful foods for April will supplement your shopping list this weekend—they include prunes, canned and frozen green beans and corn, dry beans, rice, and peanuts and peanut products.

In the West:

Wholesale prices on beef loins and ribs are higher in all markets while prices on poultry, eggs and butter remain largely unchanged.

Beef ribs are higher and loins are higher in all markets. Other beef cuts are higher. Fresh pork loins are higher in Portland Boston butts are higher in all markets.

Fresh skinned hams are lower in San Francisco. Smoked hams are higher in Portland and San Francisco.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: apples, avocados, bananas, grapefruit, emperor grapes, oranges, carrots, onions, potatoes and tomatoes.

her formal appearances with expert showmanship. Though she was 44, the Duke found her in as good repair as a woman under 30 and he thought her manner to be as studied as an actress.

Suspicions began to appear in the minds of some of the females of the colony when The Friend felt the need of a spiritual companion in the person of Squire Parker of the colony. They listened and watched and at last reported that the squire and The Friend "were blessing each other with raptures." With that the disillusioned colony began to come apart.

With a population once of 260 followers, Jerusalem's people dwindled through the years. The Friend grew fat and overblown, with little trace of her former great beauty. She died in 1819 embittered and old, and Jerusalem headed for extinction.

Miss Waknitz Engaged To Wed Kit Mosden

KRISTIN WAKNITZ

The engagement of Kristin Louise Waknitz and Christopher (Kit) Mosden, both students in their junior years at the University of Puget Sound, is announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Waknitz of Seattle, Wash.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mosden of Ross. He is a graduate of Redwood High School. The late Judge and Mrs. Adolphus E. Graupner of San Francisco are his grandparents.

Kristin is the sister of F. William Waknitz, also a student at the University of Puget Sound. She is a graduate of Franklin High School in Seattle. Her sorority is Gamma Phi Beta.

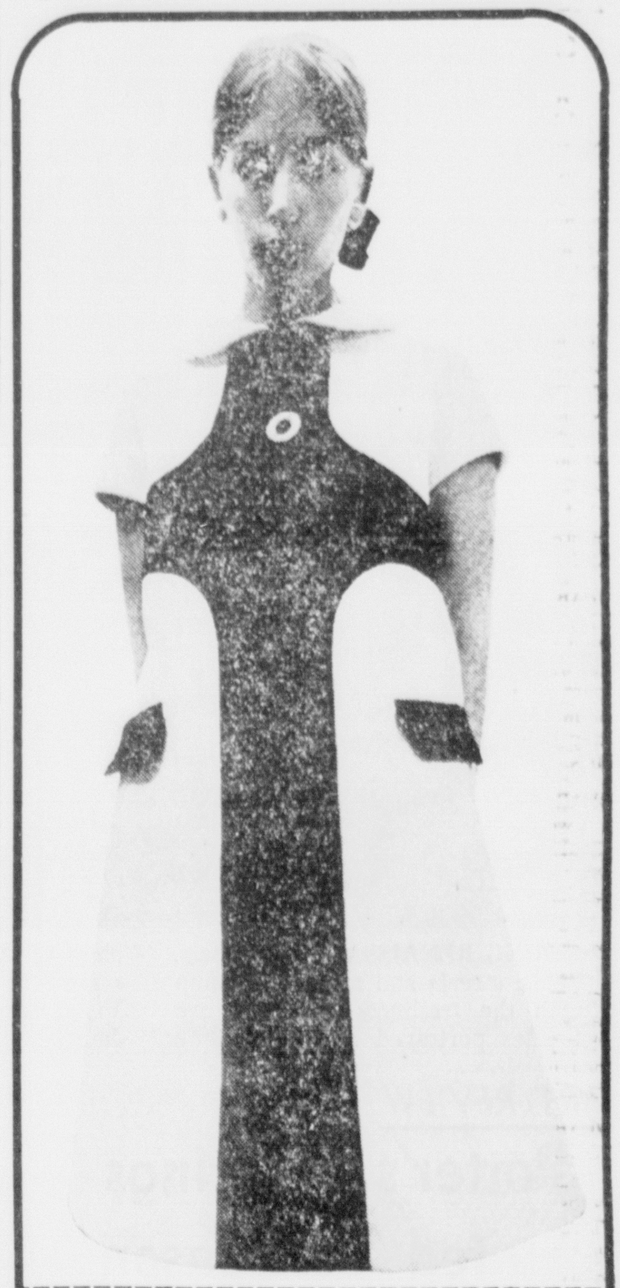
Man's Look

Deep color tones now have moved into the sportshirt picture, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. For a smart casual look, it is suggested the dark shirts be worn with boldly striped flared trousers and accessorized with a neckerchief of silk in a contrasting or accenting color.



No earthly reason for a "confinement" any more. At least not lookswise. Here's a desk-to-date-with-the-stork sort of dress. White cotton knitting, coat buttoned, black banded, looking cool, crisp, copeable. Also perfect for Easter.

ART REVIEW

Potter's Paintings Suited To Season

By LAURA DEVENDORF

If ever a painting medium was suited to spring, it's watercolor. And the "Spring Renaissance" of Ken Potter's watercolors through April 17 at Gallery III in Corte Madera's Co-op Center, illustrates the point with landscapes and street scenes that have much of the season's damp-clean newness.

It also demonstrates Potter's facility for this difficult medium.

Realistic watercolors worked in the traditional way are no cinch. Ask anyone who has tried and you'll find that working quickly from light to dark, from drooling wet washes to dry brush detail, always remembering where everything will ultimately go, avoiding open white areas and doing it all rapidly, with no corrections as the work dries — takes a great deal of talent and experience.

Even if the painting does turn out to be technically sound there is no guarantee that it will be more than just another competent realistic watercolor like dozens of others.

This is a problem for any artist who insists on painting the same themes in the same way year after year. No matter how adequate each new piece may be, it can seem just another chorus of the same song which picks up slickness and loses originality and sparkle with repetition.

If Potter has had a problem it has been this. His technique has been sound but often the edge of excitement has been dulled by repetition. In several of these spring scenes, however, his finesse with the medium has blended with the fluid freshness of the season.

Subject and technique explain and enhance each other in the damp pastels and wet darks of blooming fruit trees, misty skies and fields, fishing boats stained with dawn colors, blue-green mountain shadows and wet brick and pavement.

They are fresh with the clean liquid light of spring and are more convincing than Potter's works have been in some time.

Businessman To Jail Like Draft Evader

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A judge who sentenced a man to prison after he pleaded guilty to tax evasion says a businessman shouldn't be treated differently than a draft evader.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge William T. Sweigert ordered yesterday Frank D. Helman, 66, retired Manteca auto dealer accountant, to serve 18 months in federal prison and fined him $15,000.

"No judge of this court can, in good conscience, perform the distasteful and sometimes heart rending duty of committing young idealists to jail for refusal to perform duties under the controversial Selective Service Act and, at the same time, extend the lenient and sometimes meaningless imposition of a fine for this kind of crime.

He said Helman was "materialistic rather than idealistic."

Helman was indicted on nine charges of evading personal taxes and taxes from an auto agency partnership which he sold in 1966.

He pleaded guilty to two charges involving 1965 taxes.

Russ Explain Goal Of Seabed Disarmament

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union today gave the first extensive explanation of its draft treaty to demilitarize the sea bed. It was closer to the U.S. position than had been thought.

The Soviet draft was presented March 18 and called for a ban on any kind of military installation on the sea bed. Chief U.S. delegate Gerard C. Smith said such complete demilitarization "would be simply unworkable and probably harmful."

Smith expressed fear last week that it would bar such things as communication and navigation aids and submarine warning systems. The United States thinks the ban should be limited to nuclear weapons and other weapons of mass destruction.

Chief Soviet delegate Alexei A. Roshchin said today that under the Soviet draft, "according to international law, demilitarization does not presuppose restrictions on establishment and use of communications, beacons and any other means of infrastructure."

He said demilitarization means agreement not to "station troops and place objects and structures of military character."

Roshchin also said the treaty would only be operative beyond a 12-mile coastal limit and inside that belt such installations as submarine warning stations could be built.

The Soviet draft would not even bar the use of military equipment or personnel for peaceful scientific research on the sea bed, Roshchin commented.

Terra Linda Woman Denies Chico Theft

Patricia Ann Miller, 22, of Terra Linda, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court ot stealing a car in Chico. A preliminary hearing was set for April 15.

Miss Miller was arrested March 19 when she returned to the car which was parked at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael. She said she had borrowed the car from its owner but a check of Chico police showed that the car was stolen, police said.

SHOOTING VICTIM — An unidentified youth lies wounded outside a Palm Springs (Riverside County) rock concert, after being shot when violence erupted among the thousands of youths spending Easter vacation in the desert resort. Police Struggle To Keep Lid On Palm Springs Mob

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — City police backed by reinforcements from up to 100 miles away tried to put the lid on this desert resort today after two days of violence and cavorting — in some cases nude—by thousands of vacationing youths.

Nearly 300 persons had been arrested, most of them for drunkenness or distrubing the peace. The city jail was crammed. One man was detained on a charge of statutory rape of a girl teen-ager.

Police and deputy sheriffs marshaled forces for a sweep today through Tahquitz Canyon west of Palm Springs. There, large groups of hippies and students had gathered, many to sunbathe and swim without clothing.

After a rock music show last night, police fired gunshots into the air and tear gas to quell rampaging crowds.

Rocks and bottles hit several officers and broke windows of cars. In the melee, police said, a local man shot and wounded a boy and girl with a rifle.

The encounter came as 5,000 youths gathered outside a baseball park while 10,000 others inside listened to rock music. Those outside tried to rush the gates, were repelled by police and hurled missiles.

The violence was an encore to a disturbance Tuesday night after a concert in a drive-in theater.

Asked why the trouble started, Jim Packard, 17, of Santa Barbara, said "We have no money, nothing to do. We see these people living in motels and eating fine and the rest of us are hungry."

"Generally, they're an antagonistic group, a bunch of rowdy hippies. I don't think they're students, they're just bums. They don't have anybody. They live in cars and they don't know what to do with themselves."

To Cement Relations?

Bret Harte Gas Fire Costly In Time, Equipment

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has estimated it lost 465,000 cubic feet of natural gas from the ruptured gas line which fed a fire for five hours and 45 minutes Friday night in Bret Harte Heights outside San Rafael.

In addition, manhours for eight men who worked most of Friday night and Saturday and four who finished the work this week, cost about $600, Johnson said.

The gas line was broken when a tractor loader driven by Harold Holtzinger scraped through mud at a construction site and hit the line. The tractor, worth $31,000, was destroyed.

Pullout Bickering At Paris Parley

PARIS (UPI)—The United States said today there can be no lasting peace in Southeast Asia until North Vietnam withdraws its forces from Cambodia and Laos as well as South Vietnam. It offered a mutual withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam.

The Communists countered with charges it was the United States which committed aggression in all three countries and said the Nixon administration was trying to mislead the American public by making them believe there has been "progress" in the Paris peace talks.

"The Paris conference on Vietnam has so far made no progress at all," Viet Cong chief negotiator Tran Buu Kiem told the 11th session.

He said optimistic American reports of "secret talks" while putting forward other conditions "expose their deceitful and stubborn nature."

The American position was set forth by Lawrence E. Walsh, heading the U.S. team in the absence of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge who is in Washington for consultations.

"The people of South Vietnam cannot hope for a lasting peace so long as North Vietnam continues to violate its international obligations—so long as this infiltration from North Vietnam continues and so long as North Vietnam refuses to respect international demarcation lines and international boundaries," Walsh said.

"Your discussions cannot be regarded as serious until you recognize that there must be a mutual withdrawal of external forces," Walsh said. "We believe that our proposals are practical steps towards peace. We ask that you address yourself to them seriously."

He cited several instances. When the 1962 Geneva agreements were signed to end a civil war in Laos the United States withdrew all 666 of its military advisers, he said, while North Vietnam withdrew 40 of its 10,000 troops. Since then North Vietnam has sent in a total of 40,000 men.

FINAL LINK IN BAY

A double-barreled tube, the final link in the world's longest underwater subway, floated on the San Francisco Bay today waiting to be dropped into place. The tube, illustrated by this drawing, was to be connected by nightfall. The first section of the $90 million Bay Area Rapid Transit District system was lowered 17 months ago in the trench 135 feet below the surface of the bay. The 19,200-foot tube is expected to be in operation by 1972. (BART Photo)

Accounting Contract Gets Reluctant Nod

Marin County Transit District directors, with painful reluctance, voted 5-1 last night to contract with a financial consultant to work out accounting methods for a Marin-San Francisco bus system. (Another Marin transit story, page 1.)

Directors sharply criticized Seymour Kashin, manager of the district, for trimming only $1,075 from his previous proposal that the consultants be paid up to $14,000.

The directors agreed on March 18 that the cost should be reduced considerably after they cut some parts of the proposed study.

"NO" VOTE CAST

Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, who cast the only "no" vote, objected that the maximum of $12,925 provided in the contract automatically will become the minumum cost of the study by the consultants.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar, noting that Ernst and Ernst of San Francisco had offered to do the job for $12,000, said "it seems strange to me that we have to go all the way to Washington, D.C. — it's not the proper way of doing business. You're on thin ice when you grant a contract to a firm when another offered a lower price," he declared.

Kashin said he had selected the firm of R. L. Banks & Associates Inc. because he was familiar with the Washington firm, which the district paid about $15,000 last year to prepare a case against Greyhound Bus Lines' fare hike.

"There's a great deal of think work involved" in such a study, Kashin said, adding the maximum figure "is for the protection of the district."

GNOSS CRITICAL

Supervisor William A. Gnoss, while also critical of the high figure, argued successfully that the work had to be done soon so a firm proposal could be presented to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District. The transit district directors voted last December to contract with the bridge district to finance and operate a bus system.

(Meanwhile, the bridge district is considering a plan to go into the commuter bus business on its own.)

Kashin said the consultants' work should be completed in May.

Chairman John F. McInnis was absent.

Skeleton Bus Network Is Outlined

The long-awaited skeleton of a network of commuter bus routes throughout the populated areas of Marin was presented last night to the Marin County Transit District board of directors by its manager, Seymour Kashin.

The detailed routings, however, did not show how frequent bus service would be, or the cost of the system.

Kashin, pressed by newsmen after the meeting in the Civic Center, offered an estimate ranging from $5 million to $10 million for the system, which would have from 100 to 170 buses. Greyhound Bus Lines, which generally sticks to Highway 101 for its service, uses 95 buses in Marin, Kashin said.

The system, if begun immediately, would cut the time it takes for commuters to get from their homes to their businesses, but the time saving will last only two years "before congestion catches up with it," he said.

Kashin's proposed routes all use Highway 101 extensively.

"But if transit is to remain competitive (with the private car), it must find its own right-of-way," Kashin declared. The reserved right-of-way should be iether on existing railroad rights-of-way or on a reserved freeway lane, he said.

Faster service and comfortable buses, Kashin told directors, "should attract a significant percentage of Marin commuters," perhaps doubling the 3,100 who now commute by bus.

Detailed schedules of service, he said, "are not yet firmed up to the point where we're ready to make them public." The cost of the system will be determined in a consultants' study due in May, he said.

But service on all routes, he insisted, would be "relatively frequent at all hours of the day."

Several members of the audience pushed for more details on the proposed bus system, but Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, a member of the transit board, argued "we're not here to be specific."

Among the few comments by directors on Kashin's report was a caution by Supervisor Louis H. Baar that San Francisco will not allow its downtown streets to be used by the district as a bus terminal. An offstreet terminal probably would be needed to load passengers in the evening, Baar said.

"Instead of bringing people to the buses, we'd bring the buses to the people," Kashin responded. A "multiplicity of stops" would make a terminal unnecessary," he said.

To speed evening loading, Kashin added, fares may be collected only when passengers leave the bus in Marin.

About 32,000 commuters cross the Golden Gate Bridge each way, Kashin reported, of whom 30,000 come from Marin. Most of the rest come from Sonoma County. In 1960, the number of Marinites working in San Francisco was about 18,500. By 1980, it is expected to be over 40,000.

"Unless staggered working hours are adopted, which is unlikely, or an effective mass transit system is introduced to raise the passenger carrying capacity per lane drastically, the trend toward further congestion and earlier trips will continue to a ridiculous point, or act as a constraint against further residential development," Kashin said.

Shoreline Panel Eyes Class Space

The Shoreline Unified School District board last night discussed but took no action on the classroom need at Bodega Bay Elementary School, according to Supt. Charles E. McCully.

The Bodega Bay trustees on March 10 received a low bid of $32,800 for the addition of one classroom, office, reception room and storage area from Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, the lowest of three bids. The district had $21,000 for the project.

Trustee Earl Carpenter of the Bodega Bay District last night met with the Shoreline board to discuss the possibility of using a portable classroom next year or the installation of a folding partition in one large room to divide it, McCully said.

The Shoreline Unified School District board also:

TEACHERS — Voted to rehire all present teachers in the unified district for next school year.

MENTALLY RETARDED — Decided to conduct its first educationally handicapped program next school year. The district will continue having the Marin County schools office handle the educatable mentally retarded and trainable mentally retarded, McCully said.

GUIDE — Discussed but took no action on the policies and procedures guide for the district. The board hopes to have this in final form by the last of May, McCully said.

Sausalito Planners Reject Zone Changes

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night rejected changes proposed by the city council in an interim zoning ordinance and stuck to its original recommendations.

The commission repeated its recommendation that yacht clubs and all ferry docks be conditional uses in the proposed commercial waterfront zone, and that houseboats not be required to meet uniform building code requirements for housing.

The council Tuesday night recommended the code requirements for houseboats, and recommended making yacht clubs and passenger ferry docks permitted uses.

The difference is that conditional uses would be allowed only after public hearings for use permits, giving the city power to ban them if it wished.

The council sent its changes back to the commission as required by law before another council hearing and probable adoption next Tuesday.

On the houseboar question, the commission recommended less stringent requirements until adoption of a city houseboat ordinance with building construction spelled out.

The commission recommendations now go to the council again. While the council was legally required to send its proposed changes back to the comission for reconsideration, it can accept or reject commission proposals as it wishes in acting Tuesday.

The Sausalito Planning Commission also:

VARIANCES — Denied a variance request by Russell R. Rudzinski to build an addition at 292 Glen Drive, and approved a variance sought by Paul Ciampi for an ornamental overhang on a commercial building to be built at Bridgeway and Coloma Street.

HEARING — Set a public hearing May 7 for a proposed zoning ordinance change to give the commission power to set parking requirements for schools rather than have a fixed parking ratio.

Marinites Flee Fire At Disneyland

I-J Special Report

ANAHEIM — Roaring flames which drove Easter week occupants from the crowded Disneyland Hotel last night damaged the top two floors of the 11-story hotel last night but no injuries were reported.

Hal Wagner, manager of the Rafael Racquet Club in San Rafael, who was staying at the hotel with his wife and her son, said that, since rain had started to fall earlier in the evening, most of the residents had returned there from the park.

There was no panic in leaving the hotel, he said, but many persons became panicky when they got outside and saw the roaring blaze on the 10th floor.

He said that occupants of the hotel stood outside in the rain for about two hours. The fire was controlled in about 25 minutes, according to firemen.

The Wagners, whose room was on the third floor, were able to return to their room later in the evening as were many other occupants. Wagner said that hotel employees put cots in the lobby for people whose rooms were damaged. There was no estimate of damage loss.

Adebonojo New Leader Of EOC Panel

Dr. Festus Adebonojo, San Anselmo pediatrician, was elected chairman of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council last night, defeating two candidates proposed by the nominating committee.

Dr. Adebonojo, 37, of 2 Toyon Drive, San Anselmo, garnered eight votes to defeat Arthur Miller and Charles L. Convis who had five votes each. (The other 15 members of the council were absent, accounting for the small total vote.)

A native of Nigeria, Dr. Adebonojo received medical training at Yale University and has been a Marin resident five years. He represents the Family Service Agency of Marin County on the council.

His wife, Mary Adebonojo, teaches folklore and Negro history at Dominican College of San Rafael. The couple has three sons.

Elected as vice chairman was Rogers Jones, who was also nominated from the floor. The nominating committee's candidate, Elihu H. Johnson, received six votes to Jones' 11, with one blank ballot.

Rev. John J. O'Connor, director of the Catholic Social Service Agency, was elected treasurer without opposition.

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Marie Delloue as representative of Citizens for Social Change, but refused to appoint Gina Joe, the group's suggested replacement, until she attends a meeting.

PUBLIC RELATIONS — Heard Richard Mermin of Tiburon report on plans of the public relations committee, including inviting community groups to meet with them and publishing a newsletter.

MOVE — Learned, through the newsletter, that the executive offices of the council at 1380 Lincoln Avenue are being moved to the multi-service center at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, with the move scheduled to be completed by April 15.

MANPOWER — Heard that Marin has joined with San Francisco and San Mateo counties in a new community program area concept which will offer, among other programs, a manpower training area which outgoing EOC director Victor H. Cary said is "our next step."

Water Line Bids All Above Estimates

Bids on the installation of an eight-inch water line on Petaluma Boulevard South from H Street to Mountain View Avenue, Petaluma, all came in over the engineer's estimated costs of $29,935.

The lowest apparent bid Tuesday was received from the Argonaut Construction Co. of Santa Rosa at $35,740. The second lowest of five bidders was the Gene McLaughlin Co. of Fresno at $36,027.

Cary Plans To Work With Federal Agency

Victor H. Cary plans to work with the model cities program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development in the Bay Area, he said last night after he resigned as executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

Cary's resignation after almost two years as director was accepted last night, effective April 15.

However he agreed to be available after that date to smooth the transition to a new director which is already being sought by the council's personnel committee.

Cary gave no reason for resigning in his letter of resignation, but indicated after the meeting it was not due to poor health as reported yesterday to the Independent-Journal by an EOC secretary, but to take the job with the model cities program.

In his letter, Cary commented, "It has never been my intention to remain with the MCEOC after attaining certain defined goals and standards I had set for myself. We now have, I believe, a sound corporate structure, including fiscal confidence and administrative strength."

However, he announced that one other of the three top council administrators has also resigned. Peggy Woodruff, head of the council's multiservice center, quit effective April 1.

Miss Woodruff, a graduate of Mills College who now lives in Fairfax, is a candidate for the Fairfax School board this year and is a member of various other groups, ranging from Planned Parenthood to the National Association of Social Workers.

The council agreed last night not to replace her until after a new executive director is hired. The center will remain open.

Recruiting for the executive director was reported moving along well with two applications already received — one from a man in San Francisco and another from a man in Washington.

Although the EOC board learned only yesterday of his intention to quit, Cary reported word of the vacancy went out to area community action agencies a week ago, but advertising in newspapers had not begun.

He said related agencies are the only practical training grounds for the job because it requires not only administrative ability but also working knowledge of federal programs.

The board agreed to begin advertising in area newspapers as soon as possible to fulfill requirements and set April 11 as the final date for applications.

Gilbert Medeiros, chairman of the personnel committee, in an attempt to discourage council members from asking Cary to stay after April 15, said, "He has been ordered by his doctor to take an immediate rest."

Cary did not confirm the statement and after the meeting said he did not plan to rest.

Funds Save Legal Aid Assistance

Marin's legal assistance program has been saved and expanded, with a $35,000 federal grant and $15,000 from an East Coast philanthropist.

Victor H. Cary, executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, said last night the refunding of the 6-month-old program is for the fiscal year April 1, 1969 to March 31, 1970.

The program, which handles civil cases for persons who cannot afford to pay an attorney, had been on the verge of extinction and James Kovacs, attorney in charge, said he saw little hope of getting the needed funds to continue.

However, after telling officials there would be a month in which to phase out, the federal government changed its mind and provided the $35,000.

The extra $15,000 is to pay a Reginald Heber Smith Fellow, Cary said. Smith, an attorney, lives and practices in Boston, Mass. He began his career in 1914 with the Boston Legal Aid Society, has been active in development of legal aid programs throughout his career and has written books and articles on such topics as "Justice and the Poor." The fellowship has not been filled.

The legal assistance program, directed by the Legal Aid Society of Marin County, operates in an office in the Albert Building in San Rafael and also maintains evening office hours in Marin City and San Rafael. Kovacs will continue as the attorney in charge, Cary said.

Mass Arrests In Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Police detained 13 truckloads of students after they staged a sit-in at Haile Selassie University today. Secondary school students walked out of afternoon classes in sympathy.

The university students are campaigning for educational reforms and for police to drop charges against some students.

The university was closed March 3 when it became known that students planned demonstrations there. It reopened two weeks ago.

Santa Barbara Will Seek Halt Of All Drilling

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Santa Barbara County planned today to seek a federal injunction against resumption of offshore oil drilling—and one county official said he would appeal to the President.

"Once again President Nixon is our only hope to prevent drilling," County Supervisor George Clyde said after Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel authorized resumed drilling.

Supervisors directed county counsel George P. Kading to seek an injunction against the resumption in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles. Kading said the suit would try to stop all drilling permanently.

Youth Booked In Marijuana Probe

A 13-year-old boy was arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and narcotics paraphenalia in the parking lot behind Oliver Hartzell School, San Rafael Police said today.

Police officers said they found 15 cigarettes and a small bag of what appeared to be marijuana as well as a cigarette rolling machine in the youngster's possession.

The boy was turned over to a juvenile officer. A 12-year-old boy on the scene had a matchbook "crutch" in his possession, police said. He was taken to his home and will be contacted later.

Market's Customer Flees Without Paying

A man stole $4 in sandwiches and hamburger from the checkout stand at the 7-Eleven Market at 703 B Street last night, San Rafael police reported.

Truman Reviews His Honor Guard

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Former President Harry S Truman, trailing a cane but flashing a snappy salute, returned to his summer White House today and received honors at the U.S. Naval Station.

The 84-year-old former president surprised his host, Rear Adm. Frederick J. Brush, by electing to inspect the Marine honor guard assembled on the concrete seawall where he used to take his morning constitutionals.

While the band from the Navy Sonar School played "Ruffles and Flourishes," Truman passed down the long file of Marines. He stopped occasionally to chat with the veterans back from Vietnam and to snap off a salute as the guide on flag was dipped.

Sewage Lines Report Sought

Ross Valley Sanitary District directors last night asked Ralph C. Noah, district manager, to investigate the possibility of increasing the program for testing and repairing sewage lines and report back at an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m., April 17.

The board's action, said Noah, came after it learned that there is a great deal more infiltration of drainage than was anticipated. This was made known after last year's smoke bomb infiltration testing.

Recommendations from the new feasibility report will be considered in connection with the 1969-70 budget, Noah reported.

Rifles Stolen

Employees at Camp Tamarancho, a Boy Scout camp near Fairfax, reported to the sheriff's department that someone had broken into a building Sunday and stolen nine .22-caliber rifles and 30,000 rounds of ammunition, officers said today.

Reed Trustees Approve Plan For Summer School

Summer school plans for 450 pupils at Granada and Del Mar schools were approved last night by the Reed School District board.

Fourteen teachers and 13 aides will teach the program, which is tentatively scheduled for July 7 to Aug. 1.

Classes at Del Mar will be given in improvement reading, improvement mathematics, creative arts, mathematics and science, home economics, typing, industrial arts, music, art, mechanical drawing, outdoor education and aerospace.

At Grenada School there will be improvement classes, enrichment classes and an arts and crafts class.

Summer school costs were estimated at $13,430.

The Reed School District Board Also:

BUSES — Ordered the staff to continue its study of ways to cut student bussing costs.

ACCOUNTING — Told staff to determine the price of an accounting machine but rejected a proposal to lease one.

SITE GRADING — Authorized additional excavation and grading for storm drains at Reedland Woods school by Pacific Excavator Co. of Emeryville in the amount of $33,867.

SUBCOMMITTEE — Set a meeting for 8 p.m. Monday of the board's salary subcommittee and the teachers' negotiation subcommittee to discuss procedures for salary negotiations.

Daily Floods Hit Town In Nevada

ELY, Nev. (AP)—This copper town's daily suppertime flood was an hour late yesterday, but the melted snow that has made a millrace of the main street was 24 inches deeper.

Although the water was three feet deep, residents were preparing, with earthen dikes and sandbags protecting stores and other buildings.

Each day, starting last Sunday, the sun has melted snow on the 9,000-foot-high Robison Mountain range 10 miles west of this eastern Nevada town. And each day the melt has reached Ely at sundown. When the sun sets the melting stops and so does the flooding—about six hours after it starts.

Candidates' Night Set For San Marin

The nine candidates for three positions on the Novato Unified School District Board of trustees and the two candidates for one position on the Marin County Board of Education will address residents of San Marin at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Cluster C building at San Ramon School in Novato, according to publicity chairman Joann Dickson.

The candidates' night is being sponsored by the San Marin Improvement Association and the San Ramon Parent-Faculty Club.

Silver Coins Taken

Silver coins valued at $2,000 were stolen between 1 and 4 p.m. from the residence of Ralph Livingston, 4 Dawn Place, Mill Valley police reported.

Woman Is Found Trussed, Gagged

OAKLAND (UPI)—The nude body of a 46-year-old woman, trussed and gagged, was found in her apartment yesterday in a quiet residential neighborhood.

Police said the hands and feet of Mary Florence, a clerk, were tied with hosiery and a towel was wrapped around her head. There were no marks of violence, officers said.

The coroner's office said the woman apparently had been dead about three days.

Fairfax Youth Denies Felony Driving Count

Michael Roth, 21, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court to charges of felony drunk driving and manslaughter.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set April 18 for a preliminary hearing. The charges stem from the March 15 death of Mrs. Margaret McIntyre, 45, of Petaluma, who was killed in an auto accident on the Petaluma-Tomales Road. The California Highway Patrol said the car driven by Roth entered a curve too fast and struck the car in which Mrs. McIntyre was a passenger.

Three Children Killed In Blaze

VICTORVILLE (UPI)—Three young children died and a fourth suffered critical smoke inhalation late yesterday in a fire which swept through the living room of their three-bedroom home here.

Dead were Vannessa Patricia Smith, 6, and her two brothers, Kenneth Cleveland, 3, and James Michael, 5. The fourth child, William Thomas Smith, 8, was in serious condition at Victor Valley Hospital in this San Bernardino County city.

Deputy county coroner Leo Reyes said the children's mother, Ursula Smith, 27, whose husband William is with the Air Force in Vietnam, was not at home at the time of the fire.

Editor Testing Business Tax

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Scott Newhall, executive editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, has been arrested on charges of refusing to pay a business tax.

Newhall said he was testing the validity of the tax law in his capacity as owner and publisher of a weekly newspaper in Southern California which does a small amount of business in San Francisco.

He contends San Francisco's recently-enacted tax on the gross receipts of all businesses violates the first amendment to the U.S. constitution if it is applied to newspapers because it could endanger freedom of the press.

New York Team Transfers Heart

NEW YORK (AP) — Doctors at New York Hospital did their fifth heart transplant operation last night, giving a new heart to a 40-year-old woman who was reported "progressing satisfactorily."

The hospital disclosed today that the surgical team headed by Dr. C. Walton Lillehei completed the transplant in one hour.

Neither the woman nor the heart donor was identified, and the hospital even declined to say whether the heart donor was a man or a woman.

MAYOR CANDIDATES' PANEL

By DAVID DIETZ

Dr. Charles W. Aby, San Rafael mayoral candidate, criticized on a radio program today the installment plan sale of city corporation yard property voted by the city council March 18.

Aby, a former San Rafael councilman, said he felt the city had ignored a renewed offer by Marin County Board of Supervisors to discuss trading the corporation yard property for the soon-to-be-abandoned courthouse square.

Aby appeared on radio KTIM's Sounding Board with Mayor C. Paul Bettini, seeking re-election, and another candidate, Arthur F. Dieters, a businessman.

"I'm quite chagrined at the lack of communication on the part of the city," said Aby, apparently in reference to a letter sent to the city by the county proposing discussion of the trade.

Three city councilmen said recently they never saw the letter.

Aby said the 3.25 acres of corporation yard property — sold to two auto dealers — "should have been kept intact or sold for cash or traded."

Defending the council decision, Bettini said that the county had previously refused to trade the courthouse square for the parcel on Francisco Boulevard and "we couldn't afford to wait any longer."

"The county still has not had the courthouse property appraised," he added. "The receipts from the sale of the Francisco Boulevard property will be used for a senior citizens and teen-age center and for a new main fire station."

All candidates agreed on the urgency of a new role for the courthouse square to stimulate business in downtown San Rafael, but Aby did not think the city and county had been working closely enough on disposition of the block.

The city has offered the county $500,000 for the property, but the board of supervisors said this is too low.

"I realize our offer may be low," said Bettini, "but I feel that, after an appraisal, it may be accepted. We are also perfectly willing to accept arbitration or an appraisal agreed negotiated by both parties to buy the property."

Dieters said the property would have been sold long ago but that city zoning regulations were too restrictive.

Traffic problems, annexation and the controversial city charter amendments on the April 15 ballot also were discussed by the three candidates.

Bettini said a study being done may recommend that Fourth Street and Fifth Avenue be converted into one-way streets, although Dieters said this would turn the thoroughfares into "speedways."

The mayor said areas in Terra Linda and Bayside Acres, now unincorporated, should be annexed to San Rafael for better services, but Dieters said the residents "should be left alone to run their own lives" and Aby added that annexation should be promoted only by residents.

Dieters strongly urged a "no" vote on the charter amendments to make the positions of city clerk, treasurer, attorney and police chief appointive rather than elective, saying the changes would abridge the voting right and perpetuate bureacracy. (See story below.)

But Aby and Bettini said the city's ability to recruit competent administrators was vital in the complex operation of present government.

Sonoma State To Build First On-Campus Dorm

Plans for the first residence project and dining facility at Sonoma State College, part of a $4 million project, have been approved by the state College Board of Trustees, despite complaints from Rohnert Park developers.

Warren Tappin Jr., associate dean of students, said the college will go ahead with plans for the dormitory to house 600 students and will advertise for bids in January. Completion is scheduled for September 1971.

Local developers had complained that the state would give unfair competition to owners of nearby apartment buildings. Rents on two-bedroom apartments average $240 per month.

Tappin said that dormitory living would probably be more economical and offer many benefits that off-campus living cannot. He said costs for room and meals for two semesters are estimated at about $1,100 per year, or $122 per month.

Rents for two-bedroom apartments in Rohnert Park now average $240 per month and are usually shared by four students of an average cost of $60 apiece per month. Students, however, must also consider food, utility bills and transportation above the rental cost. It can be assumed that these rents will be higher when the dormitory opens in 1971.

Tappin said students would be expected to use both residential and dining hall facilities and that the two would be separated only in exceptional cases. He said that parents most often prefer on-campus housing where there will be some supervision and restrictions.

The dean said he doesn't forsee financial failure for local apartment owners because he feels there will always be a large number of students who prefer unsupervised living arrangements.

Located on the northwest corner of the campus, Tappin described the architecture as "early California" with red roofs and redwood siding. Deviating from standard dormitory styling, the design will provide as much privacy as possible, he explained. Units have been designed to house one, two, four and nine students.

The unit for two will include two bedrooms and a bath; four students will share two double bedrooms, a living room and a bath. The unit for nine will include four double bedrooms, a single bedroom, a living room and two bathrooms.

He said these combination will be put together to make a unit for 50 students which will include a laundry room, lounge area and a resident manager's apartment.

Four of these units, housing 200 students, will have a common lounge and kitchen facility. All apartments will have private entrances off a central court. The plan includes parking for 300 cars and a swimming pool.

Tapping said the total enrollment should reach 4,800 students when construction is completed. Total cost of the project is estimated at $4 million.

Kindergarten Registration Is Next Week

Dixie School District youngsters who expect to enter kindergarten in September will be registered next week, Wednesday through Friday, at eight elementary schools.

Registration will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon in the principals' offices of each school. This is registration only, and children need not be present, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis. He urged all parents of children eligible for kindergarten classes to register at the stated times, so that classroom space can be assured when kindergarten opens in September.

Children who will be 5 years old on or before Dec. 2, 1969, are eligible to enroll in kindergarten in September. Parents should bring birth certificates, baptismal records, or passports as proof of birth date.

The school district will also require proof that the child has received protection from poliomyelitis and measles, or that parents of the pupil state that it is against their belief to give such protection.

Registration will be held at these schools: Bernard Hoffman, 1111 Las Gallinas Avenue; Don Timoteo School, 39 Trellis Drive; Mary Silveira, 375 Blackstone Drive; Dixie School, 1175 Idylberry Drive; Lucas Valley School, 755 Idylberry Drive; Oak View School, 70 Skyview Terrace; Nova Albion School, 380 Nova Albion Way, and Santa Margarita School, 1055 Las Ovejas Avenue.

San Rafael Candidates' Opinions Vary Widely On Charter Issues

Three candidates for mayor of San Rafael and seven of the eight candidates for city council are in unanimous agreement that the nonexistent position of police judge should be removed from the list of city offices in the charter.

Aside from that, however, there is no unanimity among the candidates on the charter changes which will be before San Rafael voters April 15.

Two of the candidates for mayor — incumbent C. Paul Bettini and former Councilman Charles W. Aby — call for passage of the four propositions (A, B, C and D) which would convert city clerk, attorney, police chief and treasurer from elective to appointive positions. The third mayoralty candidate, Arthur F. Deiters, is against all four.

There is no such clear-cut division on these four propositions among the city council candidates. Three of them — incumbents Harry A. Barbier and Fred C. Robbins Jr. plus Thomas H. Litz — are in favor of all faour. Ray White is against all four, explaining that he believes the line of authority and division of duties in the various city departments should be more clearly defined before such changes are considered.

Other council candidates are for some of the changes from election to appointment, and against some.

Joseph D. Dahlman would make clerk, attorney and treasurer appointive, but says "no — with reservations" on making the police chief appointive. He said he had in mind creation of a police commission before considering appointive status for the chief.

John J. Adams advocates making the city clerk and treasurer appointive, but retaining elective status for attorney and police chief. George S. Burton would keep the police chief subject to election but make the other three positions appointive.

Benjamin F. Walton would make the police chief appointive but keep clerk, attorney and treasurer elective.

Propositon F, which would change the mayor's term from two to four years, is favored by two of the mayoralty candidates — Bettini and Deiters, but is opposed by Aby. Among the council candidates, it is favored by all except Adams.

Proposition G, which would expand the library board, fire commission and parks and recreation commission from five to seven members, is also favored by Bettini and Deiters and opposed by Aby.

Here, however, the division is different among the council candidates. Incumbent Barbier, although he voted to put the proposition on the ballot, is against its passage. It is also opposed by Litz and Walton. The other five favor it.

The mayoralty candidates are unanimous in support of Proposition H, which would make fire chief, street superintendent, health officer and city engineers subject to removal by votes of three members of the council. Removal of these officials now requires unanimous vote of the council, although the city manager and other appointees may be removed by three votes.

Although the mayoralty candidates all favor this change, the council candidates are evenly divided. Barbier, Robbins, Dahlman and White favor the change. Litz, Adams, Burton and Walton oppose it.

Transient Winds Up In Drug Trouble

A 28-year-old transient, who wound up in County Jail Tuesday night by showing sheriff's deputies a cigarette he said was made of marijuana, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a marijuana possession charge.

Officers said that Stallard walked into the sheriff's department about 10:30 p.m. and informed them that he should be incarcerated to appear in court the next day.

Officers told the man that since he had committed no crime, they could not oblige him.

"Oh, well, I was ready for this," they said he replied.

Residence Looted

Harold J. Wright told police at 3:20 p.m., yesterday, that someone entered his home at 209 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, apparently through an unlocked door, and stole $25 in cash from a dresser drawer and a $356 color television set. The burglary occurred between 9:30 a.m. Sunday, and 2:45 p.m., yesterday, Larkspur police reported.

Novatan Will Resign City-County Position

Douglas M. Merill of Novato announced yesterday he will resign from the City-County Services Committee as soon as another city representative can be named to succeed him.

Merrill, who has been on the committee for more than three years, explained this morning that his workload is getting too heavy, and he cannot devote enough time to the committee. He is also chairman of the City-County Planning Council. "I'm pretty well extended now, and I've got to set priorities," said Merrill.

In a letter to Neil R. Brixon, chairman of the Council of Mayors and City Councilmen, Merrill asked that the council name his replacement by the end of June.

The City-County Services Committee is a four-man forum for city-county cooperation in Marin. It is composed of Supervisor John F. McInnis and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Larkspur Councilman Alfred J. Malvino and Merrill.

Two Youths Face Probe On Burglary

Two teen-age boys who were seen pushing a loaded wheelbarrow near a house on Panoramic Highway which was burglarized Tuesday have been referred to the Marin County probation department for investigation of burglary.

Juvenile officers said that Wayne W. Tuttle, 15, of 337 Linda Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, and Charles Joseph Young, 14, of 43 Ridge Avenue, Mill Valley, were first seen pushing an empty wheel barrow near the home.

Then they were observed with the barrow loaded and covered with a yellow rug, reported stolen by Thomas E. Robuck of 570 Panoramic Highway, Mill Valley. Robuck also reported the loss of two black leather jackets, two calfskin vests, a turntable, tape recorder, tuner and a speaker.

Much of the stolen property was found in Young's bedroom, according to officers.

Stereo, Speakers Theft Is Reported

Goods valued at more than $400 were stolen sometime over Tuesday night from a car owned by Michael D. Woods of 2130 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, while the auto was parked at 1358 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael police reported today.

Missing items included an auto stereo, tapes, two coats, a camera and a toolbox containing $100 in tools. The car was locked, police said.

Boys Clear Up Confusion In Rescue

Apparent contradictions in two reports on the rescue of two children from drowning Sunday at Stinson Beach have been clarified by the two boys who made the rescue.

Both boys acknowledged today that the excitement of the incident had led to the confusion about what each had done.

The first report, in Tuesday's Independent-Journal, was provided by Tim Thompson, 15, of 19 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo. He said he made the solo rescue of both unidentified children while nearby adults refused to help.

The second report, in yesterday's Independent-Journal, was by Howard F. Barnes, 17, of 15 Fernwood Way, San Rafael. He said that he and an unidentified man helped Tim rescue one of the children. Howard also said he rescued the second boy alone from a rock in the heavy surf.

What happened, both agreed today, was that Tim first got one of the children up onto a rock, then swam out for the second. As he got the second child back to shore, he was joined in the rescue by a man and by Howard.

With the second child safe, both boys then rescued the first one from the rock and brought him to shore.

Suspects Deny Dope Charges

Innocent pleas to charges of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia were entered yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by a man and woman arrested by narcotics agents March 25 at the Diaz Ranch on Panoramic Highway near Mill Valley.

A preliminary hearing was set for June 10 for Peter Bruce Winston, 22, owner of the Resh Galley in Tamalpais Valley, and Gayle Cecila Solon, 24, both of whom live at the ranch.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated By Firemen

Tiburon volunteer firemen last night agreed to hold an Easter egg hunt for children of firemen from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday at Paradise Beach Park, President John Grbac reported.

Grbac said the Corner Market in Tiburon agreed to donate 12 dozen eggs for the hunt.

Four Fined On Drunken Driving

Four men have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Hadden W. Roth for drunken driving.

Herbert Hoover Hill, 40, of San Pablo, was fined $175 and placed on six months probation. He was arrested March 10 in Novato.

Glen McDaniels Melligen, 43, of 630 Sunset Parkway, Novato, arrested March 13 on Highway 101, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation.

Melvin Nicholas Desin, 35, of 11 Wiltshire Avenue, Larkspur, was fined $175 and placed on six months probation. He was arrested March 22 on Highway 101.

Clemmie Charles Ford, 42, of San Francisco, arrested in Sausalito March 22, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation.

Boys' Clubs' Wooden Docks Feared Stolen

Thirty-two feet of wooden docks valued at $700 were stolen within the last two weeks from the Southern Marin Boys' Club pier near Enchanted Knolls on Richardson Bay, club director Jack Benjamin reported today.

The docks were apparently cut loose from the pilings and towed away, Benjamin said. The docks were given to the club by the Greenbrae Sailing Society for a joint sailing program planned by the Southern Marin Boys' Club and the Boys' Club of Southern Marin.

Country Path Work Party Set

Corte Madera Avenue Homeowners Association members will don work clothes on April 12 to walk Corte Madera Avenue's "country path" and make any necessary improvements, director Sheldon Schwebel said today.

The work party will meet at 9 a.m. at the home of Wayne Wood, 346 Corte Madera Avenue.

Last night the board agreed to request the town council to study the traffic at Redwood and Corte Madera avenues. Schwebel said the board feels the lack of a stop sign on the lower side of Redwood plus the parking situation on Corte Madera Avenue makes the corner hazardous.

Today is Thursday, April 3, the 93rd day of 1969 with 272 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1860 the Pony Express postal service began.

In 1865 the Union Army occupied Richmond, Va., former capital of the Confederacy.

In 1962 the United States government ordered New Orleans to integrate the first six grades of public schools.

A thought for the day: Vannevar Bush said, "The scene changes but the aspirations of men of good will persist."

Easter Egg Hunt Set At Tam High

The 20th annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Tamalpais Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held from 10:30 a.m. to noon Saturday on the Tamalpais High School football field.

The egg hunt is for children in Homestead Valley, Tamalpais Valley and Almonte from 1 to 14 years old. Prizes will be awarded children finding the most eggs.

The hunt was held in Tennessee Valley in past years but was moved to the football field because of the area's growth.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Play Known As 'Duck' Can Put South In Victory Column

You can afford to play carelessly against foolish opponents because their mistakes will make up your own. If your opponents know all the tricks, however, you'd better learn a few of your own. Wiliness works better than haste.

DIAMOND PLAY

South took the jack of spades and led a diamond to dummy's king. This naive play would have cost nothing if East had taken his ace, but East knew enough to refuse the trick.

South returned to his hand with a club to lead another diamond, and this time East won. East's return didn't matter because declarer had only one entry to dummy. He could use that to set up the diamonds, but he could never return to dummy to cash the diamonds. South toiled on, but he was eventually down two.

MATCH THE MOVE

South should expect the opponents to refuse the first diamond, but he can match this move with one of his own. When South leads the low diamond at the second trick, he should play a low diamond from the dummy as well.

This play, known as a "duck," forces East to take the first diamond since he cannot gain anything by refusing it. If East returns a spade (as good a defense as any), South takes the ace of spades and leads his other diamond to dummy's king.

MUST WIN

East must win with the ace of diamonds, and now the rest of dummy's suit is good. South gets to dummy with the king of spades to cash the queen of diamonds and then three more diamond tricks. South scores 830 points instead of losing 200.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one club, and partner has responded one spade.

It is up to you again, holding:

♠ A Q J
♥ A J 9 2
♦ 6 3
♣ A K 3 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

An experienced partner will treat this "reverse" bid as a force for one round. You are reluctant to raise spades very energetically with only three-card support; and you cannot jump in notrump without a diamond stopper. The heart bid is about the only remaining possibility.

Bales To Report On Probe Rules

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales is scheduled to discuss procedures used in investigating absent fathers at Tuesday's meeting of the Task Force on Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Room 400 of the Civic Center.

Mothers in the AFDC program have complained that procedures used by the district attorney's investigators are humiliating and degrading.

Rev. John J. O'Connor of St. Isabella's Church will discuss a Senate bill which would set up family courts in each county to handle domestic relations cases.

Rafferty Tells State's Gains In Integration

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty says that California leads the nation in integrating its schools, textbooks and school administration.

Rafferty told a meeting yesterday of the California School Administrators Association that its members often forget that "momentous progress has been made" while they are preoccupied with day-to-day problems.

Sex education and sensitivity training courses should be voluntary if offered in public schools, Rafferty said.

Sensitivity courses, which aim at increasing a person's awareness of other people's needs and motives for acting, are offered by some California schools and are included in some teacher training programs.

Seven years ago, Rafferty said, Negro Associate Superintendent Wilson Riles considered integration of school facilities the greatest problem facing the state's schools.

The problem last year, he added, was finding enough minority teachers to meet the demand.

Rafferty said that textbooks used in the state had until recently "almost ignored" Negroes and "gave the Mexican-American even less attention."

Books now being used treat the minority races fairly, he said.

Seven years ago, Rafferty said, there was only one minority group member employed by the state Department of Education in a professional capacity.

Now, he said, 13 per cent of the staff is Negro and 5 per cent is Mexican-American.

Auto Makers Tally Good Sales Volume

DETROIT (UPI)—American auto builders sold 2,030,437 new cars in the first three months of 1969—the third best first quarter in industry history—and predict the rest of the year will be at least as good.

The sales mark was just slightly above the 2,020,690 sold during the first quarter of last year, but Ford Motor Co. sales then were inflated as the second largest automaker recovered from the effects of a three-month strike.

Industry giant General Motors Corp. led the upswing in sales, recording 1,090,265 cars against 1,008,475 in the first three months of 1968. It was an increase of 8.1 per cent for G.M. while the other three auto companies were showing slight declines.

Chrysler Corp. sales of 333,997 in the quarter were the third best in the company's history, behind the first quarters of 1968 when 373,883 cars were sold and 1966 when the company had sales of 366,925.

Ford sales totaled 540,463 as compared with 574,244 in the first three months of 1968 when the company worked overtime to fill orders taken during the extended shutdown.

Houseboat And Homes Burglarized

A houseboat at Gate 6 near Sausalito belonging to Richard Power Jr. was burglarized Monday, sheriff's officers said yesterday. Taken were a portable television set, stereo tuner and speakers, a typewriter and a camera.

Other recent burglaries reported to the sheriff's department include one Sunday at the home of John K. Phillips at 367 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, where thieves took a radio and stereo equipment.

On the same day Phillip H. Parker of 701 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, said that someone had stolen a radio speaker from his garage.

Joseph M. Teixeira, of 211 Corrillo Drive, Rafael Meadows, reported to sheriff's officers that a truck belonging to the county which was parked outside his home Saturday had a wind-wing smashed and sunglasses, a hunting spotlight, raincoat and jacket taken from it.

Professors' Hostility Hit By Hayakawa

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Teachers who think it's their moral obligation to be hostile "to everybody representing the establishment," are responsible for recent troubles at San Francisco State College, says Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, the school's acting president.

Professors who are "disappointed in themselves because they didn't land at Cal, Columbia or Harvard" make up the dissident minority, Hawakawa said yesterday at a luncheon of the California State College Foundation.

Their hostile attitudes towards society were passed on to students, Hayakawa said.

In criticizing hiring practices of college departments, the famed semanticist told a news conference that "you seldom see a right-wing clique these days. If you are not left-wing enough, you won't be hired at many colleges."

Hayakawa also told newsmen that he hasn't planned a move to politics despite rumors that he may seek the Democratic nomination to oppose Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., in 1970.

Coroner Slates Shooting Inquest

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A coroner's inquest into the fatal shooting of a Negro teen-ager by a policeman as been set for next Thursday.

Coroner Henry Turkel called the session at the request of homicide inspector Walter Kracke as a team of police captains investigated the death Sunday of Alvert Joe Linthcome, 19.

The youth was shot by officer Gerald Roberts after he jumped from a stolen car and ran into a Hunters Point record shop. Roberts and a fellow officer chased the car at high speeds for 31 blocks in the belief it was used a few hours earlier by the killers of Sing Shim, 65, a grocer.

Greenbrae Youth Injured On Coast

Robert Dunn, 18, of 50 Almenar Drive, Greenbrae, was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for bruises on the nose, left arm and right knee suffered in an accident Tuesday, the California Highway Patrol said.

Dunn was a passenger in a car driven by Paul R. Major, 36, of Box 396, Stinson Beach, when it hit an embankment on Highway 1 south of Stinson Beach at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday, according to the Highway Patrol.

JUPITER

Jupiter Is Largest Solar System Planet

By SHERMAN WALKER

The largest planet in the solar system is Jupiter. Although its density is very low, it is still 317 times the size of the earth in mass and is 1,300 times the earth's size in volume.

It is large and gaseous and turns so rapidly that it shows a definite flattening at the poles due to the centrifugal force. It is assumed that the surface we see, down to a depth of at least 1,000 miles, is either gaseous or slushy.

The diameter of the planet at its equator is 88,600 miles. It is not only bigger than any other planet in mass or volume, but is bigger than all the others together.

There is a great deal of difference in the surface gravity at its equator and its poles. This is due to the eliptic shape, making its surface at the poles closer to the center, which would lessen the force of gravity at the surface on the equator. This results in a 15 per cent difference.

Jupiter rotates on its axis more rapidly than any other planet, but the time cannot be given with extreme accuracy because different points on the surface rotate at slightly different speeds and even the same spot at different times shows small changes.

It was assumed that Jupiter must have some light of its own, but this has been overruled now. When one of Jupiter's moons is eclipsed, it does not seem to receive any light from any other source.

Jupiter takes almost 12 years to go around the sun. Its average distance from the sun is 483 million miles, but it can come as near to the earth as 367 million miles.

High School Graduates Say They're Mostly On Target

Students who graduated from Terra Lind and San Rafael high schools last June are generally doing what they had planned to do, according to the first phase of a survey the school district hopes to continue for five years.

Last June, 727 of 816 seniors at the two high schools completed forms on their backgrounds, plans and high school careers.

In October, 703 of the same 816 young people answered a survey covering what they actually were doing.

Of the 727 students responding in June, only 123 said they did not plan to continue their education.

Students planning to attend junior colleges last spring totaled 374; this fall, 334 were actually enrolled. Sixty-eight said they planned to attend the University of California and 69 did. Students planning to attend state colleges last June totaled 73 and 53 reported in October they were enrolled.

A total of 535 students siad n October they were continuing their educations, while 604 had indicated in June they planned to go to college or another school.

Last June, 246 seniors said they were lining up full and part-time jobs for fall employment, with direct application the most used method of finding jobs.

Seventy-four students, 30.08 per cent of those responding, used direct applications, while only four students, 1.63 per cent, found jobs through the California Department of Employment.

At the time of the fall survey, 316 students responding said they were working full or part-time.

In the June survey, such topics as why students were planning to go on to school and why they had chosen the career they planned were also covered.

Of 650 students responding to a question on why they decided to continue their education, 129 or 38.86 per cent of the boys listed earning a higher income as their major reason. Only 34 or 10.69 per cent of the girls listed higher earnings as their major reason.

Conversely, only 28 of all the students said they had chosen their career because of the high income it offered. The major reason for career choice, with a total of 305 students listing it, was "personal enjoyment of fulfillment."

Girls said they planned to continue their education to secure vocational training — with 99 or 31.13 per cent giving that as their reason. Five girls said they were going on to school hoping to meet the right person to marry, while none of the boys gave that as a reason for continuing their education.

Students generally picked their school according to cost and distance from home. In June, 123 of 641 students mentioned low cost, while 160 said they chose their school because it was close to home.

Students were also asked to evaluate their high school courses in relation to further education. Some 222 said physical education was the least help, followed by foreign languages with 137 listing it.

Most frequently mentioned as subjects students wished they had taken were business education, 244; social science, 195, and science, 164.

In another category, the least liked course was mathematics; the most liked, social science.

Asked about extracurricular activities, students responded with sports — 335 said they had participated; 253 said they wished they had. Only 35 reported participating in student government and 88 said they felt it would have been worthwhile.

Evaluation of high school instruction was also included in the June survey.

Teachers rated highest in helping to develop and use basic mathematical skills, understand the principles and practices of the American form of government and understanding local, national and world conditions and problems.

Students said teachers were of little or no help in teaching students how to conduct their own business affairs, how to budget money wisely or in preparations for marriage and family affairs.

Students rated counselors most helpful in selecting useful courses and learning about and planning for college entrance; least helpful in learning how to get a job, learning how to handle personal problems and how to use spare time.

In most cases students indicated they wished teachers and counselors had been more helpful.

Vagrancy Arrests

HELSINKI, Finaldn (UPI)—The Helsinki police reported they arrested 1,383 persons for vagrancy in 1968. In addition, 251 youths under 18 were arrested for living a "life resembling vagrancy."

FIRST IN MARIN

Tam History Students Pen Own Textbook

By ALAN JONES

What do you do when there's no textbook for your class? Have the students write their own.

That's what Tamalpais High School students do in their Marin history class, and instructor George Irvin says it has a lot of advantages.

For one thing, there isn't any comprehensive written history of Marin. And the students, instead of dutifully absorbing someone else's knowledge, get to go out and dig up information for themselves. In the process they learn about sources, research and bibliography as well as Marin.

The course started in summer school two years ago and was introduced into the regular school year last spring. Last year's class produced a thick mimeographed book crammed with information about Mission San Rafael Arcangel, Sausalito, ferries, West Marin, Miwok Indians, early-day land barons, the Portuguese Pentecost festival in Sausalito and much more.

This year's class of 30 students is amending and improving last year's publication and adding new chapters of its own on such subjects as Angel Island, the history of Marin schools, Marin County dairies and the Southern Marin forts.

Like most of California, Marin has its wild and woolly past, but professional historians rarely concentrate on something so small as a county — unless it's Cook County, Illinois, or Wayne County, Michigan.

Local historians, the class found, usually concentrate on areas of special interest or a small segment of the county. It is up to the students to assemble what they find in books, pamphlets and verbal recollections into a coherent county history.

This year, Irvin said, speakers in the class have included Marin historians such as Lucretia Little, Gloria Melbostad, Salem Rice, Mary Hill, John A. Thomson and Thomas J. Barfield — each highly knowledgeable about some part of Marin's past.

By way of procedure, each student selects a topic and writes his own chapter — sometimes in plainer language than a professional would use.

The chapter on Sausalito, for instance, opens with an incontestable observation: "Sausalito has a lot going for it."

Another chapter in describing Stinson Beach notes "the spit of Stinson Beach creeps right up to the shores of Bolinas but it doesn't quite make it."

The students have dug up some little-known facts, too — such as the history of the abandoned copper mines in Bolinas Ridge, and the logging industry around Bolinas which eroded the hills and helped silt the once-navigable lagoon.

The chapter bibliographies list many Independent-Journal articles and the names of familiar Marin historians such as Florence Donnelly, Helen Bingham, Helen B. Kerr, and Kenneth Lamott, and organizations such as the Marin County Historical Society and the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society.

"One of the most exciting things," Irvin said, "is when the kids find out something about the place they live" such as an old deed to the house they live in, or an ancestor's death certificate in an ancient city hall file.

The students have had to fight some obstacles other scholars avoid. The California Historical Society Library in San Francisco and the Bancroft Library in Berkeley refused permission for the students to use their materials, Irvin noted.

James Earl Ray Hires Third Lawyer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray has hired a third lawyer, this time in an effort to help him win a new trial in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. King was assassinated in Memphis a year ago tomorrow.

State Corrections Commissioner Harry S. Avery said today Richard J. Ryan of Memphis, previously turned away by prison officials, has been hired by Ray to represent him in criminal matters. There was no word when Ryan might seek to visit Ray again.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Snoring One Of World's Most Controversial Afflictions

VAN DELLEN

Laugh and the world laughs with you — snore and you sleep alone. The real victim of snoring is the listener, and we pity those contending with a rip-roarer who reaches intensities that equal a pneumatic drill (70 db.).

A widow who shall go unnamed is the exception. She lamented that snoring is the sweetest sound this side heaven. We assume that she was not stone deaf, or had a pet with a blunt nose such as the bulldog.

THE NOISE STEMS from a vibration of the soft palate or of the faucial pillars along the opening of the throat. It is similar to that created by a flag flapping in the wind, or a clarinet reed.

Snorts usually are produced during inspiration and stop when the individual awakens. An increase in the force of the air stream intensifies the sound. A reservoir of air in the nose and throat is necessary for a perfect snore, and explains why the concertizing is louder when the nose is partially obstructed.

REMOVING THE TONSILS and adenoids often corrects snoring in children under the age of 10. In others, allergy plays a role. A deviated septum, a correctable defect, may be responsible in some adults. Now and then collapse of the nostrils during inspiration creates a partial nasal obstruction, a common cause of snoring in oldsters. Other factors are involved, but despite the many possibilities, the condition may be difficult to correct.

Hundreds of antisnoring devices are available, but these are of little value unless the circumstances surrounding the din are known. Does it occur while sleeping on the back, with the mouth open or shut, etc.?

Collapse of the nostrils can be helped via self-massage and the avoidance of sniffing.

NASAL DECONGESTANTS help whe nthe nose is stuffy. For those who snore only when sleeping on the back, there are many gadgets which can be sewn on the back of the pajamas. Women should avoid sleeping with large hair curlers on the side. Chin straps may keep the mouth shut. An orthodontic device is also available. The listener may benefit by wearing ear plugs.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

DERANGED PIGMENT CELLS

A reader writes: Is a malignant melanoma a skin cancer or does it involve deeper tissues?

REPLY

A melanoma is a skin cancer involving the pigment cells. The brownish lesion usually occurs in an irritated mole. Like other skin malignancies, it may spread to deeper tissues or more distant organs.

NIGHTLY SIX-PACK

A. S. writes: Can a 52-year-old women in seemingly normal health, drink a six-pack of beer every night without harmful effects?

REPLY

Yes, but 9 times out of 10, the habit encourages weight gain. In my opinion, the main danger to drinking six cans of beer is that there is a tendency to switch to hard liquor and become a heavy social drinker.

DOESN'T NEED 'PILL'

M. writes: Isn't it silly for a 54-year-old woman who has not menstruated for more than eight years to take birth control pills?

REPLY

Yes, this may be carrying caution too far.

TREATING SORE BACK

T. L. writes: Is a hot water bag or a heating pad better for a sore back?

REPLY

HEART VALVE REPAIR

Mrs. M. writes: My husband needs heart valve repair. Is this a serious operation?

REPLY

Such operations are serious but, when done by a skillful cardiac surgeon, the mortality is less than 5 per cent. Consider the alternative; the risk is worth taking.

PILES AND SURGERY

A reader writes: Do piles that are causing no trouble have to be operated on?

REPLY

No, but surgery will prevent problems in the future.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Arsenic' Version Not Up To Movie

By RICK DU BROW

It is a wild farce that gains its charm from the sweetly innocent and daft couple of old ladies who happen to poison elderly gentlemen to give them peace and tranquility, and then bury them in the cellar.

Apparently the fact that "Arsenic and Old Lace" has done pretty well on its own all these years—note the television reruns of the movie—was not enough for the adapter-producer of last night's two-hour ABC-TV version, Luther Davis.

SCRIPT ERRORS

He felt it necessary to alter the incomparable script, to jazz it up with attempts at being very contemporary. It was, shall we say, not the wisest decision ever made in video.

An example of the updating is that the male lead, the frantically worried nephew of the old ladies, was changed from a drama critic to a television critic. His fiancee, meanwhile, was switched from a minister's daughter to a hip television actress, on a show named "Homicide," no less. Well, as anyone surely can see, these changes were monumentally necessary.

MOOD RUPTURED

Naturally the new version started with a prolonged discotheque scene. And by the time yesterday's "Arsenic and Old Lace" was five minutes old, it was, for all practical purposes, over, the mood ruptured, the direction of the piece roughly 180 degrees off.

I don't mean to be unkind, because I honestly don't enjoy writing a rap review, but I confess that my love for the original work simply made it impossible for me to watch the video version to the end. I simply tuned out with about 20 minutes to go, and tried to figure out what had happened.

The first thing is that the production was reduced to the dimension and flavor of a situation comedy. There was, alas, a laugh track—an indication that someone at the network had already thrown in the towel. At one point, there was an inexplicable shot of an audience as if to prove there was no laugh track. It was not very convincing proof.

Then there was the pace of director Robert Scheerer. He seemed unable to be convinced that "Arsenic and Old Lace" is not merely comedy, but farce. Farce. Farce. So, played, as it was, at a normal pace, it was slow, slow, slow. There was no bubbly feeling as the production remained earthbound. The lines were telegraphed, the performances overplayed.

Where Cary Grant was hilarious in his extreme agitation and disbelief, Bob Crane, in yesterday's production, was, by comparison, just another upset guy. And as the pivotal old lady, Helen Hayes' essential solidness and certainty rendered her not nearly flightly enough to save the day, as the play demanded. Lillian Gish portrayed the other sister.

Bradley Gains Backing In Drive Against Yorty

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A retired Negro policeman seeking to unseat Mayor Sam Yorty today picked up the support of Los Angeles' largest newspaper, and predictions of backing from organized labor.

Yorty and City Councilman Thomas Bradley mutually accused each other of introducing the race issue into the runoff campaign for mayor May 27.

They emerged as the two top vote getters in a field of 14 candidates in Tuesday's municipal election.

With only 14 of Los Angeles' 2,888 precincts unreported, Bradley had amassed almost 42 per cent of the vote in the city where around 12 per cent of the registered voters are black. Yorty got 26 per cent of the vote.

Television newsman Baxter Ward got 16.5 per cent, and Republican Congressman Alphonso Bell about 14 per cent. There were 10 other candidates on the ballot, none of whom got 1 per cent of the vote.

The Los Angeles Times, which backed Yorty four years ago, endorsed Bradley in today's edition.

"Yorty accused Bradley of making 'a great racist appeal' for votes and implied that the councilman's strength lay in the black community," the Times said. "That is arrant nonsense. Bradley's appeal was broad-based. A majority of his votes came from non-black areas of the city."

Before Tuesday's primary, Bradley had the support of the United Auto Workers and several other AFL-CIO unions. However, the AFL-CIO itself made no endorsement, nor did the Teamsters.

Parks Tour Slated For Petaluma

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission last night decided to begin preparation of a priority list for park development with a joint tour of parks May 7 with the city council.

Richard W. Shollenberger, recreation director, said he would prepare a general outline of immedaite and long-range park needs to begin discussion at the meeting.

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission also:

LOITERING — Discussed the problem of 20 or 25 Kenilworth Junior High School students who loiter and litter each morning before school at the Kenilworth Pool area. It was reported that City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer has asked the police to install a "no loitering" sign.

BOXING — Decided the department should not sponsor the proposed Petaluma Junior Olympics boxing team. Noting costs have been estimated at between $1,200 and $1,500, the commission decided it did not have the funds, lacked training facilities and might duplicate a program of the boys' club.

BASEBALL SAFARI — Heard a report that arrangements have been mdae to have youngsters from the recreation department and boys' club attend San Francisco Giants baseball games on June 19 and July 17. A minimum charge will be made for transportation.

MINUTES — Agreed to the request of the East Petaluma Civic Association that it receive minutes of commission meeting to better understand new developments and to plan activities.

DUTIES — Asked Shollenberger to obtain copies of the duties and responsibilities of neighboring recreation commissions so a comparison might be made.

Food Stamps Plan Begins For Marin

The Department of Public Social Services, which administers the program, will conduct public briefings in various communities each Monday, beginning April 7 and continuing through May 26. The briefings are aimed at low-income households not on welfare and who may be able to benefit from the use of food stamps.

Congress Lists War Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of 2,148 more U.S. casualties of the Vietnam war were placed in the Congressional Record today by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill.

Findley earlier had placed in the record the names and hometowns of the 31,379 American servicemen killed in Vietnam from the outset of the war through the end of January. That list covered 121 pages.

McCovey Ready For Giants' Opener

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Willie McCovey is ready.

The 6-foot-4 first baseman of the San Francisco Giants sharpened his batting eye to a razor's edge yesterday by drilling two home runs, including a grand slam, in the Giants' 9-2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians at Shreveport, La.

Juan Marichal was to pitch for the Giants today against the brilliant Luis Tiant in the exhibition series windup with Cleveland at Memphis. San Francisco has beaten the Indians five out of seven games this spring with one tie. And Cleveland is no patsy, either, with its 15-12-1 spring mark.

McCovey is banging the ball at a .415 clip this spring in leading the Giants, now 18-6-1, with 20 rbi's.

Maybe even more important than McCovey's slugging was a single and walk by Jimmy Hart. The stubby belter has been out with a groin injury, but said he felt fine yesterday.

Gaylord Perry probably earned the second pitching assignment next Tuesday at Atlanta by going seven strong innings. Although he got belted hard his last time out, Perry is 5-1 for the spring while the loser was Sonny Siebert, a Cleveland front-liner who got whacked hard.

Bobby Bonds also hit a round-tripper for San Francisco.

Hart wasn't the only man to come back strong. Rich Robertson rejoined the team after a Los Angeles doctor looked at his sore knee. He said it felt "pretty good."

With Robertson back, it means the Giants are two over the opening day limit. One of the cuts should be Kenny Henderson, now under a doctor's care with hamstring pulls. He's not expected to play anywhere for three more weeks.

TWO MARIN GOLFERS LEADING BYU TEAM

Two former Marin County high school stars are leading the Brigham Young University team after the first round of the three-day Far West Intercollegiate Golf Tournament played yesterday at Santa Cruz.

Don Hawken, San Rafael High alumnus, shot a 74 yesterday while Ray Leach of Novato was one stroke behind at 75.

HERB MICHELSON

Bauer Fits Image Of Tough Marine

OAKLAND — The image makers needn't bother with Hank Bauer. He has done quite nicely for himself, thank you.

Everything about the A's manager is steely — the graying, bristly crew cut, the flinty, distant gaze, the harsh, sandpaper voice. Bauer is all done up in Marine Modern, and it fits. He was heroic in the military, bold on the playing field, gutsy as a team boss.

Quite a change from Bob Kennedy, who came across as Concerned Colonial. Kennedy always appeared sad, although there was no reason for his glumness up until the day Charlie Finley fired him. Kennedy did very well with what he had. But not very, very well — which is Bauer's current burden.

He Was Polite, Charming

On the perplexing exhibition swing into the A's hometown last weekend, Bauer sat solitarily in the dugout while his lads exerted themselves in pre-game muscle toning. He was polite, as charming as he'd been in Arizona. All he asked was that the press not get in his line of vision. What a manager watches druing fielding and batting practice is best known to managers. Perhaps they do nothing more than make certain their chattel isn't loafing.

A stranger interrupted the silence of the steely gaze to inquire: "Worried about your pitching, Skip?" (Incidentally, I am never confortable calling a manager Skip or Skipper, although nearly all players do — when they don't refer to him as The Man or The Boss. Yet, when you say Skip you feel rather good, or intimate, or that you belong. So much for the dugout dictionary.)

'Let's Just Say Concerned'

"Well," come the slow sandpapery answer, "let's just say I'm concerned." Concern indeed! Throughout the spring, Mister Bauer's four starters have been crushed, demolished, devastated, driven from the mound day after day in abject horror.

The springtime earned run averages of Messers, Dobson, Nash Odom and Hunter, the starting mound quartet, have been obscenities. If my arm were in shape (there are these calcium deposits in the elbow, you see), I might open against the White Sox in the Coliseum next Tuesday evening.

"What's their problem?" was the inquiry to Bauer.

"They're all wild high. The lower mound, I guess." Which translates: Because the pitcher is throwing from a five-inch lower elevation, he's forgetting to compensate. Or something.

It's A Convenient Excuse

"Then there's this other reason: They all complain their pitches don't break in Arizona," said Bauer. Translation: The air is so thin the curve won't curve. Further translation: It's a convenient excuse.

Of all the Athletic hurlers, only ace firemen Lew Krause and young Rollie Fingers (a perfectly named pitcher) have been in the least bit impressive. And without a lot of rain, it may be difficult to survive a season with a two-man pitching staff. Ten Fingers and no ten Fingers.

Lakers Roll Over Ice-Cold Warriors

Series Even At 2-2

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "When the good shooters are dropping them in," said Nate Thurmond, "it's bad."

The Los Angeles Lakers' good shooters were dropping them in all last night, while the San Francisco Warriors' good shooters — right along with their not so good ones — were missing everything in sight.

By the time the buzzer mercifully called an end to the debacle, played before 14,812 in the Cow Palace, the Lakers had yawned their way to a 103-88 victory and knotted the National Basketball Association Western Division playoff series at two games each.

ADVANTAGE

The Lakers, once two games down, now have a decided advantage. Two of the next three games, if three are needed, will be played in Los Angeles, the next one set for there tomorrow night.

The Warriors hit only a pathetic 30.7 per cent of their shots, while the Lakers had a more respectable 43.3 mark.

Actually only the first 4½ minutes of the second quarter were necessary. The Warriors could have given up after that.

The Lakers scored the first 16 points in that period, running up a 41-16 lead before the Warriors broke the ice.

Not until the end did the Warriors begin to catch up, and only when both benches were empty.

SHOW THEM

"There's a lot of psychology in the first quarter. If you get off to a good start shooting and rebounding, it can go a long way."

Warrior guard Jeff Mullins, who injured a knee in the third game of the series, started last night but was quickly withdrawn from the game when it became evident his mobility had been hampered.

"I hurt the team on defense," said Mullins, the starter in the first two Warrior victories. "I couldn't cover Jerry West the way I did the first games."

36 FOR WEST

REMATCH TONIGHT

Overtime: Kings Turn Back Seals

By DAVID DIETZ

OAKLAND — "We gave them the game," said Oakland Seals coach Fred Glover in bereavement. "We came up flatter than a pancake.

"We had a bad night. The problem was in our own end. Why, in the third period we must have hit Los Angeles players with 10 consecutive passes."

Glover spoke in a quiet dressing room last night moments after the Kings' Ted Irvine had swatted in a rebound after only 19 seconds of a sudden death overtime to give Los Angeles a 5-4 victory in the opening of a Western Division semifinal match in National Hockey League Stanley Cup competition. The Oakland Arena crowd was only 5,449.

TONIGHT

The Seals will seek to even the best-of-seven series tonight at 8 o'clock at the Coliseum Arena.

Irvine's winning goal came from a scramble in front of the net.

"I just banged at it," he said, receiving congratulations from Los Angeles coach Red Kelly. "Someone shouted the puck was down by his pad and I just swung at it."

Kelly, praising his team, said, "They worked up and down the ice all night. It was a great effort. We're now at least guaranteed of a split here in Oakland and that puts a little pressure on them."

BEATS SMITH

Los Angeles did not lead until the third period. With Oakland ahead, 3-2, Eddie Joyal, the King's fleet, high-scoring center, beat Oakland goalie Gary Smith twice within four minutes for a 4-3 Los Angeles lead.

Gene Ubriaco's 30-footer for Oakland with less than three minutes to play in regulation time sent the game into overtime.

50-FOOTER

Oakland was ahead, 2-1, after the first period on goals by Earl Ingarfield — a 50-footer which glanced off goalie Jerry Desjardins' glove — and Joe Szura, who beat Desjardins cleanly from 40 feet.

Rookie Gary Croteau, who recently graduated from St. Lawrence University, got the Los Angeles goal, his first of two for the night. His second tied the score at 2-2, but Oakland struck back when defenseman Francois Lacombe's shot from near midice caromed off Desjardins' replacement, Wayne Rutledge, into the net.

PULLED MUSCLE

Seals Gen. Mgr. Frank Selke said Oakland seemed listless and tense.

"We didn't hit anybody all night," he said. "They wanted it more than we did. Checking is the secret and we didn't do it. They pressed us pretty good."

Oakland captain Ted Hampson, on whom falls the job of lifting his team after a defeat, said, "We're down, naturally, but I think tomorrow night we'll be up again."

Novato's Streak Broken At Nine

That old adage that "you can't win 'em all" finally became a reality for the Novato High School varsity baseball team yesterday.

After nine consecutive victories, Coach Bob Aune's Hornets finally tasted defeat, 2-0, to the Terra Nova Tigers in the semifinals of the Terra Nova High School Invitational Tournament in Pacifica.

SHAKY START

The Hornets were to play today for third place in consolation round against an opponent yet to be determined.

Novato ace left-hander Russ Dillion got off to a shaky start yesterday when Terra Nova touched him for three hits, a walk and two runs in the first two innings. That was the ball game, although Dillion pitched well enough to win most games, giving up a total of four hits while striking out nine and walking three.

THREATEN

Novato threatened to score in the second inning on singles by Steve Majka and Bog Helbing, but Terra Nova's Bill Burgess escaped further damage. Only other hits by Novato, both singles, were by Dee Fedrick and Barry Beringer.

Only other Marin County Athletic League team still active in Easter Week tournament action is Terra Linda whose Trojans were to play Sacred Heart of San Francisco this afternoon in the South S.F. Tournament.

Warriors Win Flip To Pick Seventh

CINNCINNATI (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors won a coin flip against Cincinnati Royals yesterday for the right to pick seventh Monday in the National Basketball Association's telephone draft.

Both clubs finished with a 41-41 record and they split the season series 3-3. The Royals will make the eighth selection.

Dick Green On Inside Track For A's Job

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — Although no one has said it officially, put it down that Dick Green has won the second base job with the Oakland A's.

Green, a stickout hitter all spring, didn't hurt his chances any yesterday when he homered in an 8-4 victory over the San Diego Padres at Mesa. The two clubs met here again today.

Green has been in competition with John Donaldson and Ted Kubiak for the second base job. Donaldson is a sure handed fielder, as is Kubiak, but neither can hit as consistently—or as long for that matter—as Green.

The A's made news on several fronts yesterday.

At home in Oakland, it was announced that the entire 1969 season will be played in memory of Connie Mack, founder, owner and manager of the club for more than 50 years while it was based in Philadelphia.

Also, Bobby Hoffman, the club's first base coach, became a serious casualty when he stopped a foul line drive off the bat of Sal Bando during the first inning of yesterday's game with the Padres.

He was taken to a Mesa hospital in an ambulance and was reported to have suffered a broken nose. A's officials expected him to rejoin the club today but he probably will remain on the bench for several days.

In still another move, the A's cut four pitchers to get down to the opening day player limit of 25.

Jack Baldschun, Cincinnati property who joined the A's on a trial basis, was one of the pitchers released. He immediately hooked on with the Padres, also on a trial basis. If he fails to make the expansion club, he returns to the Reds, who more than likely would assign him to the minors.

Also cut were pitchers Vida Blue, Gil Blanco and George Lauzerique. All three went to Des Moines of the American Association on option.

Game Rescheduled

The Oakland Oaks and Los Angeles Stars have rescheduled their last game of the season for tomorrow night. The American Basketball Association match was to have been played tonight in Oakland, but conflicted with the National Hockey League playoff game between Oakland and Los Angeles.

Toronto's Kennedy On Carpet

MONTREAL (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said he would conduct a hearing this afternoon in Boston into an attack by Toronto center Forbes Kennedy on a linesman in last night's Toronto-Boston playoff game. (See picture on page 32.)

Kennedy knocked down linesman George Ashley late in the third period of the game in Boston after squaring off with Bruins goaltender Gerry Cheevers. Kennedy received a minor, two majors and a game misconduct for his role in the skirmish.

Boston walloped Toronto 10-0 in the penalty-studded first game of the NHL East Division best-of-seven semifinal series.

Giant Bolin Coming Off Good '68 Finish

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Bob Bolin is a master of capsule comments. He has an ability to sum up a complete season in a pithy phrase. He invariably makes himself the butt of the comment that always is touched with just a tinge of irony.

"I won the hang-in-there title," said Bolin following the 1966 season in which he completed 10 games but wound up with a mediocre 11-10 record that belied a commendable 2.89 ERA over 224 innings in 36 games.

IN 1967 even BB found it difficult to comment about his pitching because that year was his worst since the Giants promoted him in 1961 from their farm system to the big team. "Just forget it," said Bolin in referring to a 6-8 record and 4.88 ERA.

Last year was one of Bolin's best once he got a chance to pitch. He did not become a starter until July 31. All but two of his wins in a 10-5 record came as a starter. In the last two months of the season, Bolin started 13 games, won 6, completed 5 and finished with an ERA of 1.98.

BOLIN'S ERA throughout the 1968 campaign was consistent and only four times during the season did he yield more than two earned runs in a game. Why wasn't his record better than 10-5? Here are a couple of examples that answer that.

On Sept. 18 Bolin was a 2-0 loser to St. Louis and Ray Washburn who no-hit the Giants on their home lot in Candlestick Park. It just about takes a no-hitter for Bolin to lose to the Cardinals against whom he has been most effective (lifetime 9-4).

"I'M LIKE A USED car," said Bolin in reference to the 1968 season. "You don't want to run it very much because it might break down. But if you want to take a long trip you have to drive it."

Now, Bolin is starting his ninth major league season with the Giants. Thus far, he hasn't been impressive in spring exhibition games. He finds it difficult to get excited about the exhibitioners. He regards them, as most ball players do, as games designed to sharpen pitching and hitting.

THIS SPRING Bolin's back has been bothering him a bit but he says it hasn't interfered with his throwing. Clyde King, the new rookie boss of the Giants, told Bolin that he has seen him throw much more effectively. "He hasn't been throwing like he can," said King.

Bolin blazed the ball during his first three years in the big time. He had only one pitch then — fast ball. He since has added a slider and a changeup curve. He has had trouble getting his changeup over this spring.

Bolin still has no effective pickoff move to first base — or any other base, for that matter. In his first outing this spring, base thieves stole second twice and third once on him. Nobody has stolen home yet on Bolin. That would be just too much of an effrontery.

Lew Puts End To Bidding War, Signs With Bucks

BEVERLEY HILLS (AP) — The bidding war for the services of UCLA's Lew Alcindor has officially ended with the 7-foot-1½ center signing a Milwaukee Bucks contract and announcing he'll change his style of play.

With contentment etched on his face, a poised Alcindor autographed a document yesterday that would make him a millionaire and, reportedly, a part owner in the National Basketball Association expansion team.

NOT DISCLOSED

Terms of the contract were not disclosed by John Erickson, the Bucks' vice president and general manager, who said "This contract is very fair."

Lew said he chose the NBA's Milwaukee "because their offer was more stable and more lucrative" than one by the American Basketball Association.

Asked if Lew also received stock in the contract, Erickson said, "I have no comment to make about that."

The signing came less than two weeks after Lew had led UCLA to a history-making third straight national collegiate title. He did it with what his college Coach John Wooden called "a most unselfish attitude." Will that style of play change?

"I have a few ideas of my own about playing in the pros," said Alcindor.

SOME WORK

"I'm going to work out on my own this summer—before I go to camp. I've got a few things to work on, things I haven't tried before."

He said some of the centers in the league use moves toward the basket that are "too rudimentary" and he said he would try to be a little more of "a freelancer." He indicated that variety would be the spice of his game.

Aaron Wins Greensboro Pro-Am

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Tommy Aaron shot a 65, six-under-par, to win top prize of $750 yesterday in the $7,500 Pro-Amateur preceding the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament which started today.

Aaron finished one stroke ahead of three other pros. Al Geiberger, Don January and Don Bies each won $563 for their second place tie.

BOWLING

AKRON, Ohio — Dick Weber of St. Louis, the only professional bowler to have earned $300,000 in official winnings, took a 26-pin lead in the PBA's Firestone Open, with a sizzling 223 average for 16 games.

HORSE RACING

Knicks Make Sweep Over 'Champ' Bullets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willis Reed did his homework and as a result the Baltimore Bullets are wearing the National Basketball Association's dunce cap today.

Reed, burly 6-foot-10 center of the New York Knickerbockers, poured in a club playoff record 43 points last night, pacing the third-place Knicks to a 115-108 triumph over the pennant-winning Bullets that completed a four-game sweep of their Eastern Division semifinal series.

TO FINALS

The Knicks move into the Eastern finals against the survivor of the Boston-Philadelphia series, which resumes tomorrow night in Philadelphia.

Reed hit on 15 of 29 shots as he erased Cazzie Russell's Knick playoff standard of 40 points.

"I stopped him in the first two games," said Baltimore's Ray Scott of Reed, "but he's a great player and he goes home and does his homework. He studies the man who's guarding him.

"In the first two games I had him going to my strength, away from the basket, but tonight he used his great strength more. He moved me closer to the basket and then, when he gets off, there's nothing you can do to stop the guy."

EXPLOSION

Scott limited Reed to 35 points in the first two games, but was overwhelmed for 35 in the third game before last night's explosion.

"If you get the ball in the right spot at the right moment nobody can stop you," Reed explained.

It was the first time the Knicks have ever won four straight playoff games while the proud Bullets, who climbed from last place to first in one year, became the first division champion to be swept in four games.

FIRST 12

Baltimore stunned the Knicks by scoring the first 12 points. But the New Yorkers trailed by only 29-25 after one period and it was nip-and-tuck until they went ahead to stay 77-75 on Bill Bradley's basket.

Reed then took over. His bucket gave the Knicks an 86-82 lead and he added seven more points as they increased the spread to 99-87, then fought off a late Baltimore comeback.

Cal Denies Any Coach Decision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Examiner said yesterday that California assistant track coach Dave Maggard would soon be named head coach, but the school denied any decision had been made.

Maggard, 29, who made the U.S. Olympic team as a shot putter last year, will be named to replace Sam Bell, who is leaving Cal to become track coach at Indiana, the paper said.

Stan Wright, assistant U.S. Olympic coach, and Olympic hammer thrower Harold Connolly, have both said they would be interested in the job.

Clendenon Ends Short Retirement, Inks Pact

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Donn Clendenon is back with Montreal, Bill White is back with St. Louis and Bo Belinsky is back in the news.

Those developments overshadowed the action on the exhibition baseball playing fields yesterday.

Clendenon ended his brief retirement and signed a two-year contract with the Expos. The controversial trade involving Rusty Staub and Clendenon, which turned out not to involve Clendenon, was completed today. The Astros obtained pitchers John Billingham and Skip Guinn plus an undisclosed amount of money from the Montreal Expos.

FROM PHILS

The Cardinals reacquired first baseman White from the Philadelphia Phillies for infielder Jerry Buchek and chatcher Jim Hutto. White will be primarily a pinch hitter.

Belinsky was given a mild sedative at a St. Petersburg, Fla. hospital, and sent back to his hotel after complaining of weakness.

"I'm sure this has been a result of all the stress and strain Bo has gone through trying to make another big league club," said Dr. William Jefferey of Mound Park Hospital. The left-handed pitcher was cut by the St. Louis Cardinals a few days ago.

Los Angeles shelled Houston 10-5 in a night exhibition, while in afternoon games St. Louis walloped Detroit 11-3, Atlanta crushed Cincinnati 10-0, Kansas City edged Philadelphia 2-0, San Francisco crushed Cleveland 9-2, Minnesota nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings.

BLANK CUBS

Also the Chicago White Sox blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0, the New York Yankees took Washington 2-1 in 10 innings, Oakland downed San Diego 8-4, California beat Seattle 6-4, Pittsburgh whipped the New York Mets 7-2 and Montreal turned back the Mets' B team 2-1.

The Dodgers broke a 2-2 tie with three runs in the fifth inning and went on to defeat the Astros. Don Drysdale started for the Dodgers but left in the fourth inning with a strained right arm.

Bob Gibson tuned up for next week's opening day assignment by yielding three runs in seven innings as the Cardinals romped over the Tigers.

3RD SHUTOUT

Ron Reed, Ken Johnson and George Stone limited Cincinnati to three hits in the Braves' triumph. It was the Reds' third consecutive shutout.

Cookie Rojas' first-inning single off Dave Morehead was the only Philadelphia hit as Morehead, Tom Burgmeier and Dave Wickersham blanked the Phillies for Kansas City.

Harmon Killebrew slugged his first spring homer but the Twins needed George Mitterwald's two-out, bases-loaded single in the 10th inning to shade the Red Sox.

CALLED BY RAIN

Sammy Ellis outpitched Bill Hands as the White Sox topped the Cubs in a game shortened to seven innings by rain. Frank Fernandez hammered a 10th-inning homer to nudge the Yankees by the Senators.

NHL PLAYOFFS

Bruins Maul Toronto 10-0

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Explosive Phil Esposito and the rest of the short-fuse Boston Bruins gave Toronto a dose of their specialty — plenty of fists and plenty of goals. The boisterous Bruins stormed to a 10-0 romp over the hapless Maple Leafs in the opening game of their first round National Hockey League best-of-7 Stanley Cup playoff.

In other openers, Montreal tripped New York 3-1, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 5-2 and Los Angeles outlasted Oakland 5-4 in overtime.

SIX POINTS

Esposito, who set a scoring record with an incredible 126 regular season points, tied a playoff mark with six points on four goals and two assists, leading Boston's romp. Johnny Bucyk and Derek Sanderson also had two goals apiece for the Bruins, who set a record with 303 goals during the regular season.

The Bruins, who revel in tough stuff, got plenty of action from the Maple Leafs. Referee John Ashley tagged Toronto with 76 minutes in penalties including 10 minors, five majors and three misconducts. The Bruins were well-behaved by comparison with only 56 minutes on 10 minors, four majors and one misconduct.

Pat Quinn, a rookie defenseman for the Leafs, decked Boston's Bobby Orr with an elbow that left the Bruin defenseman stretched out on the ice. When he got to the penalty box, Quinn became embroiled with fans and the Leaf bench emptied to join him in the battle. Police had to break up that confrontation.

Later, Forbes Kennedy took on Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers and all he got for his trouble was a minor, two majors and game misconduct as well as some lumps from John McKenzie, who came to Cheevers' aid.

SNAPS TIE

Ferguson shoveled a short shot past Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin just six seconds before the end of a Ranger penalty and snapped a 1-1 tie. Then Henri Richard's carom shot slid 150 feet into an empty Ranger net for the clincher with 40 seconds left and Giacomin off for an extra attacker.

INJURY

Hall, who is expected to miss tonight's second game, was hurt at 10:48 of the first period with St. Louis leading on goals by Ab McDonald and Tim Eccelstone.

Bill Sutherland beat Plante at 12:13 on a power play but then the Blues' goalie took charge and goals by Larry Keenan, Camille Henry and Terry Gray carried St. Louis to a 5-1 edge before Dick Cherry's late goal for the Flyers.

Records For Howe

DETROIT (UPI) — Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wings' star now in his 23rd season, holds nine National Hockey League individual records, including most seasons, most games and most goals.

Quarterback John Hadl Back In Chargers' Fold

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — San Diego Chargers quarterback John Hadl, who had played out his option to become a free agent, was back in the American Football League club's fold, having signed a new contract.

Hadl refused to sign the standard option clause contract in 1968 and under pro football regulations became a free agent. But the former Kansas quarterback finally reached terms with the Chargers yesterday.

Neither side would disclose details of the agreement. Hadl had asked for a three-year contract calling for more than $50,000 a year plus a $250,000 loan for investment purposes.

"The club and John are very pleased with the contract and everything else is behind us," said Charger coach-general manager Sid Gillman. "We can now start concentrating on football."

"Now it's a 2-out-of-3 series," said Lee.

And, added Laker Coach Bill van Breda Kolff, "Nothing is sewed up. It never is in this game."

By AL GIDDINGS

Passing On Some Notes To Hunters, Fishermen

HIGH WATER and snow have plagued hatcheries, with some flooding at Darrah, Crystal and Mt. Shasta. However, no fish were lost and only minor damage was caused at the hatcheries, due to constant vigil of staff workers. Temperatures as low as 17 degrees below zero were recorded in eastern Siskiyou and Modoc counties.

WARDENS IN the snow country report that three hunters chasing bobcats over crusted snow have taken 86 cats since December. They pursue the animals on snowmobiles. Pelts are reported to be selling for $27.50.

A REPORT by a predator hunter that poachers had killed and dressed out an elk on the Colusa Range sent wardens to the scene. Figuring the poachers would return after dark for the meat, the wardens staked out the area and nabbed two Bay Area men attempting to transport the meat to their car in a one-wheel meat carrier. The case is pending in court.

This is the fifth elk illegally killed in Colusa County in the past six months. Arrests and convictions were obtained in four cases.

FOWL CHOLERA was confirmed in the coot population at Grizzly Island, with coot losses low and no duck losses reported to date.

LOS BANOS and Mendota Wildlife Areas were busy in February, it was revelaed this week. At Mendota, 118 hunters took 733 coots, 36 jackrabbits and one raccoon. Muskrat trappers are averaging 45 to 85 muskrats per day and to date have taken 1,500 off the area.

At Los Banos, 228 hunters took 634 coots, and at San Luis Wasteway, 36 hunters took 137 coots. One six-pound catfish was reported taken at Los Banos, despite generally poor fishing.

AS A RESULT of the oil leak in the ocean off Santa Barbara, normal Marine Patrol activities in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties came to an almost complete halt and work was confined to the spill.

Some 1,500 water birds have been affected by oil, primarily western grebes. No serious effects on marine and intertidal life have been noted so far.

TWO SEA OTTER censuses came up with counts of 983 and 770. The high of 983 compares to the previous high of 664. This does not indicate a huge increase in the population, but means that because of ideal weather conditions and improved census techniques, more animals were visible and detected at census time than at any time before. It also means that on Jan. 31, there were at least 983 sea otters in the area between Seaside and Point Estero in Southern California.

ASSEMBLYMAN Ken MacDonald, D-Ojai, recently introduced legislation requiring persons under 21 years old to successfully complete a hunter safety course before obtaining a hunting license. Present law requires the course only for persons under 18.

Persons 21 years old who have never had a hunting license would have to either pass a test or successfully complete the hunter safety course.

The bill provides for a $2 fee for all taking the course, with half the money being retained by the Instructor for reimbursement of out of pocket expenses, and the other half going to the Department of Fish and Game.

An Optimistic Salmon Report

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state's new director of fish and game said yesterday better water conditions and an increase in young fish make new salmon fishing restrictions unnecessary.

Director G. Raymond Arnett's comments to the Fish and Game Commission would reverse earlier commission policy to ask the 1969 legislature to reduce commercial salmon limits.

Arnett said he will recommend next year that the sport fishing three-salmon limit be restored. The commission cannot raise salmon sport wishing limits until formal meetings this fall.

Arnett said today that "a slight increase" of spawning fish was seen in salmon grounds after sports fishing for king salmon was reduced last fall. He also said increased water supplies will aid salmon spawning this year.

GIANTS THE PICK IN WEST

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals probably won their third straight pennant last October when they acquired Vada Pinson in a deal that was announced shortly after they lost the seventh World Series game to Detroit.

The Cardinals figure to become the first team since the St. Louis clubs of the 1942-3-4 period to make it three straight in the National League.

NOT EASY

It won't be as easy as it was last year or the year before, not because the opposition will be tougher, but because of the new format adopted by the major leagues.

In addition to winning their own Eastern Division, where they will compete with Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Montreal, they must beat the winner of the Western Division in a best-of-five series to get into the series with the American League champions.

Before we get into the whys and wherefores, here's the way it looks from here in the two divisions:

East	West
1. St. Louis	1. San Francisco
2. Chicago	2. Cincinnati
3. Pittsburgh	3. Atlanta
4. Philadelphia	4. Los Angeles
5. New York	5. Houston
6. Montreal	6. San Diego

As if the Cards were not strong enough already, they come up with an all-star outfield when they added Pinson, the former Cincinnati Red, to Lou Brock and Curt Flood.

TIME WILL TELL

It remains to be seen how much the swap that brought Joe Torre to the Cards for Orlando Cepeda will mean, but a switch of uniforms often helps both parties in a case like this.

The Cards will live or die once again on the pitching of Bob Gibson, 33, who is coming off a sensational 22-9 year with a record 1.12 earned run average. Nelson Briles, Ray Washburn, Steve Carlton and probably Davie Giusti, ex-Houston Astro, will back up Gibson to form a combination that will be hard to beat.

The Cubs figure to be the only real threat in the East. Leo Durocher has that fine infield and the big bats of Ron Santo, Ernie Banks and Billy Williams. Much depends on the young pitchers behind Fergie Jenkins.

NO GAPS

Despite injuries to men like Roberto Clemente and Gene Alley, the Pittsburgh Pirates seem to have enough to beat out the Phillies and the Mets for third place although there does not appear to be any real big gap.

The Pirates count heavily on rookies at first and third and must get big years from pitchers Bob Veale and Steve Blass and hope for a comeback by Jim Bunning. Richie Allen is the key to the Phils, who are short on pitching and also lean hard on new people like Don Money and Larry Hisle.

The Mets have largely the same club but may have improved pitching from Jim McAndrew and rookie Gary Gentry. Gil Hodges has the club hustling but they still won't score many runs. Montreal has to be last as an expansion club with questionable pitching.

TEMPTING

It is tempting to pick the Giants second again because they always finish there. However, their solid pitching gives them the edge over Cincinnati and Atlanta in a race that could turn on the fans.

If you were sure the Reds' pitching would be as good as Manager Dave Bristol thinks it will be, they would have to be the pick. Cincinnati has the best hitting club in the league and the major league batting champion in Pete Rose.

But that pitching of Juan Marichal, Gaylord Perry and Ray Sadecki and the slugging of Willie McCovey, Jim Ray Hart and Willie Mays should do it for the Giants.

DANGEROUS

Atlanta has a 1-2 punch in Hank Aaron and Cepeda, plus Felipe Alou. They can be dangerous if the pitching continues to improve.

The Dodgers are experimenting with rookies and moving home plate closer to the fences while relying on the pitching of Don Drysdale, Bill Singer, Claude Osteen and Don Sutton. It should be enough to stay ahead of Houston, which toppled into 10th place last season. It will be a miracle if San Diego, the expansion team, gets out of last in its first season.

Next—American League Picks.

Some Charter Changes Needed—And Some Not

Four proposed San Rafael city charter amendments on the April 15 ballot have to do with matters other than converting elective to appointive positions.

There has been no police judge since reorganization of California courts nearly two decades ago which absorbed police courts into the municipal courts. The position therefore should not be listed in the charter.

A "YES" vote is called for on this corrective measure.

PROPOSITION F would make the mayor's term four years instead of two.

San Rafael is unusual in having the mayor elected separately. Most cities in California — including all general law (non-charter) cities — simply elect a city council whose members then designate one of themselves as mayor. The mayoralty often rotates year by year.

There seems little reason for election of a separate mayor in San Rafael. His duties as set forth in the charter could as well be performed by a mayor appointed by his fellow councilmen.

There is, however, one possible advantage to the two-year term. Having the mayor — the fifth council member — elected every two years gives the electorate the opportunity to change the majority of the council every two years, since two of the four councilmen also come up for election each two years. Such a majority council change has not happened within living memory, but it could.

If this chance to change the council majority every two years is worth preserving, then the mayor's term should remain at two years.

If it is not, we see no need for separate election of mayor, and suggest the voters should be presented a proposal to allow the council to choose one of it members as mayor.

Either way, a "NO" vote is indicated on Proposition F.

PROPOSITION G would increase the fire commission, parks and recreation commission, and library board from five to seven members. The planning commission already has seven members.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini, in proposing this revision, suggested that increasing the number would allow one city council member to serve on each commission (one now serves on the fire commission), and that a seven-member commission should have less trouble getting a quorum.

We doubt that the second contention is true. As to the first, councilmen have shown no enthusiasm for commission service. Also, experience has shown that the larger the committee, the less it accomplishes.

We recommend a "NO" vote on Proosition G.

PROPOSITION H would make removal of all appointive officials possible by vote of three members of the council.

All are now with these exceptions: city engineer superintendent of streets, health officer, and fire chief. Article VI, Section 11 of the charter provides that these "may be removed at any time by unanimous vote of the council."

There seems no reason for such a requirement for these jobs when all other appointed officers from city manager on down may be removed by vote of three council members.

Therefore, a "YES" vote is indicated on Proposition G.

Safer In The Suburbs

Cities are thought by many experts to be bad for mental health of their residents compared to life in the suburbs. But mental health is notoriously hard to measure, and what is one man's book may be another man's genius.

However, we recently stumbled across some figures that show that peptic ulcers and coronary attacks are more common in cities. And lung cancer among non-smokers is 11 times more common in the cities than in a rural environment. This can be explained by air pollution. Not so easy to explain is the fact that most kinds of cancer are more common in the city than in the country.

So even if your mental health is no safer in Marin than elsewhere, your physical health may be better here.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State May Move Into Field Of Farm Labor Mediation

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Attempts to resolve the continuing problems of agricultural labor disputes, boycotts, and other matters affecting employers and labor are being made by the state legislature this session.

The problems have been current for half a century, and little has been done to resolve them. The general public is affected in some instances, such as last year's grape boycott, which knocked this product from some markets and deprived people of the privilege of buying grapes.

ASSEMBLYMAN Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley, is attempting to reach solutions through the route of a state conciliation board under the general services department.

Duties of the board would be to investigate and mediate labor disputes, and conduct representative elections under some circumstances.

The board would operate whenever any agricultural dispute is found to affect the public interest, and any organization claiming representation requests an election and shows that 30 per cent of employees desire to be represented by a union.

The bill also cites and specifies certain unfair labor practices by both employer and employee, and gives the mediation services the power to prevent such practices.

"There has been much propaganda and not enough truth in the area of agricultural labor relations," declares Veysey.

MEANWHILE, Assemblyman Alan Pattee, R-Salinas, returned from Washington, D.C., where he sought information as to probable federal action on the farm labor situation.

Pattee said that while he would urge support of California farmers and congressmen for national legislation, the state legislature could not afford to close its eyes to the possibility of state action.

He said there is a "great chance" that federal legislation will be "stalemated."

Protesters Ignore Real Obscenities

I see by your paper that the more conservative organizations are one by one coming out officially against any form of sex education in our schools. It strikes me, as I read the vehemence of the feelings behind the pronouncements about sex education for children, that somehow things have gotten all turned around. It strikes me how comparatively little protest is made over the really obscene things in our culture, the killing, the glorifying as heroes those who are killers, in history and in war; the lack of response to human suffering, to starvation, to despair, the insistence upon capital punishment; all of which are readily available to our children at any time during the day, on television or in various kinds of literature, while the teaching of human sexuality is something that even in its lowest and most perverted form, can never approach the ugliness of the really obscene things which we do to each other in the name of perverted patriotism and law.

I feel the possibility that what many of these people are afraid of is their own sexuality, and perhaps if we can teach our children to respect and enjoy their sexuality, there might not be so much need for the real obscenities in our society.

Simpler Meaning Of Peace Symbol

W. G. Woodward in the March 27 letters to the editor offers an interesting but quite inaccurate explanation of the meaning of the peace symbol. In semaphore, "a system of signaling, esp. a system by which a special flag is held in each hand and various positions of the arms indicate specific letters and numbers" (Random House Dictionary of the English Language, the letter "N" is signified by flags held at roughly the 20 past 8 o'clock position. When held at the 6 o'clock position, the flags indicate the letter "D." These two superimposed upon one another result in the peace symbol. "ND" symbolizes Nuclear Disarmament.

Only War-Hawks Can Be Patriots?

One of your correspondents, a Mr. (W.G.) Woodward, who I believe is active with the local Jack Acid Society, made a point in his letter about the peace symbol but I doubt if it is the one he wanted to. He rattled off some bloody nonsense about medieval and anti-Christ signs and tried to make the point that the Communists are the modern anti-Christ.

The real point that he made was that the ultra-left and the ultra-right both need and justify one-another and quite often agree with each other. For by Mr. Woodward's logic, since the Communists are back of the American peace movement, it follows that a good, true-blue, American patriot must be a super war-hawk. Correct me if I'm wrong, but this has been the psotion taken by Pravda for at least the past quarter of a century.

Site Of Easter Rites Littered

About a month ago I wrote to you my opinion on the student airline fare situation. I've got another beef now. Has any of your staff been on the top of San Rafael Hill lately? If not, I strongly suggest you send somebody up to look at the ugly trash on the sides of the road at the top.

My sister and I drove up there last week for the view. Besides seeing the bay and surrounding area, we saw loads of beer cans and other trash which spoiled the view for me. My sister and I started picking up beer cans, broken glass, etc., and filled the trunk of our car with junk.

The reason I'm telling you this is so people will find out about it before the Easter service at the cross and do something about it. I'm willing to do something about the mess, but I can't do it all alone.

Women Slandered By Crime Report

"Prediction: Women Will Turn to Serious Crime" headlined an AP dispatch citing a sociologist's special report to the Joint Commission on Correctional Manpower and Training (I-J, March 27).

This scare prognosis represents another ill-disguised attempt to degrade the female while covering up the male as the perpetrator of most crime and violence in our culture. The latest available FBI crime figures shows that in 1967 total arrests involved 4.8 million males, or more than 87 per cent of those apprehended. When you add to this the fact that in female arrests for prostitution, the males who purchased these services go free as does the procuror or "protector," the figures become even more lopsided. . . .

The generalized female respect for love and the preservation of life remains as one of our few hopes for any kind of future free of crime and violence.

MARQUIS CHILDS

HONG KONG — The professional China watchers in this glittering, opulent outpost are working three shifts to try to get a reading on the struggle between the two communist Goliaths. It is guesswork at best, for beyond the borders of the British crown colony 700 million Chinese are sealed in an implacable dictatorship.

Efforts to send in observers, agents, call them what you will, invariably end in failure. The guesswork is based, therefore, on threshing through the mass of dreary propaganda out of Peking, reading between the lines of the newspapers for clues, interviewing the diplomats, businessmen and the few journalists who come out.

With the reservation that it is guesswork, several conclusions emerge as to the struggle between Moscow and Peking. First, all the evidence points to China's extreme caution in not provoking any large scale Societ attack. While the hate barrage has been furious and the Russian leaders branded as the "new Czars" with a call for their overthrow, demonstrations outside the Soviet embassy have been held in check. Demonstrators were kept at a distance of a hundred yards from the embassy.

CHINA'S FEARS are centered on the meeting of Communist parties of the world that the Kremlin has put together for June. If a resolution can be pushed through branding the Chinese as heretics, the Kremlin may feel free to move.

In the border provinces of Sinkiang and Inner Mongolia are ethnic groups, the Kazhaks and the Ugirs, with close ties with their fellows in the Soviet Union. Conceivably they could be whipped up to cause major trouble for the Chinese and a bloody repression would increase the risk of direct Russian intervention.

Moreover, China's nuclear weapons and missile center is at Lopnor in Sinkiang province. The Chinese do not rule out, observers here believe, the possibility of a Russian strike to destroy the nuclear center.

ON THE NUCLEAR timetable the general agreement is that China will have an intermediate-range missile with a nuclear warheod by 1974 or '75. Four to five years later will see an operational ICBM. Mao is reported to have said that if in a nuclear exchange two or three hundred million Chinese were killed there would still be a population surviving sufficient to restore the Communist order and dominate the earth.

Alongside the prospect of such a holocaust, the skirmishing across the Ussuri River on the remote border between the two powers is pre-World War I stuff. Both China and Russia have greatly increased their forces along the border. One estimate puts Russian troop strength at 300,000 on the eastern border.

YET THE ACCEPTED judgment is that open warfare on any sizable scale is not in the cards for the foreseeable future.

For the doctrinaire Communist this is a religious war with totally opposed views on the holy writ of Marxism-Leninism and how to bring about world revolution.

This is nowhere more evident than in the dispute between Peking and Moscow over the Vietnam War. Peking was bitterly opposed to the Paris talks and used every possible pressure to keep Hanoi from going to Paris. China's propaganda lectures Hanoi on the "perfidy" of Russian aid and the "peace talks fraud."

China nevertheless continues to supply about 40 per cent of the total support for North Vietnam to Russia's 60 per cent. So, for all the sound and fury of their propaganda war, Peking and Moscow are still partners in frustrating the wicked imperialists in Vietnam.

Ocean's Floor Becomes New Arena In Arms Race

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

On the Atlantic and Pacific ocean approaches to the United States and in key passageways such as Gibraltar delicate U.S. listening devices tell of the approach of potentially enemy submarines.

American scientists descend to ocean floors to test man's ability to live and work from undersea chambers.

And, as the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference reconvened at the beginning of its eighth year, a surprisingly affable Russian representative, Aleksei A. Roshchin, rose to present the Soviet Union's version of the latest proposal to prevent man from destroying himself.

He smilingly declared that if there were objections to some part of the Russian plan to ban use of the ocean floors for military installations, the Russian approach was negotiable.

BETWEEN the men working on the ocean floor, the detection devices and the Russian proposal there was a connection.

What, the United States wanted to know, did the Russians mean exactly by "military installations"?

To the surprise of its detractors, the Geneva Conference had since its beginning in 1962 major achievements to its credit.

Acting sometimes as mediator, sometimes proposing alternatives, it had assisted the United States and the Soviet Union to reach a widening circle of agreements ranging from a partial test ban on nuclear weapons, to a prohibition of nuclear weapons in outer space and in the Antarctic.

And it had provided a valuable assist in persuading nations to sign the latest of these—a ban on proliferation of nuclear weapons.

BETWEEN the U.S. and Russian positions there did not seem great differences.

In a letter to the conference, President Richard M. Nixon himself had proposed its members start negotiations to ban nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction from the ocean floor to "assure that the seabed, man's last frontier, remains free from the nuclear arms race."

But experience in dealing with the Soviets and their Communist partners from Yalta and Potsdam to Korea had taught the west a measure of caution.

There also was the unpleasant memory of the widespread favorable reaction to former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand for "general and complete disarmament."

AT SOME future date could the Russians claim that military messages sent by undersea cable violate the ban on "military installations?" Did it apply only to offensive weapons or to defensive weapons as well? Did it apply to scientific explorations in which the military participated?

The Americans wanted it spelled out. They also wanted the ban extended to prevent contamination of the seas by all weapons of the ABC category— Atomic, Bilogical and chemical —and radiological as well.

Marin's Most Interesting Places Are Mostly On Back Streets

"Daisy Dondero gave the deer to the city I don't know how long ago," said San Anselmo fireman George Jewell.

The big metal buck with the blue marble eyes stands on the lawn in front of the San Anselmo City Hall, real in an unreal world — or vice versa. Jewell said the firehouse has been added onto a couple of times but still has a boxed bulge where the engies stand, from which hay used to be dropped for the horses.

And the ridges are still on the pavement out front so the horses could get traction to start off.

Firemen are now doing some of their own remodeling in the kitchen, Jewell said, and a new firehouse is at least 15 years off.

A FEW stones' throws from the Spanish-styled city hall are the "castles" of San Francisco Theological Seminary. In fact, most of the interesting parts of Marin are on its back roads.

Shady Lane, for example, is a good street to take to Ross — a hidden town with lots of bike riders.

We visited the Squirrels' Nest where four women were very busy making tote bags. Asking about the Easter eggs in the window, Nancy Rogers said the squirrels don't make those. They are from Germany.

We visited Sam the Butcher's and found out that Sam isn't there any more. It's Kemp the butcher, now.

Flags were being flown for Eisenhower and more people were riding bicycles on Kent Avenue toward Kentfield. It's a good back road.

WE MET a nun in Larkspur who said she was walking back to St. Patrick's from the creek.

"I was looking for plant and animal life because my eighth grade science class is going on a small field trip tomorrow," said Sister Ann Rozalia.

What did you find? we asked.

"Salamanders and some lizards and tomorrow we'll compare the skins between reptiles and amphibiants. We're also checking out the trees — the poplars are just beginning to leaf out."

Sister Rozalia is with the Dominican order, wears a short-skirted white habit with a black top. We wished her a good trip and she said, "O.K. Pray for us. Don'lt let them fall in."

THERE'S A BACK alley off Hart Street in Corte Madera which is the property of precision engineer Bill Nelson. We asked him about life and Nelson said, "It's pretty good."

He said he welded a lot of toys after Christmas and right now is going into heli-arc welding which enables him to weld aluminum such as you find on outboard motors.

The red-faced, mustachioed Nelson, who calls himself an "odd character doing odd jobs," said he'll be 67 on June 30.

He said he tells friends that he retired a a lithographer but refuses to stop working because he's seen too many friends disappear that way.

In the winter he gabs around a pot-bellied stove in his shop with his cronies. "Some guy from L.A. wanted to give me $150 for the stove," said Nelson. "What are you, some kind of a nut?" Nelson said he asked him. he man said, no, the stove is a Bridge and Beach from St. Louis with grapes on the front. "It was given to me," said Nelson. "I won't sell."

Soldier Feared Victim Of Rabies

FORT ORD (UPI)—An AWOL Army man was sought today before he dies of rabies from a dog bite received in Vietnam. Wednesday. If he does not complete the treatment, Army Post hospital authorities said that the GI had been on emergency leave in the United States because of the death of one of his parents. When it was learned that a dog which bit him in Vietnam was rabid, he was put on quarantine here.

Authorities said the situation was confused by the fact that he apparently gave a false identification to the Fort Ord doctors. The Army expected to identify him shortly.

He had received 22 Pasteur shots and was due to get them for 14 more days when he walked out of the post hospital medics say, he could die.

Pentagon's New Inquiry Method: Deucedly Clever, These Chaps

WASHINGTON—The seismograph in Washington, D.C., showed a slight quake in the Credibility Gap last week when Undersecretary of Defense David Packard testified in front of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on disarmament on the ABM. Asked to name a science adviser not connected with the Pentagon who had participated in a review of the missile system, Packard came up with Dr. Wolfgang K. H. Panofsky, a noted physicist from Stanford.

Unfortunately for Packard, Dr. Panofsky denied he had participated in any review of the Safeguard system and said he was opposed to it. He also said that his only encounter with Packard was an accidental meeting at the airport in San Francisco where the men talked informally about different defense systems while waiting for their planes.

I WAS VERY curious about the Pentagon's new method of talking to scientists, and I was fortunate to run into a friend of mine who happens to be an assistant secretary of defense. He was standing next to the insurance counter at New York's La Guardia field.

"Where are you going?" I asked him.

"I'm not going anywhere," he said. I'm stationed here working on a research project."

"What do you mean?"

"WHY AT the airports?" I asked.

"None of them wants to come to Washington, so we have to catch them on the run. Look, there's Prof. Bezilsky of Harvard University." He stopped the professor.

"Dr. Bezilsky," he said, "my name's Carnaby of the Defense Department, and I was wondering if you could give me your opinion of the ultrahigh frequencies in radar simulation vis-a-vis the ABM."

Prof. Bezilsky looked anoyed. "I haf to catch my plane."

"It will only take a minute, sir."

"Please, this is not the place to go into ultrahigh frequencies in radar simulation." Bezilsky said, trying to move on.

"PROFESSOR, are you for it or against it?"

"Vill you let me catch my plane, dummkopf?"

Carnaby said, "Well, he's for it."

"How did you figure that?" I asked him.

"Our orders are that if a scientist doesn't come out specifically and say he's against the ABM, then he must be for it." Carnaby wrote something in his notebook. "I have four scientists for the ABM and one against."

"THAT'S MARVELOUS," I said in admiration. "All you have to do is wait by the New York to Boston shuttle and you catch the whole MIT, Harvard and Tufts scientific establishment."

"Right. It's foolproof because we could never get to talk to this many scientists in Washington. Oh, my goodness, look who's over there—it's Dr. Heinrich Spitzelbaron, who discovered manifold pressure under glass. Dr. Spitzelbaron, Dr. Spitzelbaron, would you care to participate in an instant seminar we're holding here on the ABM system?"

"No, but I'd like to buy some flight insurance. I'm scared to death of flying."

"BUT WHAT ABOUT the threat of the Soviet multiple weapon launchers and their first-strike superiority?"

"Doctor, could I ask you about the Chinese first generation of nuclear weapons?"

"I usually get drunk when I fly," Dr. Spitzelbaron said. "I know it's stupid, but I'm afraid of heights."

After he bought his insurance and left, I lasked Carnaby, "Is he pro or con?"

"If I had to testify in front of a Senate committee, I'd say he was pro—but with a few reservations."

Ultrasonics Firm Shares Turbulent But Look Good

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We bought 100 Cavitorn at 16, watched it drop to 4 and soar to 50 last June. Is long-term growth in view? Several friends hold more than we do. — R. L.

A. Long-term growth appears promising despite recent drop in net income due to increased expenditures for research and marketing. Ultrasonic technology — utilizing the impact of high-frequency sound waves — has provided speculative thrust in Cavitron's shares.

The company's principal product, an ultrasonic dental unit, is supplemented by a line of hand instruments and equipment for the dental, medical and optical professions. Ultrasonic systems are sold to manufacturers of cleaning equipment used for removing dirt from hard-to-reach surfaces in complicated structures New surgical techniques use ultrasonic probes, and industrial researchers are hoping to design a small ultrasonic unit for household cleaning. If you and your friends can manage to hold Cavitron through the possibly turbulent years of an emerging industry, your early purchases should work out well.

Q. You mentinoned recently the Keogh Act. We've been unable to learn anything further on it and would appreciate your enlarging upon this subject. — R. Y., C. M.

A. Although I've discussed this pension plan several times I find that many readers, particularly those living in small towns, have been unable to secure information necessary for setting up their own plan. There are several sources of information on the Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962.

This act, liberalized as of Dec. 31, 1967 provides for investments in qualified mutual funds, insurance annuities, savings and loan accounts, U. S. retirement bonds and trusteed bank accounts. More than 200 mutual funds offer Keogh Plans and The Institute of Life Insurance reported a doubling during 1967 of Keogh-approved annuities. Late last year there were over 100,000 IRS-approved plans in operation.
